Communiquez vos belles histoires Philippe Crêteur,2015-02-23 Les cinq étapes d’une communication efficace pour une PME : créez, positivez, emballez, racontez, réseautez Cet ouvrage a une particularité. Il est l’un des rares à être particulièrement dédié aux indépendants, aux commerçants et aux patrons de PME. Des entreprises de petite taille qui, pourtant, constituent l’essentiel du paysage économique marchand (99,8% des entreprises, dont 92,2% de micro-entreprises). Leurs dirigeants sont, comme les autres entrepreneurs, conscients qu’ils doivent communiquer. Mais ils ignorent souvent comment le faire de manière efficace. Et cela se ressent : six entrepreneurs sur dix se déclarent « peu satisfaits » ou « pas du tout satisfaits » de leur communication d’entreprise. Seuls 10% des dirigeants de PME s’en déclarent « très satisfaits ». Pour vous aider à construire votre communication, ce livre va à l’essentiel : il vous donne les clés et vous apporte des modèles de réussite tout à fait accessibles. Pas de blablas ! Des trucs et astuces, un guide pratique et de belles histoires inspirées de cas réels. À PROPOS DE L'AUTEUR Philippe Crêteur est diplômé en communication et journalisme. Après avoir travaillé comme journaliste, il a exercé la fonction de chef d'édition pendant 18 ans. Il travaille aujourd'hui pour l'entreprise Innovatech.

Designology Wojciech W. Gasparski,Tufan Orel,2014-08-31 The more complex a human action is, the greater the need to formulate a plan of action, devise a method of implementation, and evaluate its execution. Such preparation is called design or planning, and can be defined as a conceptual preparation for action. Design and planning by themselves are so complex and important that they need informed preparation, which calls for systematic designological studies. This volume brings together original contributions of researchers and practitioners in design theory, design research, and design studies. Its main purpose is to highlight the possibilities of the discipline of designology. Doing and thinking, or thinking and doing, whatever the order, are intertwined. That is why praxiology, the science of action, defines design as a conceptual preparation of action. Included here are contributions from Jack Brzezinski, Eduardo Côrte-Real, Nigel Cross, Michel Faucheux, Joëlle Forest, Wojciech W. Gasparski, Ioannes B. Kapelouzos, Thorbjørn Mann, Tom Maver, Tarkko Oksala, Tufan Orel, Sevil Saryldz, and Ladislav Tondl. Designology is the latest volume in Transaction’s highly regarded Praxiology series.

Le crédit hypothécaire Collectif,,Anthemis,2016-05-04 Les Éditions Anthemis vous proposent un outil complet à propos du crédit hypothécaire et de sa pratique Le crédit hypothécaire est une opération importante de la vie économique et financière de l’emprunteur. Il constitue pourtant, dans la pratique notariale, un acte souvent banalisé, dont les différents intervenants ne mesurent que trop rarement la portée réelle. Cet ouvrage balaie la matière de manière pratique, au travers de six thèmes qui posent aujourd’hui des difficultés. Le champ d’application de la loi du 4 août 1992 et la délicate articulation entre les régimes légaux impératifs sont étudiés ; plusieurs questions sont abordées dont celle des crédits mixtes ou des crédits dont l’emprunteur n’est pas détenteur des droits réels affectés en hypothèque. Le régime des sûretés est également approfondi, dont ceux du cautionnement à titre gratuit et de la solidarité-sûreté. Un sujet de pratique notariale pure est ensuite consacré au prêt hypothécaire entre particuliers et à la plus-value que le notariat peut apporter à cet égard. Sont également examinés les incidents liés à l’exécution du contrat de crédit, dont la question des indemnités exigées par l’organisme bancaire en cas de remboursement anticipé du crédit. Un volet s’attache enfin à mesurer la responsabilité du dispensateur de crédit en cas d’abus de sûretés ou de simulation et les solutions pratiques que le notariat peut apporter lorsqu’il est exigé des parents, qui se portent garants, d’acquérir une part de l’immeuble de leur enfant. L’accent des contributions est orienté vers les difficultés rencontrées par la pratique et les solutions pragmatiques qui peuvent y être apportées. Cet ouvrage est destiné avant tout au notariat, mais intéresse également les banquiers, les juristes d’entreprises, les avocats, les magistrats, les comptables et conseils fiscaux, financiers ou patrimoniaux. Un ouvrage écrit par des professionnels, pour des professionnels A PROPOS DES ÉDITIONS ANTHEMIS Anthemis est une maison d’édition spécialisée dans l’édition professionnelle, soucieuse de mettre à la disposition du plus grand nombre de praticiens des ouvrages de qualité. Elle s’adresse à tous les professionnels qui ont besoin d’une information fiable en droit, en économie ou en médecine.

Marketing Communications Patrick De Pelsmacker,Maggie Geuens,Joeri Van Den Bergh,2013-07-04 Marketing Communications: A European Perspective provides an extensive overview of the key concepts, techniques and applications of marketing communications within a European context. The book covers all elements of the communications mix, including advertising, public relations, sponsorship, sales promotion, direct marketing, point-of-purchase communications, exhibitions, and personal selling. It also offers up-to-date coverage of e-communication, including e-marketing, mobile marketing, interactive television and relationship marketing. Building on the success of the third edition, the fourth edition comes fully updated with brand new material on a diverse range of products and brands such as Coke Zero, Twitter and Wii Fit, as well as coverage of topical issues such as the Barack Obama campaign and the EU anti-smoking campaign. The fifth edition of Marketing Communications: A European Perspective has been fully updated to include: A brand new chapter examining ethical issues in marketing communications Brand new end-of-chapter cases on international companies and organisations such as Mars, UNICEF, Carrefour and many more Video case material linking key marketing communication theory with the practical issues faced by marketing professionals in a variety of companies The book is suitable for both undergraduate and postgraduate students of marketing communications

Les cactus Jérôme de Warzée,2017-11-13 C'est le 1er septembre 2010, le jour même de ses 40 ans, que Jérôme de Warzée distille sa première chronique sur les ondes de Vivacité. Chaque matin, il brocarde tour à tour ces froucheurs de politiciens, ces barakis de supporters et ces Ménapiens extrémistes, tentant l'équilibre entre écriture polysémique et vitriolée mais toujours au second degré, sarcasmes, jeux de mots et vérités (?). Cet ouvrage renferme quelques-uns de ses textes, savamment ordonnancés dans un brol absurde que Magritte lui-même aurait légendé: Ceci n'est pas un livre.

Climate Change in the 21st Century Stewart J. Cohen,Melissa W. Waddell,2009-10-30 Public and media interest in the climate change issue has increased exponentially in recent years. Climate change, or global warming, is a complex problem with far-reaching social and economic impacts. Climate Change in the 21st Century brings together all the major aspects of global warming to give a state of the art description of our collective understanding of this phenomenon and what can be done to counteract it on both the local and global scale. Stewart Cohen and Melissa Waddell explain and clarify the different ways of approaching the study of climate change and the fundamental ideas behind them. From a history of climate change research to current attempts to mitigate its impact such as the Kyoto Protocol and carbon trading, they explore key ideas from many fields of study, outlining the environmental and human dimensions of global warming. Climate Change in the 21st Century goes beyond climate modeling to investigate interdisciplinary attempts to measure and forecast the complex impacts of future climate change on communities, how we assess their vulnerability, and how we plan to adapt our society. The book explores the impact of climate change on different ecosystems as well as what the social and economic understanding of this phenomenon can tell us; it also links discussions of climate change with the global discourse of sustainable development. Climate Change in the 21st Century provides a comprehensive, understandable, but academically informed introduction to the world's biggest challenge for both students and concerned citizens.

The Horizontal Metropolis Between Urbanism and Urbanization Paola Viganò, Chiara Cavalieri, Martina Barcelloni Corte, 2018-05-04 This book provides an overview of the Horizontal Metropolis concept, and of the theoretical, methodological and political implications for the interdisciplinary field in which it operates. The book investigates the contemporary emergence of a new type of extended urbanity across regions, territories and continents, up to the global scale. Further, it explores the diffusion of contemporary urban conditions in an interdisciplinary and original manner by analyzing essential case studies. Offering extensive content on the Horizontal Metropolis concept, the book presents a range of approaches intended to transcend various inherited spatial ontologies: urban/rural, town/country, city/non-city, and society/nature. The book is intended for all readers interested in the emergence and development of new approaches in cultural theory, urban and design education, landscape urbanism and geography.

Antwerp, Territory of a New Modernity Bernardo Secchi, Paola Viganò, 2009 The Structure Plan for Antwerp was drawn up between May 2003 and June 2006. During that period Milan based architects Bernardo Secchi and Paola Viganò experienced Antwerps ambitions and its need for a vision. This book measures their ideas and imagination with the myth that is Antwerp, but also with that remarkable contemporary reality of Antwerp - the territory of a New Modernity. The book shows several possible strategies for urbanistic changes within the city. The authors show that Antwerp is to be seen in different ways: Antwerp as a water-city, Antwerp as a harbour-city, Antwerp as a railcity, Antwerp as a ecocity ... But, by emphasising the spatial character of the Structure Plan of Antwerp, it clearly breaks with previous planning approaches and it gives new insights. This books narrative-shuttling between structuring visions, various scenarios, a project atlas and numerous micro-stories-illustrates new methods for urbanism, with a very fine balance between reflection and action in urbanism.

XX Models Marie-Cécile Guyaux, Iwan Strauven, 2012 Dit boek presenteert het allereerste overzicht van de jonge hedendaagse Belgische architectuur aan de hand van een selectie van twintig recente projecten van formaat, gerealiseerd door een jonge generatie veelbelovende architecten. Deze productie wordt in perspectief geplaatst door Geert Bekaert. De nestor van de Belgische architectuurkritiek gaat terug in de architectuurgeschiedenis van dit land, en laat zien hoe de nieuwe generaties zich van dogma's bevrijdt die het debat in de 20e eeuw beheersten. De jonge Belgische architecten houden niet vast aan een voorgevormd idee over wat architectuur zou moeten zijn. Ze zijn niet verbonden door één formele benadering of een culturele identiteit, maar door een nieuwe en open attitude ten opzichte van hun beroep. Vanuit de samenleving begrijpen ze dat elk project zijn plaats inneemt in een sociale en culturele context, en ze accepteren de relativiteit van architecturale oplossingen. 0Exhibition: BOZAR, Brussels, Belgium (27.9.-25.11.2012).

Water and Asphalt Paola Viganò, Lorenzo Fabian, Bernardo Secchi, 2016 Water and Asphalt, the latest volume in the UFO series, investigates the metropolitan area of Venice with regard to the increasing separation of residential and industrial neighborhoods. It is based on an extensive research project at Venice's Università IUAV on urban density and sprawl. The densely populated metropolitan region around the world-famous 'Serenissima', crisscrossed by networks of roads and waterways, provides the ideal test case for imagining the concept termed by this study as the Project of Isotropy. The researchers argue that conditions now exist for redevising the isotropic space in Venice with a focus on the water system, roads and public transportation, alternative mobility, forms of diffused welfare, innovative agriculture, and the decentralized production of energy.--Publisher's website.

Non-Destructive Evaluation of Reinforced Concrete Structures Christiane Maierhofer, Hans-Wolf Reinhardt, Gerd Dobmann, 2010-07-27 Engineers have a range of sophisticated techniques at their disposal to evaluate the condition of reinforced concrete structures and non-destructive evaluation plays a key part in assessing and prioritising where money should be spent on repair or replacement of structurally deficient reinforced concrete structures. Non-destructive evaluation of reinforced concrete structures, Volume 2: Non-destructive testing methods reviews the latest non-destructive testing techniques for reinforced concrete structures and how they are used. Part one discusses planning and implementing non-destructive testing of reinforced concrete structures with chapters on non-destructive testing methods for building diagnosis, development of automated NDE systems, structural health monitoring systems and data fusion. Part two reviews individual non-destructive testing techniques including wireless monitoring, electromagnetic and acoustic-elastic waves, laser-induced breakdown spectroscopy, acoustic emission evaluation, magnetic flux leakage, electrical resistivity, capacimetry, measuring the corrosion rate (polarization resistance) and the corrosion potential of reinforced concrete structures, ground penetrating radar, radar tomography, active thermography, nuclear magnetic resonance imaging, stress wave propagation, impact-echo, surface and guided wave techniques and ultrasonics. Part three covers case studies including inspection of concrete retaining walls using ground penetrating radar, acoustic emission and impact echo techniques and using ground penetrating radar to assess an eight-span post-tensioned viaduct. With its distinguished editor and international team of contributors, Non-destructive evaluation of reinforced concrete structures, Volume 2: Non-destructive testing methods is a standard reference for civil and structural engineers as well as those concerned with making decisions regarding the safety of reinforced concrete structures. Reviews the latest non-destructive testing (NDT) techniques and how they are used in practice Explores the process of planning a non-destructive program features strategies for the application of NDT testing A specific section outlines significant advances in individual NDT techniques and features wireless monitoring and electromagnetic and acoustic-elastic wave technology Vulnerability and Adaptation to Climate Change Joel B. Smith, United States Country Studies Program, 1996-06-30 To assist developing countries and countries with economies in transition to meet this obligation, the U.S. Country Studies Program is providing technical and financial support for the development of climate change studies in 55 countries. This document presents preliminary results from the vulnerability and adaptation assessment research of 13 of the countries that were ready to share their results. The countries contributing to this document are from the African, Asian-Pacific, Eastern European, and Latin American regions, and their assessments address impacts in the agriculture, grasslands, forest, water resources, and coastal resources sectors. This document includes results from many countries for which there was no prior research on the potential impacts of climate change, or for which the research has not previously been widely available. This work will not only fill gaps in the understanding of the potential impacts of climate change and the effectiveness of adaptation strategies, it will also help develop a consensus on appropriate methodologies and needs for refinement to currently available methodologies.

Small Island Developing States Stefano Moncada,Lino Briguglio,Hilary Bambrick,Ilan Kelman,Catherine Iorns,Leonard Nurse,2021-10-19 This book explores how vulnerable and resilient communities from SIDS are affected by climate change; proposes and, where possible, evaluates adaptation activities; identifies factors capable of enhancing or inhibiting SIDS people’s long-term ability to deal with climate change; and critiques the discourses, vocabularies, and constructions around SIDS dealing with climate change. The contributions, written by well-established scholars, as well as emerging authors and practitioners, in the field, include conceptual papers, coherent methodological approaches, and case studies from the communities based in the Caribbean Sea and the Indian, Atlantic, and Pacific Oceans. In their introduction, the editors contextualise the book within the current literature. They emphasise the importance of stronger links between climate change science and policy in SIDS, both to increase effectiveness of policy and also boost scholarly enquiry in the context of whose communities are often excluded by mainstream research. This book is timely and appropriate, given the recent commission by the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) of a Special Report that aims at addressing vulnerabilities, “especially in islands and coastal areas, as well as the adaptation and policy development opportunities” following the Paris Agreement. Coupled with this, there is also the need to support the policy community with further scientific evidence on climate change-related issues in SIDS, accompanying the first years of implementation of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals.

The Gift of Letting Go Chrystal Evans Hurst,2025-08-05 For every woman who has ever felt like she might reach the life she's dreamt of if she could just break free of her chains, beloved author and speaker Chrystal Evans Hurst gives a heap of encouragement and the practical steps to getting free and stepping into the bright future she knows is possible. So many women today don't live their lives to the fullest because they've been told--either by others, their situation, or themselves--that they can't. The chains are too tight, the pain too great, and the obstacles too big. But the good news is that the keys to the life of freedom are closer than we think. Drawn from stories of her own sometimes rocky past and years of learning to trust God, Chrystal passes along the practical insights she's learned so that you can run at full speed--free at last from unnecessary numbness, pain, bitterness, and shame. The Gift of Letting Go is your plan to: Find healing and restoration through self-grace Discover how to rewrite mental scripts that imprison you Rid yourself of the shame that keeps you in the dark Learn how to forgive yourself and others Practice life-giving rhythms that will set you free With honesty and warmth, Chrystal shares keys to freedom--keys that will help you see your life differently and also transform the way you live so that you can bring the gift of your fully unique life to the surface.
