Falling Leaves Adeline Yen Mah,1999-04-06 The emotionally wrenching yet ultimately uplifting memoir of a Chinese woman struggling to win the love and acceptance of her family. Born in 1937 in a port city a thousand miles north of Shanghai, Adeline Yen Mah was the youngest child of an affluent Chinese family who enjoyed rare privileges during a time of political and cultural upheaval. But wealth and position could not shield Adeline from a childhood of appalling emotional abuse at the hands of a cruel and manipulative stepmother. Determined to survive through her enduring faith in family unity, Adeline struggled for independence as she moved from Hong Kong to England and eventually to the United States to become a physician and writer. A compelling, painful, and ultimately triumphant story of a girl's journey into adulthood, Adeline's story is a testament to the most basic of human needs: acceptance, love, and understanding. With a powerful voice that speaks of the harsh realities of growing up female in a family and society that kept girls in emotional chains, Falling Leaves is a work of heartfelt intimacy and a rare authentic portrait of twentieth-century China. Riveting. A marvel of memory. Poignant proof of the human will to endure. —Amy Tan

I hold a degree in Human Resources with a concentration in Gerontology which has allowed me a rewarding career advocating for vulnerable senior adults. After transitioning out of my private Guardianship practice of several years, I now work alongside my husband with our moving business as well as put in some part-time hours at an Elder Law office . . . still advocating for seniors.My love of all things writing began at an early age, pretending to be a librarian leading story time with my imaginary patrons. Over the years I've contributed to various publications including newsletters, magazines and theater pieces. My first official publication was in 1993 for the magazine West Coast Woman, where I shared my experience of living with a Multiple Sclerosis diagnosis. Now, after years of dreaming, I'm finally publishing the dozens of short stories I've written as well as a children's picture book and working on wrapping up a Christian Romance novel.I make my home in sunny Florida where I'm surrounded by a ridiculous number of writing journals and artisan coffee mugs. Close to my heart are bear hugs from my crazy husband, time spent with my adult children, and the companionship of Lilly, our feisty Daschund.Join me as we journey together sharing short stories, devotions, miscellaneous musings and an occasional rant or two (or three).Come, sit for a spell . . . The Silent Generation... A Love Story Carolyn Teragawa, 2009-08

Music Borrowing and Copyright Law Enrico Bonadio, Chen Wei Zhu, 2023-10-19 This ground-breaking book examines the multifaceted dynamics between copyright law and music borrowing within a rich diversity of music genres from across the world. It evaluates how copyright laws under different generic conventions may influence, or are influenced by, time-honoured creative borrowing practices. Leading experts from around the world scrutinise a carefully selected range of musical genres, including pop, hip-hop, jazz, blues, electronic and dance music, as well as a diversity of region-specific genres, such as Jamaican music, River Plate Tango, Irish folk music, Hungarian folk music, Flamenco, Indian traditional music, Australian indigenous music, Maori music and many others. This genre-conscious analysis builds on a theoretical section in which musicologists and lawyers offer their insights into fundamental issues concerning music genre categorisation, the typology of music borrowing and copyright law's ontological struggle with musical borrowing in theory and practice. The chapters are threaded together by a central theme, ie, that the cumulative nature of music creativity is the result of collective bargaining processes among many 'musicking' parties that have socially constructed creative music authorship under a rich mix of generic conventions.

For two years Patrick hasn't been able to focus on anything but the life he should have had. An injury robbed him of his voice, and the idea of introducing himself to new people intimidates him. Ken doesn't realize he's fallen in love until the doctors send Hanna home, saying there's nothing more they can do: Hanna will either recover or succumb. Rustling Leaves of Romance Daisy Starling, 2023-09-06 In the heart of a quaint town nestled between rolling hills and a serene countryside, a tale of love and transformation unfolds with the changing leaves of autumn. Rustling Leaves of Romance invites you to step into a world where the vibrant hues of fall mirror the emotions that blossom between two individuals. Amelia Everhart, a spirited young artist, finds herself at a crossroads in life. As the leaves begin their graceful descent from the trees, she, too, must navigate the paths that lie ahead. In a serendipitous twist of fate, she crosses paths with Julian Westwood, a reserved botanist with a deep affinity for the natural world. The story begins with a chance meeting in the local park, where a gust of wind sends a cascade of golden leaves spiraling around Amelia and Julian. Little do they know that this fleeting moment will set the stage for a journey of self-discovery and unexpected romance. As they get to know each other against the backdrop of autumn's splendor, their lives become intertwined in ways neither could have predicted. But like the leaves that must eventually bid farewell to their branches, challenges arise that test their feelings. As seasons change and life presents its trials, Amelia and Julian must find the strength to weather the storms together, learning that love, much like nature itself, can be both delicate and resilient. Join us in Rustling Leaves of Romance as we follow Amelia and Julian through the twists and turns of their heartwarming story. Through moments of laughter, tears, and everything in between, their journey reminds us that just as autumn leaves give way to new growth, so too can love's tapestry be woven from the threads of vulnerability, courage, and the magic of unexpected connections.
