Car Boot Diamond Debra Goddard,2019-03-29 This book is about a true story of heartache. Betrayal in the worst possible way. A young girl to an adult woman's disrespect for her mother because of being put in care. Lessons that had to be learnt the hard way. Of true love for her mum which came through more heartache, her mum losing her life savings, family and health, more than anyone could deal with. The author and her family did deal with it and discovered true love before it was too late. Only then did they discover a diamond after having it in her possession for over 32 years, bought for only 10 and sold for over 540,000. A 26.27-carat diamond. A diamond that went on to sell at Sotheby's top lot. A real-life Only Fools and Horses story. A true fairytale gift of fate and karma, but most of all, love.

WRITINGS FOR A CAR BOOT SALE Pamela Theophilus Gardner,2020-02-07 In Writings for a Car Boot Sale, Pamela Theophilus Gardner takes readers on a new literary journey with her eclectic mix of writing to suit all moods. In this collection of short, entertaining fiction, fascinating non-fiction and academic essays, there is something for every reader. The book opens with a series of short stories; a selection of fictional sketches and narrative in a variety of forms, including realistic, fable and drama. This section concludes with a historical story, based on an episode in the life of the potter and ceramic artist, William Billingsley - which links nicely to Pamela's second collection: non-fiction ceramic mysteries. Well illustrated, the mysteries are accessible to all readers, with or without an interest in ceramics. Dating from early to late nineteenth century, social history and the characters populating the stories feature as strongly as does the porcelain. The book concludes with two, more challenging essays, stemming from Pamela's academic interest and professional experience in diet and health, and exploring a blend of science and the politics of food policy.
