Ralph Angel

Get a Backbone, Principal Jill Jackson, 2013-03 Discover your backbone and blow the lid off of last year's test scores! Here you have it: no big and fancy education words and theories, no fairytale strategies, just down-and-dirty conversations that move schools from so-so performance to unprecedented success. This book is your get-out-of-school-improvement-jail-free card and will coach you to find your leadership backbone so you can take control of your school. Principals who lead with a backbone spend little time putting out fires and most of their time on improving the quality of the instruction - and that's why they get results. Every time. This book helps you build your backbone one step at a time by providing simple guides, real-life examples and planning tools for strategizing, delivering and making it out alive from conversations with the most critical people on your campus: You...Your instructional coach...Your teaching staff...Your department or grade teams...Your most resistant teacher. Discover your backbone and...Take control of your school. Take control of the teaching. Take control of the results. Excellent principals that get results have some good skills, but more importantly they have a backbone. And they use it.

Your Moon Ralph Angel, 2014 Poetry. Ralph Angel possesses what every poet dreams of a warm heart and a cold eye and all of his poems have a foothold between Everything and Nothing, the place each of us lives in day in and day out, though we seldom recognize or admit it the way these poems do. Many of them unfold like a ravishing film to which a voice-over adds such haunting commentary we are surprised to reach the end and realize we have been reading. His vernacular arrests me. A thread of wild and somber beauty runs through this book by one of America's most original poets. Mary Ruefle

Bad Habitats Alisa Slaughter, 2012 Fiction. Good stories destabilize a reader's view of the world. And when this happens, the experience is exciting and mystifying. BAD HABITATS is just such a remarkable read. Startling in its ambition and stunning in its achievements, the amalgamation of the animal and human leaves us with serious questions about who we think we are and who we want to be. Dana Johnson

Tales with Tails Mary Wolos-Fonteno, Debbie Dieneman, Nancy Rakoczy, 2006 Collection of nine animal stories.

The Tradition of Excellence Continues, 2018-03 A history book highlighting 100 years of Cathedral High School in Indianapolis, Indiana
