The Way It Was Donald H. Brown, 2011-06-30 This book is a memoir of my boyhood, the 14 years between 1934 and 1948, Memory is the way we allow the past to live in the present. But the past is not experienced in a vacuum. Memories have locations in a particular time and particular places. This brief memoir is an attempt to share my boyhood as shaped by the Great Depression of the 1930s and the World War II years of the 1940s. In the writing of these pages it became evident to me that indeed the experiences of my childhood have greatly shaped the person I am today. It is hoped that this modest memoir may at once be an enjoyable read as well as encourage the reader to recall his or her own childhood days and reflect upon how that time may have shaped their lives.

The Films of John Carpenter John Kenneth Muir, 2015-09-15 The films of John Carpenter cover a tremendous range and yet all bear his clear personal stamp. From the horrifying (Halloween) to the touching (Starman) to the controversial (The Thing) to the comic (Big Trouble in Little China), his films reflect a unique approach to filmmaking and singular views of humanity and American culture. This analysis of Carpenter's films includes a historical overview of his career, and in-depth entries on each of his films, from 1975's Dark Star to 1998's Vampires. Complete cast and production information is provided for each. The book also covers those films written and produced by Carpenter, such as Halloween II and Black Moon Rising, as well as Carpenter's work for television. Appendices are included on films Carpenter was offered but turned down, the slasher films that followed in the wake of the highly-successful Halloween, the actors and characters who make repeated appearances in Carpenter's films, and ratings for Carpenter's work. Notes, bibliography, and index are included.

The Yellow Wallpaper and Other Stories Charlotte Perkins Gilman, 2022-05-16 In the Longsellers collection, you will find the most read and loved books of all time. Published in 1892, The Yellow Wallpaper, became a classic whenever we talk about feminist literature. The story, told in the format of a diary, tells the story of a woman confined to a room in a country house, under the pretext of treating a condition of depression and hysteria. Lonely and having her life closely controlled by her husband, she begins to obsess over the wallpaper in her room. Charlotte Perkins Gilman is regarded as pioneer in American feminism. Also known for the utopian feminist novel Herland and its sequel, With Her in Our Land. This book includes 10 short stories by the author, including The Yellow Wallpaper and an essay by the author about her creative process, called Why I Wrote The Yellow Wallpaper. We hope you'll love this book as much we do, and don't forget to check the rest of the collection for more beloved classics.

Night Talk Elizabeth Cox, 1998-10-15 Recently Nominated for the International IMPAC Dublin Literary Award, Night Talk has served as an inspiration for honest discussions of race around the country. A beautiful, moving story of the unlikely and enduring friendship of two girls, one white and one black, who grew up together in the radically divided deep South. At night, under the same roof, under the same moon, nothing divides the girls, Evie and Janey Louise. Talking on their beds, they discuss their strong mothers, their absent fathers, and they wonder about paths their lives will take. Yet during the day, Evie is blind to their differences—that she is white and her best friend is black. It is only as they grow older that Evie comes to see the inequalities that permeate their lives and to understand that for their friendship to continue she must recognize the different worlds they face.
