A Practical Guide to Community Ministry A. David Bos, 1993-01-01 How does a congregation best serve its own neighborhood? This practical guide for congregations and parishes addresses this question by reviewing the growth of the ecumenically oriented community ministry movement in recent years. David Bos believes the typical community ministry rising from that movement possesses three vital and energizing characteristics: it is congregation-based and very local; it is a social ministry that sees issues through the prism of its own community; and it is ecumenical. He focuses on community ministry as a particular way of ministering to society, in which congregations of more than one denomination and of a particular locality (neighborhood, small town, rural county) share goals and resources. Bos sees community ministry as a local social ministry in which congregations respond in faith, hope, and love to the neighborhood, town, or rural county that they have as an immediate context for ministry.

Bound Together A. David Bos, 2010-02-01 Bound Together is a unique resource that addresses the intrinsic relationship between social justice issues and local faith and ecumenical community building. Bos articulates the theological warrants for ecumenical and interfaith ministry at a local level, showing how neighboring congregations of various denominations or faiths, simply by virtue of their common relationship to a surrounding community, have a theological connection that can cooperatively undergird joint ministry ventures. He explores how congregations or denominations of the same or different faiths can combine their resources and design a common strategy or program in response to the needs and assets of their particular community. To demonstrate, he takes a close look at both the African American denominations and the theology of the laity movement.

We Have Heard That God Is with You Rein Bos, 2008-08-20 A perfect tool for busy preachers who want to faithfully proclaim God's Word The preparation of sermons on Old Testament texts confronts preachers time and time again with such questions as How can I connect an Old Testament text with the situation of my congregation today in a responsible way? and What is the role of Jesus in that connection? In this practical, scholarly guidebook Rein Bos tackles such questions and offers thoughtful answers. We Have Heard That God Is with You gives pastors a creative and innovative grammar to preach the Old Testament in a Christian context. Bos offers multiple examples from American sermons to illustrate how his model can be used in sermon preparation and how it can serve the practice of preaching. Each chapter is a rich meal for the busy preacher looking for creative, relevant options for sermons that are faithful to Scripture.

Reconsidering the Date and Provenance of the Book of Hosea James M. Bos,2013-04-11
Scholarship has viewed the book of Hosea as originating in eighth-century Israel before being taken to Judah, where it underwent one or more redactions in later centuries. However, evidence suggests that the book should be viewed as a Judahite text from the start, of late sixth or early fifth century B.C.E composition. The post-monarchic period in Yehud provides the most fitting context for the anti-monarchical ideology of the book, with the polemic against Benjamin explicable only as a result of the tension between the governing Saulides resident in Mizpah and the Judahite elite who had recently immigrated to Jerusalem from Mesopotamia in the late sixth century. The dual theme of Exile and Return present in the book is consistent with the discourse found in other sixth century Judahite books. Additionally, the book shows a broad familiarity with Judahite historiographic traditions, many of which are in all probability seventh century or later. Thus, the book of Hosea should be interpreted as a work by a Judahite scribe for a Judahite audience.

Thinking Outside the Brain Box Arie Bos,2017-08-17 Is it our brain that produces consciousness? Many people, including most scientists, hold such a belief, founded on a conception of the world that is purely materialistic. This worldview sees the brain as some kind of biological computer. However, modern research shows that our experiences -- especially in childhood and youth -- shape the circuits of our brain, and even stimulate the brain to grow. So to an extent, we shape our own brain just through being alive. And it is by means of our brain that we develop as a person and form our 'self', with all its associated significance and values. In this revealing study of brain, body and consciousness, Arie Bos examines the limitations of the materialist view to explain our human experience. He points to examples where consciousness is not supported by the physical brain, or where consciousness appears to survive beyond death. Exploring the ideas of free will and responsibility, he rejects the view that only physical matter determines our thoughts and actions. In doing so, he opens a door to a wider spiritual reality.

Aduhai, Bos Bertuah Zan Zarida,2013 Berkahwin dengan bekas tunang? Bukankah seperti sudah ludah jilat balik? Namun, entah kenapa Dian tidak mampu berkata tidak kepada arahan ayah dan ibunya. Zamil pula mengamuk sampai demam tiga hari gara-gara dipaksa berkahwin. Tetapi, setelah berjumpa dengan Dian, dia pula yang bagai tidak sabar-sabar hendak menuju gerbang perkahwinan! Siapa kata kahwin tanpa cinta tak bahagia? Zamil dan Dian menjadi pasangan yang romantik dan serasi bersama. Namun, tatkala bahagia menyulam cinta, tiba-tiba jarum pengaitnya hilang. Zamil jadi sasau apabila isterinya pergi tanpa sepatah kata. Cinta tetap cinta berpisah bukan bermakna kasih telah hilang. Dian tersepit antara cinta Danish yang tidak pernah padam dan kasih Zamil yang tiada berpenghujung. Peluang hanya sekali datang bertamu. Bagaimana dia hendak memilih, andai dia tidak memiliki hatinya sendiri? Andai ada benci, mengapa sempat merindu?

Analysis of Battlefield Operating System (BOS) Statements for Developing Performance Measurement Angelo Mirabella,1997 This study was an initial effort in a larger program to develop training feedback measures and decision support methodology (DSM) for selecting brigade training strategies. Essential to either purpose is a set of reliable and valid unit performance measures. Such measures have traditionally been derived from front-end analysis. But archival data from the National Training Center (NTC) make possible a new, complementary approach of deriving measures from exercise data. In this study Battlefield Operating System (BOS) Impact Statements were used to derive unit performance measurement concepts. It was found that Impact Statements can be used reliably to judge relative unit performance across exercises, can be related to mission outcome, and can be used as a basis for deriving improved measures for training feedback and training effectiveness.--DTIC.
