Future Network Systems and Security Robin Doss,Selwyn Piramuthu,Wei Zhou,2017-08-17 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the Third International Conference on Future Network Systems and Security, FNSS 2017, held in Gainesville, FL, USA, during August/September 2017. The 15 full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 42 submissions. The papers are organized in topical sections on protocol design and secure implementation, security protocols and attack countermeasures, big data and future applications.

Street Pattern and Traffic Safety Shakil Rifaat,2012 Over the last fifty years, the lollipop design has become the basic building block of many suburban road networks in most North American cities. Although developed to improve the social living environment, this combination of cul-de-sac and loop streets has the support of many traffic engineers because of its traffic calming effects. Perhaps due to its intuitive appeal, few studies have been conducted to examine the impact of this design on road crashes. While the social benefits and drawbacks of different types of street patterns and urban forms have been discussed extensively in the literature, little attention has been devoted so far to the traffic safety effects of the different street network designs. The main objective of this program of research is to explore the effect of neighbourhood street pattern on the frequency and severity of crashes. Using data from the City of Calgary, traffic safety performance functions using the count data models, ordered and unordered response models were estimated to provide policy makers with evidence based recommendations on the type of subdivision that would be safer for Calgary and other rapidly expanding cities.

Calgary Parks and Pathways Terry Bullick,2007-05-22 Visitors, born-and-raised Calgarians, and the many new residents will find this friendly and informative book a great addition to a summer reading list-all year long! -- Calgary's Child Magazine From a perfectly split glacial rock at West Nose Creek Park to the mirror-like oxbow pools of Griffith Woods, this book is your guide to one of the comprehensive urban outdoor networks in North America. On the twentieth anniversary of the Parks Foundation, Calgary, Terry Bullick has updated her best-selling 1990s book to capture the dynamic growth-and the growing appreciation-of the city's parks, pathways, open spaces and natural areas. Calgary Parks and Pathways: A City's Treasures visits more than thirty parks and highlights the 750 kilometers of pedestrian and cycling trails that radiate from the city's rivers, creeks and canals. Details 'at a glance' will prepare park users to get the most out of their very first visit, with current transit access, information on where to park, and what facilities and activities are available and supported. Whether on foot, bike, rollerblades or skis, Calgarians and visitors will find this friendly guide a must-have, any season of the year.

A Portable Real-time Traffic Control System for Freeway Work Zones Prahlad D. Pant,2000 This report describes the Travel Time Prediction System (TIPS), a portable, real-time, automated system which calculates travel times between different points in advance of and within a freeway work zone and then makes this information available to drivers through variable message signs. The report first describes the methodology behind TIPS. It then describes the hardware and software development. Implementation, deployment, and results from field tests are reported. Evaluation of TIPS by motorists are presented. The report concludes with recommendations focusing on the implementation of TIPS in a work zone or rural or suburban freeway.

Where I Live Now Sharon Butala,2017-04-04 The author writes of her experiences dealing with the death of her husband and adjusting to life in the city after leaving the ranchlands of southwest Saskatchewan.
