The 1st 30 C L Jack,2020-05-11 the 1st 30 is a culmination of finding peace in the chaotic normalcy of the journey. Capturing the vulnerably bold journey we often hide from others - through expressive analogies, story telling, sudden leaps into song and poetry - before radiating all of the elements responsible for our development. As if the entire mental journey of the 1st 30 were to only exist in a dimension of magic - as it fills then empties you in life - the tone is set quickly. Lessons will help you feel more relaxed in seeing the journey. Pain opens your eyes that were once blind to the pain of those around you, and your own inability to understand what pain lingers in you. Rollercoasters bring flashbacks of the high and a new vision of the low. Love opens the memories of your own wyrd connections and the emotionally devastating reality when silence screams heartbreak. Strength gives you the sight to see how all of the years developed you while challenging your naive comfort. You could find yourself in the 1st 30, you could list your very own different chapters, you could challenge yourself to ascend. One cannot realize the journey without first examining it.

30 Before 30 Marina Shifrin,2018-07-24 A charming, relatable and hilarious collection of essays documenting a young woman's attempt to accomplish thirty life goals before turning thirty. Something was nagging Marina Shifrin. As a freshly minted adult with student loan payments, a barely hospitable New York apartment, a "real" job she hated that paid her enough to get by if she also worked two other jobs, something needed to change. Over a few bottles of Two Buck Chuck, Marina and her friend each made lists of thirty things they'd do before the age of thirty. The first thing on Marina's list was, "Quit My Shitty Job." So she did, and just like that the List powered her through her twenties. In 30 Before 30, Marina takes readers through her list and shares personal stories about achieving those goals. Ranging in scope from the simple (Ride A Bike Over the Brooklyn Bridge, Donate Hair) to the life-changing (Move to A Different Country, Become internet Famous), each story shows readers that we don't all have it figured out, and that's okay. But for Marina, she did become internet famous (a viral video of her quitting her job after moving to Asia has nearly 19 million views on You Tube) and now writes for Comedy Central's hit show @Midnight, is also an in-demand stand up, and had a very popular Modern Love column published in the New York Times. None of that would have happened if she didn't start her list that night. Thank you, Two Buck Chuck. Told with humor and heart, 30 Before 30 will entertain, motivate, and challenge readers to get out of their comfort zones and live their best lives.

Contesting Hydropower in the Brazilian Amazon Ed Atkins,2020-11-15 In Contesting Hydropower in the Brazilian Amazon, Ed Atkins focuses on how local, national, and international civil society groups have resisted the Belo Monte and São Luiz do Tapajós hydroelectric projects in Brazil. In doing so, Atkins explores how contemporary opposition to hydropower projects demonstrate a form of 'contested sustainability' that highlights the need for sustainable energy transitions to take more into account than merely greenhouse gas emissions. The assertion that society must look to successfully transition away from fossil fuels and towards sustainable energy sources often appears assured in contemporary environmental governance. However, what is less certain is who decides which forms of energy are deemed 'sustainable.' Contesting Hydropower in the Brazilian Amazon explores one process in which the sustainability of a 'green' energy source is contested. It focuses on how civil society actors have both challenged and reconfigured dominant pro-dam assertions that present the hydropower schemes studied as renewable energy projects that contribute to sustainable development agendas. The volume also examines in detail how anti-dam actors act to render visible the political interests behind a project, whilst at the same time linking the resistance movement to wider questions of contemporary environmental politics. This interdisciplinary work will be of great interest to students and scholars of sustainable development, sustainable energy transitions, environmental justice, environmental governance, and development studies.

Alexander's Amazon Adventures Paul Gopal, 2021-09-22 This book was inspired by my six-year-old son Alexander. He likes the stories very much and thinks that other children will too. As a result, I decided to write this book so that it could be enjoyed by children around the world. Information about the wildlife is factual, and the stories are based on the Author's experiences growing up as a boy in Guyana in the nineteen fifties. A lot of the wildlife in the book are becoming extinct, and I encourage children to talk to their parents and do whatever they can to preserve our environment for future generations. This book is both entertaining and educational, and I hope that your children enjoy it as much as Alexander!

Brianna Lee DiPietro, his daughter and author of 30: Reflections of Resilience, Growth, and an Age No Longer Feared, was only 6 years old. Though the gun sense movement plays a major role in the underlying theme, DiPietro's focus is on shared human experience, good and bad, and the unmatched potential of someone who is supported, no matter what they've experienced. She recounts her personal experience growing through trauma, speaks with other survivors and leading gun sense advocates like Shannon Watts, founder of Moms Demand Action for Gun Sense in America; Rob Wilcox, federal legal director at Everytown for Gun Safety; and more. Through DiPietro's storytelling, you will find comfort as you navigate a life all your own. If you've been moved by the need to end gun violence in this country, you'll learn about some of the most immediate ways you can get involved.
