Caring on the Clock Mignon Duffy, Amy

Armenia, Clare L. Stacey, 2015-01-22 A nurse inserts an I.V. A personal care attendant helps a quadriplegic bathe and get dressed. A nanny reads a bedtime story to soothe a child to sleep. Every day, workers like these provide critical support to some of the most vulnerable members of our society. Caring on the Clock provides a wealth of insight into these workers, who take care of our most fundamental needs, often at risk to their own economic and physical well-being. Caring on the Clock is the first book to bring together cutting-edge research on a wide range of paid care occupations, and to place the various fields within a comprehensive and comparative framework across occupational boundaries. The book includes twenty-two original essays by leading researchers across a range of disciplines—including sociology, psychology, social work, and public health. They examine the history of the paid care sector in America, reveal why paid-care work can be both personally fulfilling but also make workers vulnerable to burnout, emotional fatigue, physical injuries, and wage exploitation. Finally, the editors outline many innovative ideas for reform, including top-down and grassroots efforts to improve recognition, remuneration, and mobility for care workers. As America faces a series of challenges to providing care for its citizens, including the many aging baby boomers, this volume offers a wealth of information and insight for policymakers, scholars, advocates, and the general public.

Descendants & Ancestors of Johann Philipp Bürck of Ziegelhausen, Baden, 1779-1850 and His Wife Susanna Katharina Frank of Schriesheim, Baden, 1788-1869 Kenny R. Burck,2008 Johann Philipp Bürck was born in 1779 in Ziegelhausen, Baden. He married Susanna Katharina Frank (1788-1869) in 1810. Ancestors, descendants and relatives lived mainly in Germany, Ohio and Kentucky.

Tiger Battalion 507 Helmut Schneider,2020-04-29 A personal history of a Nazi battalion's experiences on the Eastern and Western fronts of WWII, told through the vivid accounts of the soldiers themselves. This is the little-known story of Heavy Panzer (Tiger) Battalion 507. Helmut Schneider, himself a veteran of the battalion, sought out as many survivors of the unit as possible and gather their reminiscences. The resulting account is a treasure trove of first-hand material, including personal memories, diaries, letters, leave passes, wartime newspaper cuttings, Wehrmacht bulletins, and more than 160 photographs. The account follows the unit from its formation in 1943 to the catastrophic events on the Eastern Front and battles on the Western Front. It describes engagements against the American 3rd Armored Division, the confusion and panic of retreat, and Soviet captivity in the closing stages of the war. Honest and unflinching, this collection of autobiographies offers a glimpse into life in Hitler's panzer division.

Feeding the Spirit Art Rogers,2001 Feeding the Spirit: Art, Dreams and Language in the Elementary Classroom, by Art Rogers, explores and documents the important role of art in elementary education, particularly in the area of language development, as well as across disciplines. The author also presents an eloquent and persuasive case for the importance of dreamwork in the classroom as an untapped source of inspiration for creative expression. In addition to providing a strong pedagogic and philosophical foundation supporting art as a core element of the learning process, Rogers gives specific, practical examples of successful instructional strategies from his own teaching experience.

Founding Fictions Jennifer R.

Mercieca, 2010-04-15 An extended analysis of how Americans imagined themselves as citizens between 1764 and 1845 Founding Fictions develops the concept of a "political fiction," or a narrative that people tell about their own political theories, and analyzes how republican and democratic fictions positioned American citizens as either romantic heroes, tragic victims, or ironic partisans. By re-telling the stories that Americans have told themselves about citizenship, Mercieca highlights an important contradiction in American political theory and practice: that national stability and active citizen participation are perceived as fundamentally at odds.

The Bamboo Cage Nigel Cawthorne, 1994 Cawthorne has cracked open the biggest cover-up since the Watergate scandal. The freelance journalist uses CIA documents and Pentagon files to reveal that the U.S. government deliberately withheld crucial information about American soldiers still missing in Vietnam. Photos.
