Issues in African American Music Portia K. Maultsby,Mellonee V. Burnim,2016-10-26 Issues in African American Music: Power, Gender, Race, Representation is a collection of twenty-one essays by leading scholars, surveying vital themes in the history of African American music. Bringing together the viewpoints of ethnomusicologists, historians, and performers, these essays cover topics including the music industry, women and gender, and music as resistance, and explore the stories of music creators and their communities. Revised and expanded to reflect the latest scholarship, with six all-new essays, this book both complements the previously published volume African American Music: An Introduction and stands on its own. Each chapter features a discography of recommended listening for further study. From the antebellum period to the present, and from classical music to hip hop, this wide-ranging volume provides a nuanced introduction for students and anyone seeking to understand the history, social context, and cultural impact of African American music.

Cognitive Reasoning for Compliant Robot Manipulation Daniel Sebastian Leidner,2018-12-08 In order to achieve human-like performance, this book covers the four steps of reasoning a robot must provide in the concept of intelligent physical compliance: to represent, plan, execute, and interpret compliant manipulation tasks. A classification of manipulation tasks is conducted to identify the central research questions of the addressed topic. It is investigated how symbolic task descriptions can be translated into meaningful robot commands.Among others, the developed concept is applied in an actual space robotics mission, in which an astronaut aboard the International Space Station (ISS) commands the humanoid robot Rollin' Justin to maintain a Martian solar panel farm in a mock-up environment

Therapeutic Strategies in Primary and Metastatic Liver Cancer Christian Herfarth,Peter Schlag,Peter Hohenberger,2012-12-06 Primary and metastasizing malignant carcinoma of the liver represent a challenge to both the diagnostician and the therapist. For this reason, it appears a worthwhile task to review the current status of knowledge about the treatment of primary and metastasizing tumors of the liver. The question is whether modern diagnostic methods and new therapeutic concepts can help to improve the prospects of treatment. Of particular interest is the role played by therapeutic procedures directly involving the liver. Thus, it is equally important to discuss the pathophysiological and pharmacological bases for a modern therapy concept as it is to consider diagnostic issues and possible definitions of stages of progression. Therapeutic concepts comprise systemic therapy and organ-related therapeutic methods, including surgical resection, changes in the blood supply, regional selective chemotherapy, and other localized or regional, highly specialized forms of therapy. This survey of the various possibilities in the field is meant too to stimulate further scientific research, given that methods of treatment are as yet by no means standardized, but are still in the stage of clinical research, where experimental models can find an application. The only well-established operative procedure is surgery on the isolated liver tumor. In this area, specialized techniques and various intraoperative procedures are discussed.
