Strengthening Forensic Science in the United States National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Committee on Applied and Theoretical Statistics, Policy and Global Affairs, Committee on Science, Technology, and Law, Committee on Identifying the Needs of the Forensic Sciences Community, 2009-07-29 Scores of talented and dedicated people serve the forensic science community, performing vitally important work. However, they are often constrained by lack of adequate resources, sound policies, and national support. It is clear that change and advancements, both systematic and scientific, are needed in a number of forensic science disciplines to ensure the reliability of work, establish enforceable standards, and promote best practices with consistent application. Strengthening Forensic Science in the United States: A Path Forward provides a detailed plan for addressing these needs and suggests the creation of a new government entity, the National Institute of Forensic Science, to establish and enforce standards within the forensic science community. The benefits of improving and regulating the forensic science disciplines are clear: assisting law enforcement officials, enhancing homeland security, and reducing the risk of wrongful conviction and exoneration. Strengthening Forensic Science in the United States gives a full account of what is needed to advance the forensic science disciplines, including upgrading of systems and organizational structures, better training, widespread adoption of uniform and enforceable best practices, and mandatory certification and accreditation programs. While this book provides an essential call-to-action for congress and policy makers, it also serves as a vital tool for law enforcement agencies, criminal prosecutors and attorneys, and forensic science educators.

Anuario del centro interdisciplinar de estudios de género de la Universidad Miguel Hernández 2022 María Jesús Navarro Ríos, Ana Martí de Olives, El centro Interdisciplinar de Estudios de Género (CIEG), antiguamente denominado Seminario Interdisciplinar de Estudios de Género (SIEG) de la Universidad Miguel Hernández, posee una trayectoria de más de 20 años. Fue fundado en el año 2000, con el ánimo de aglutinar en sus filas a investigadoras e investigadores del ámbito académico que, dentro de sus propias disciplinas, tanto de investigación, como de sensibilización ciudadana y transferencia del conocimiento, aplicasen la perspectiva de género. En esta trayectoria de más de dos décadas, y gracias a la adhesión de cada vez más integrantes de diversos ámbitos del conocimiento (antropológico, agrario, jurídico, políticas públicas, deporte, periodismo, etc.), ha sido posible consolidar líneas académicas con la transversalidad de género que cada año crecen en lograr un impacto social que sin duda contribuyen a conseguir una ciudadanía más sensibilizada por la igualdad. Mucho es el trabajo que cada año es desarrollado en el ámbito académico por estos equipos multidisciplinares pertenecientes al CIEG de nuestra universidad, y conscientes de que la transmisión y difusión de sus trabajos al máximo público posible, fuera y dentro del mundo académico, sin duda contribuirán a lograr mejores resultados en los objetivos planteados, que no es otro que el de conseguir una sociedad basada en la igualdad entre mujeres y hombres, hemos considerado oportuno inaugurar esta publicación, Anuario CIEG, con el objetivo de aglutinar en una obra de calidad que pretendemos posea periodicidad anual, toda la producción que cada equipo ha generado, y ponerla a disposición del público interesado.

Can the Monster Speak? Paul B. Preciado, 2021-08-03 Paul Preciado's controversial 2019 lecture at the École de la Cause Freudienne annual conference, published in a definitive translation for the first time. In November 2019, Paul Preciado was invited to speak in front of 3,500 psychoanalysts at the École de la Cause Freudienne's annual conference in Paris. Standing in front of the profession for whom he is a mentally ill person suffering from gender dysphoria, Preciado draws inspiration in his lecture from Kafka's Report to an Academy, in which a monkey tells an assembly of scientists that human subjectivity is a cage comparable to one made of metal bars. Speaking from his own mutant cage, Preciado does not so much criticize the homophobia and transphobia of the founders of psychoanalysis as demonstrate the discipline's complicity with the ideology of sexual difference dating back to the colonial era--an ideology which is today rendered obsolete by technological advances allowing us to alter our bodies and procreate differently. Preciado calls for a radical transformation of psychological and psychoanalytic discourse and practices, arguing for a new epistemology capable of allowing for a multiplicity of living bodies without reducing the body to its sole heterosexual reproductive capability, and without legitimizing hetero-patriarchal and colonial violence. Causing a veritable outcry among the assembly, Preciado was heckled and booed and unable to finish. The lecture, filmed on smartphones, was published online, where fragments were transcribed, translated, and published with no regard for exactitude. With this volume, Can the Monster Speak? is published in a definitive translation for the first time.

Nortecubana, la Principal Falla de Interior de Placa en Cuba Mario Octavio Cotilla-Rodríguez, Diego Córdoba-Barba, Leonardo Álvarez ,2020-08-24 Esta obra científica tiene tres objetivos principales bien diferenciados: el primero confirmar la existencia y la actividad sísmica de la falla Nortecubana; el segundo demostrar la sismicidad inducida en dos sectores diferentes de esta falla, por trabajos de investigación y producción de petróleo y gas; y el tercero desmontar, con argumentos y documentos publicados, la manipulación falsaria de un individuo que ha pretendido arrogarse resultados de otros autores y ha afirmado, erróneamente, que la falla Septentrional de La Española (Haití y República Dominicana) se extiende al norte de Cuba Oriental.

Menéndez Pidal, Abraham Yahuda y la política de la Real Academia Española hacia el hispanismo judío y la lengua sefardí Ricardo Muñoz Solla, 2021-12-01 A principios del siglo XX, la campaña política y de divulgación iniciada por el senador Ángel Pulido a través de las demandas que este dirigió a instituciones como la Real Academia Española impulsó sobremanera las relaciones del mundo sefardí con la cultura académica española. El interés de Ramón Menéndez Pidal por el romancero sefardí y la presencia del orientalista Abraham Shalom Yahuda en España en aquellos años favoreció el nombramiento de los primeros académicos correspondientes de origen sefardí, lo que abrió una nueva etapa en el desarrollo de los contactos culturales hispanosefardíes con esta institución. Esta monografía traza la historia de la Real Academia Española con algunos de los intelectuales sefardíes más sobresalientes de finales del siglo XIX hasta la década de los años sesenta del siglo XX a través del estudio de la relación epistolar con sus correspondientes extranjeros de origen judío y la correspondencia entre Ramón Menéndez Pidal y Abraham Shalom Yahuda. Asimismo, ofrece un análisis detallado de la política lingüística y cultural llevada a cabo por la Real Academia Española y la Asociación de Academias de la Lengua Española a partir de los años cincuenta, describiendo las distintas iniciativas que se llevaron a cabo para favorecer la institucionalización de los estudios sefardíes en España y sus relaciones con el hispanismo judío. Todo ello basado en un material documental y gráfico hasta ahora inédito, que se publica en el libro como apéndice, y que permitirá al lector comprender en toda su complejidad el proceso de reconocimiento e integración del legado judeoespañol a los estudios hispánicos. La obra de Ricardo Muñoz Solla publicada por Ediciones Universidad de Salamanca constituye una original aportación para el mejor conocimiento de la historia de las relaciones entre los sefardíes y España, la historia de la Filología a principios del siglo XX y la historia de la Real Academia Española.

Tiene cuatro objetivos y un componente de monitoreo y evaluación. Objetivo I: Promover sistemas productivos y cadenas de valor agropecuarias con equidad de género Objetivo II: Incorporar la gestión de conocimiento, la extensión y la comunicación agropecuaria Objetivo III: Promover la participación y el empoderamiento de las mujeres del agro y del medio rural Objetivo IV: Fortalecer la perspectiva de género en la institucionalidad pública agropecuaria La metodología del Plan Nacional de Género en las Políticas Agropecuarias (PNG Agro) se realizó bajo los principios de participación y colaboración. Siguiendo estos lineamientos, durante el proceso de elaboración se priorizaron las consultas al funcionariado y a la población objetivo, la validación con autoridades y sectores interesados, y un diseño pertinente, realizable y monitoreable. Este plan es una herramienta que sienta un precedente para Uruguay y la región en materia de políticas públicas sectoriales con enfoque de género ya que contribuirá a una mayor participación y empoderamiento de las mujeres dentro de los sistemas agroalimentarios.
