Daily Motivational Quotes-If misery loves company, than motivation breeds success! Susan A. Enns, 2010-12-13 This is a collection of my favorite motivational quotes all in one place! Some are sales related, some are business related, but most are simply life related. They are in no particular order, just a random thought for each day of the year to help keep you on a positive note. If the old saying “misery loves company” is true, then motivation must breed happiness! I have spent my entire career, in one form or another, in sales. As such, I have dealt with rejection almost every day of my working life. Don’t get me wrong, I have had a very successful career, but no sales person hears yes all the time. In fact, it is just the opposite. We hear no many more times than we hear yes. In sales, rejection is just something we deal with every day. When we let it get us down, it shows to everyone we meet, including our customers, our colleagues and our family. Essentially, our negative attitude becomes our worst enemy. Even if you are not in sales, if you let your negative thoughts get the best of you, you are your own worst enemy too. Given my profession, I have been asked many times how do I stay positive? It can’t be easy to keep the right attitude when you have to deal with rejection every day, right? Yes, actually, it can be. I stay positive because I choose to stay positive. I actually make a conscious effort to not be negative and to only be positive. I discovered long ago that a motivational quote always puts me in the right frame of mind. I started searching the internet for a daily quote that made me smile or motivated me in some way. Each day I did this, I found that I became better mentally prepared to tackle the day. More importantly, I was just happier! I started to share what I found online. I would put a daily motivational quote in my Facebook and LinkedIn statuses, I would blog about them, and I would tweet them on Twitter. Friends, family, and business associates all enjoyed them so much they started calling me The Quote Lady. More importantly, everyone's positive attitude seemed to be contagious. The more the motivation spread, the more everyone became motivated! That's when I decided to pull together a collection of my favorite motivational quotes all in one place, and this eBook was created. I hope you enjoy them as much as I do. Remember, your thoughts control your outcomes and you control your thoughts. So choose wisely! Thank you for your everyday contribution to our success! It is really amazing for what you are doing in helping others stay positive and overcome their challenges, whatsoever small or big they may be Susan inspires me to do better and help others. Just Hustle Every Day Jordan S Alexander,2020-09-09 What is the secret to success as an entrepreneur? Is it millions of dollars to invest? Is it having the free time to work 14 hours every single day? Or is it a 100% fool-proof business idea? The truth is, if you are missing this one crucial thing, you could have all those advantages plus a field of four-leaf clovers in your backyard and it would not matter. It's not sexy and it's not talked about much in the entrepreneur world, but if you are missing this critical piece of the puzzle, your business will fall apart sooner or later. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, 20% of entrepreneurs give up by the first year, and by the fifth year, 50% close their doors and never reopen. Keep in mind this statistic only counts those very few who dare leave their safe old jobs and actually set out on their journey to financial independence and fulfillment. Lack of funds is certainly one important piece of the puzzle, but the missing key piece is the mindset to start something, learn as you go, and do it until it works. Many others don't even take the first step and are content griping every day about their dull jobs and crappy bosses, never changing themselves. Entrepreneurship really isn't an easy role to play. You can't expect to know what to do on your own when no one has shown you the ropes. When you go in blind, you are bound to bash yourself against a few obstacles and end up a bit worse than how you came in. That's why it is critical to learn from the failures and successes of others. You don't have nearly enough time to stumble through all the walls and pitfalls. With Hustle Every Day, you get inside access into 365 of the greatest minds from all walks of life and periods in time. You get one genius quote for each new day. Through the wisdom collected in Hustle Every Day you will discover: The number one limiting belief that is guaranteed to make success impossible no matter how hard you try Why passion and persistence trump talent and experience every time How to rise above self-doubt and shut down the critics How to make more money by doing less work The most overlooked aspect of business that can ensure financial security for years to come Why giving more to your customer makes them spend even more money Proven business strategies that have made normal people multi-millionaires time and time again Why setting unrealistic goals can make your dreams a reality Why you don't have to immediately burn all your bridges to be an entrepreneur The secret to enduring success and fulfillment (hint: it's not money) And so much more... Entrepreneurs don't fail if the results they were hoping for don't happen. They only fail when they stop learning and stop trying. If they shoot once or twice, miss the mark, and give up, they won't ever hit it. So for every shot they miss, they must adjust, then shoot again, and again, and again, until eventually, they hit the bull's eye. Even if you are considering starting your first-ever business but feel blind and helpless, or if you are an eagle-eyed veteran looking to maximize your earning potential, your attitude is what will bring you to new heights or hold you down. Grit Angela Duckworth, 2016-05-03 In this instant New York Times bestseller, Angela Duckworth shows anyone striving to succeed that the secret to outstanding achievement is not talent, but a special blend of passion and persistence she calls “grit.” “Inspiration for non-geniuses everywhere” (People). The daughter of a scientist who frequently noted her lack of “genius,” Angela Duckworth is now a celebrated researcher and professor. It was her early eye-opening stints in teaching, business consulting, and neuroscience that led to her hypothesis about what really drives success: not genius, but a unique combination of passion and long-term perseverance. In Grit, she takes us into the field to visit cadets struggling through their first days at West Point, teachers working in some of the toughest schools, and young finalists in the National Spelling Bee. She also mines fascinating insights from history and shows what can be gleaned from modern experiments in peak performance. Finally, she shares what she’s learned from interviewing dozens of high achievers—from JP Morgan CEO Jamie Dimon to New Yorker cartoon editor Bob Mankoff to Seattle Seahawks Coach Pete Carroll. “Duckworth’s ideas about the cultivation of tenacity have clearly changed some lives for the better” (The New York Times Book Review). Among Grit’s most valuable insights: any effort you make ultimately counts twice toward your goal; grit can be learned, regardless of IQ or circumstances; when it comes to child-rearing, neither a warm embrace nor high standards will work by themselves; how to trigger lifelong interest; the magic of the Hard Thing Rule; and so much more. Winningly personal, insightful, and even life-changing, Grit is a book about what goes through your head when you fall down, and how that—not talent or luck—makes all the difference. This is “a fascinating tour of the psychological research on success” (The Wall Street Journal).
