Instant Public Speaking The INSTANT-Series,2015-09-09 The Instant-Series Presents Instant Public Speaking How to Prepare and Deliver a Speech in 24 Hours or Less Instantly! So you have to prepare for a speech, huh? Even worse...you have to do it by tomorrow, and you haven't even started? Ah the humanity! You have to choose your speech topic, come up with your presentation ideas, then write your speech and rehearse your performance to make absolutely sure it's impeccable in front of all those people who will be looking and judging you - and you have to do all of this by the next day. Can you just feel the panic yet? Yikes! Fear not; not all hope is lost. You CAN create and deliver a memorable convincing speech all within 24 hours or less (even overnight when your fatigue body wants to throw in the towel and your dreary eyes want to take you to dreamland). Impossible! You say? Not necessary. What is speaking? It's nothing more than simply talking, and you have been doing that all your life; however, add the word public to it - and it is YOU who become your own worst enemy when it comes to the art of public speaking. Hence, the situation and setting may have changed when you're up there at the podium to a large group of audience, but it shouldn't be any different than talking to a few people in front of you. The point is...you have an upcoming speech to make but haven't started on it - so that's where Instant Public Speaking comes in! Within Instant Public Speaking: * How to use the instant idea chain as an effective brainstorming method to come up with ideas at the speed of bullets. * How to tackle your speech with the different formats to opt for and when you should use each one that will save you time, energy, and frustration. * How to craft the perfect speech fast with all the necessary components you'll be needing to address for the desired outcome you want. * How to practice and do the all-important speech rehearsal to ensure very little room for errors during the moment of the actual speech. * How to deliver your speech on the BIG DAY when you're up there live and what you should be doing from beginning to end. * Plus, custom practical how-to strategies, techniques, applications and exercises on how to write and make a speech. ...and much more. Think of it like having your very own invisible public speaking coach hanging around your shoulder as you only have 24 hours to get started working on your speech until the final delivery moment of glory with standing ovation and thunderous applause. Now go knock their socks off with Instant Public Speaking!

Public Speaking Magic Mark Davis,Tom "Big Al" Schreiter,2019-12-06 Instant rapport with the audience. They are smiling, leaning forward, ready to listen. Fear stops people from public speaking. Everyone wants to be liked, but the pressure gets in the way. So we avoid it. In a speech, presentation, webinar or even a casual conversation, we have just a few seconds to prove we are interesting and valuable. How can we capture our audience's attention immediately? By mastering our first 20 seconds. We can forget about fancy tricks, jokes and manipulation. By using any of the three major openings in this book, we can confidently start our speeches and presentations without fear. Our obligation is to get our audience to hear, believe, and want to be there. After that the rest is easy. Mark Davis is a public speaking coach and keynote speaker for business conferences, in addition to conducting public speaking workshops. Tom Big Al Schreiter speaks to network marketing groups around the world. Order your copy now!

Religion Online [2 volumes] August E. Grant,Amanda F. C. Sturgill,Chiung

Hwang Chen, Daniel A. Stout, 2019-03-07 Religion Online provides new insights about religiosity in a contemporary context, offering a comprehensive look at the intersection of digital media, faith communities, and practices of all sorts. Recent research on Apple users, video games, virtual worlds, artificial intelligence, digital music, and sports as religion supports the idea that media and religion, once considered separate entities, are in many cases the same thing. New media and religious practice can no longer be detached; this two-volume set discusses how religionists are embracing the Internet amidst cultural shifts of secularization, autonomous religious worship, millennials' affinity for new media, and the rise of fundamentalism in the global south. While other works describe case studies, this book explains how new media are interwoven into the very fabric of religious belief, behavior, and community. Chapters break down the past, present, and projected future of the use of digital media in relation to faith traditions of many varieties, extending from mainline Christianity to new religious movements. The book also examines the impacts of digital media on beliefs and practices around the world. In exploring these subjects, it calls on the study of culture, namely anthropology, to conceptualize a technological period as significant as the industrial revolution.

The Algernon Blackwood Collection Algernon Blackwood, 2019-09-23 The Algernon Blackwood Collection includes four of the best Blackwood novellas: The Empty House, The Damned, The Willows and The Wendigo.

THE DAMNED Algernon Blackwood, 2017-08-07 This eBook edition of THE DAMNED has been formatted to the highest digital standards and adjusted for readability on all devices. Algernon Blackwood (1869-1951) was an English short story writer and novelist, one of the most prolific writers of ghost stories in the history of the genre. Blackwood wrote a number of horror stories. His most work seeks less to frighten than to induce a sense of awe. Excerpt: Certain things, however, gradually then became apparent, forcing themselves upon me. They came slowly, but overwhelmingly. Not that facts had changed, or natural details altered in the grounds—this was impossible—but that I noticed for the first time various aspects I had not noticed before—trivial enough, yet for me, just then, significant. Some I remembered from previous days; others I saw now as I wandered to and fro, uneasy, uncomfortable,—almost, it seemed, watched by some one who took note of my impressions. The details were so foolish, the total result so formidable. I was half aware that others tried hard to make me see. It was deliberate. My sister's phrase, 'one layer got at me, another gets at you,' flashed, undesired, upon me.

Incredible Adventures Algernon Blackwood, 2015-10-27 THE REGENERATION OF LORD ERNIE I John Hendricks was bear-leading at the time. He had originally studied for Holy Orders, but had abandoned the Church later for private reasons connected with his faith, and had taken to teaching and tutoring instead. He was an honest, upstanding fellow of five-and-thirty, incorruptible, intelligent in a simple, straightforward way. He played games with his head, more than most Englishmen do, but he went through life without much calculation. He had qualities that made boys like and respect him; he won their confidence. Poor, proud, ambitious, he realised that fate offered him a chance when the Secretary of State for Scotland asked him if he would give up his other pupils for a year and take his son, Lord Ernie, round the world upon an educational trip that might make a man of him. For Lord Ernie was the only son, and the Marquess's influence was naturally great. To have deposited a regenerated Lord Ernie at the castle gates might have guaranteed Hendricks' future. After leaving Eton prematurely the lad had come under Hendricks' charge for a time, and with such excellent results—'I'd simply swear by that chap, you know,' the boy used to say—that his father, considerably impressed, and rather as a last resort, had made this proposition. And Hendricks, without much calculation, had accepted it. He liked 'Bindy' for himself. It was in his heart to 'make a man of him,' if possible. They had now been round the world together and had come up from Brindisi to the Italian Lakes, and so into Switzerland. It was middle October. With a week or two to spare they were making leisurely for the ancestral halls in Aberdeenshire.... Small Message, Big Impact Terri L. Sjodin, 2013-06-06 In Small Message, Big Impact, Terri Sjodin teaches you how to make a lasting impression on absolutely anyone - fast. You're at the airport, burning time by checking your email. Then you spot the CEO of a company you've wanted to connect with for ages. He's waiting for his flight. Your flight! Should you walk over? What will you say? We've all been there. An opportunity presents itself and you have one chance to share your message. The clock is ticking. And in this age of information overload, no skill is more essential than being able to connect with others quickly, whether in a meeting or in front of thousands of people. Acclaimed speaker and consultant Terri Sjodin defines an 'elevator speech' as a brief presentation that introduces a product, service, or idea. Its purpose isn't to say everything about your topic - just to intrigue and inspire the listener to want to hear more. Sjodin offers her time-tested strategies and advice, including worksheets, sample elevator speeches, evaluation forms, and much more. This internationally bestselling book is an entertaining, practical guide to making your message concise, compelling, and effective. Whatever your goal, you will learn to craft a fresh, brief, convincing message that generates tangible results. 'I'm always thinking about how to make the message smaller so the impact will be bigger. Terri Sjodin has codified the science of getting this right' Linda Kaplan Thaler, best-selling coauthor of The Power of Small and Bang! Terri L. Sjodin is the principal and founder of Sjodin Communications, a public speaking, sales training, and consulting firm. For more than twenty years she has served as a speaker and consultant for Fortune 500 companies, industry associations, academic conferences, CEOs, and members of Congress. She lives in Newport Beach, California.

Though Blackwood wrote a number of horror stories, his most typical work seeks less to frighten than to induce a sense of awe. Good examples are the novels The Centaur, which climaxes with a traveler's sight of a herd of the mythical creatures; and Julius LeVallon and its sequel The Bright Messenger, which deal with reincarnation and the possibility of a new, mystical evolution in human consciousness.

Big Ed Walsh Jack Smiles, 2015-03-10 As a young man living in the Anthracite coal region of Pennsylvania, it seemed Ed Walsh's course in life was set. But he emerged from the hardscrabble life of the mines to become one of the Deadball Era's greatest pitchers, winning fame, world championships, and eventually induction to the Hall of Fame. This biography closely describes Walsh's life and 14-year playing career, with special discussion of the spitball, a pitch that profoundly affected his fortunes—and ultimately his arm. The years 1905–1911 are explored in depth, especially his contributions to the 1906 world champion White Sox and his prominent role in the now-famous 1908 pennant race. Chapters are also devoted to his holdout in 1909, the athletic careers of his sons Bob and Ed, and his repeated attempts at comebacks after his arm injury.
