Bengali Culture Over a Thousand Years Ghulam Murshid,2018-01-25 Art, literature, music and other intellectual expressions of a particular society are together regarded as the culture of that society. Ideas, customs and social behaviour of a particular people or society are also its 'culture'. Contrary to what we think, it is not easy to describe 'culture', nor is it easy to write the cultural history. Writing the history of Bengali culture is even more difficult because Bengali society is truly plural in its nature, made even more so by its political division. The two main religious communities that share this culture are often more aware of the differences between them than the similarities. Nonetheless, the people remain bound by history and a shared language and literature. Ghulam Murshid's Bengali Culture over a Thousand Years is the first non-partisan and holistic discussion of Bengali culture. Written for the general reader, the language is simple and the style lucid. It shows how the individual ingredients of Bengali culture have evolved and found expression, in the context of political developments and how certain individuals have moulded culture. Above all, the book presents the identity and special qualities of Bengali culture. The book was originally published in Bengali in Dhaka in 2006. This is the first English translation.

India ,2007

Sri Srinu Raju,2018-01-25 Singapore has a 2000% higher population density than India, but is yet slum-free. At the same time, India is full of slums. Why? Why do the Chinese pay 4.9% for 30-year fixed mortgage rates and Indians pay 10%? China has 800 million jobs and India has 520 million. Our populations are identical. Why is India lacking 280 million jobs? India's target for job creation is an abysmal 10 million. India created near zero jobs in 3 years. Why is India lagging so pathetically? In peak years, China grew at 13% while India perennially struggles to grow at 8%. Why? China exports $2100 billion vs India's $260 billion – and shamefully, India's exports have not grown at all in 7 years. Why? Despite these facts, the author asserts with irrepressible optimism that it is India's manifest destiny to be the world's largest economy. He offers solutions to script a new future for India – to make India 1100% richer in 20 years. Modi is a great blessing to India. He works hard. Instead he should work smart using ideas from 50 richest countries suggested in the book. SRI will end poverty, slums, farmers' suicides, vanquish 80% of black money and create 200 million jobs, with no cost to the government. India's GDP is $2.5 trillion. SRI will add $25 trillion - $75 trillion in a special case - to our GDP. Sans SRI, India will be stuck as a 'lazy', imbecile power middling in a world order dominated by Red China. The book exposes how China will be undone by imminent political, demographic, economic storms. India will have 60% more population than China by the end of this century, making China senile.

The Ethnic Restaurateur Krishnendu

Ray,2016-02-11 Academic discussions of ethnic food have tended to focus on the attitudes of consumers, rather than the creators and producers. In this ground-breaking new book, Krishnendu Ray reverses this trend by exploring the culinary world from the perspective of the ethnic restaurateur. Focusing on New York City, he examines the lived experience, work, memories, and aspirations of immigrants working in the food industry. He shows how migrants become established in new places, creating a taste of home and playing a key role in influencing food cultures as a result of transactions between producers, consumers and commentators. Based on extensive interviews with immigrant restaurateurs and students, chefs and alumni at the Culinary Institute of America, ethnographic observation at immigrant eateries and haute institutional kitchens as well as historical sources such as the US census, newspaper coverage of restaurants, reviews, menus, recipes, and guidebooks, Ray reveals changing tastes in a major American city between the late 19th and through the 20th century. Written by one of the most outstanding scholars in the field, The Ethnic Restaurateur is an essential read for students and academics in food studies, culinary arts, sociology, urban studies and indeed anyone interested in popular culture and cooking in the United States.

Every day I ate Indian home cooking in the staff canteen made by an amazing chef called Oscar. As his kitchen was next to my kitchen he told me everything about the essential ingredients, combinations and techniques India has to offer. Straight away I fell in love and have been an ambassador of Indian foods even since. I'm even adopting Indian recipes into my own kitchen. Years later when I got introduced to Bobby Geetha, I saw we were on the same wavelength adapting classical to traditional recipes using modern approaches and techniques. and again I fell in love because I think now is the time and place that Indian fine dining deserves the same recognition as other countries.
