Kissed by a Croc John Lever,Jenny Lanyon,2014-06-01 Bushie meets crocs. John Lever is one of the outback's seriously tough characters. He owns Australia's largest croc farm that's home to 3000 saltwater crocs. Meet John Lever - adventurer, storyteller, traveller and owner of Koorana Crocodile Farm - and one of the world's foremost experts in the behaviour and management of Crocodylus porosus, the Australian saltwater crocodile. For almost half a century the crocs have fascinated John Lever; he courted, counted, cajoled and captured them as a wildlife officer in the remote waterways of Papua New Guinea, before returning home to Australia to establish the first commercial crocodile farm in outback Queensland. Along the way he has accumulated some great tales - like the time he wrestled an unrestrained croc while flying at 4000 feet - and knows more about the Australian salty than just about anyone.

Papa Croc Juliet Jones,2014 Never judge a book by its cover. This is so true of this children's story, Papa Croc. Using the medium of animal characters, the story highlights serious social issues related to family relationships. What is particularly refreshing about Papa Croc, however, is that it addresses these issues in an appealing manner unlike the harshly graphic depictions that are so commonplace today in a range of media.

The story also allows for the child's interaction with the text through recitation of a nursery rhyme that signals a meaningful movement towards the resolution of the plot that caters not only to the child's imagination, but to parents and teachers alike, in terms of the possibility for extending such a poignant narrative into a range of language, health and family life, and character education activities.
