Austin Albert Mardon

Deep Space Rescue 911 P. G. Henck, 2020-11-28 Ned was one of a kind in the Kuoma Super Cluster, being half Alurolan and half Human. It was the human part, though, that made him stand out. His dad had been snatched from Earth by someone or something years back, and ended up here, the most civilized part of the universe. At least that was what the League of Worlds thought. They pretty much ran the interactions among the many thousands of intelligent species that lived on the millions of worlds supporting life in the Kuoma Super Cluster. Before Ned's dad, no one here had ever heard of a human from Earth, or even had the slightest idea where this planet was located in the rest of the universe. His dad's unique biology and never told stories made survival in this new reality possible, but now his dad was gone, and Ned had invested everything on the only dream that remained. The rescue of lost and missing ships in the Kuoma Super Cluster was handled by its member worlds, and everyone usually looked after their own. With their form of quick space travel, proximity was more or less irrelevant. It was the time it took to go someplace that mattered, both for the crew, and the rest of the universe. This decided where you could and couldn't go. And no one wanted to go to deep space, where the travel options were far and few between. And besides that, there were some races out there that the worlds with the largest rescue fleets didn't think were worth rescuing. Ned didn't agree with the status quo, hoping to change things for the better. And as luck would have it, he was able to find a skilled, dedicated, and resourceful bunch of outcasts to follow his dream of providing rescue services to all races and places. Join this band of unlikely heroes as they learn that their original calling is not as simple as they thought, and as they rescue those in need within the confines of deep space, and beyond.

Space Rescue Systems in the Context of International Laws Austin Albert Mardon, 2012-06 Dr. Austin Mardon outlines the international law treatises governing the act of space rescues, and their interaction with humanitarian efforts on Earth.

The Geostationary Ring Martha Mejía-Kaiser, 2020-06-29 The Geostationary Ring: Practice and Law by Martha Mejía-Kaiser addresses numerous physical aspects of this highly sought-after orbital region and analyses in unprecedented detail the evolution of its use, coordination and related disputes and efforts to keep it operational by clearing it of space debris.

Law and Regulation of Commercial Mining of Minerals in Outer Space Ricky Lee, 2012-03-05 This monograph addresses the legal and policy issues relating to the commercial exploitation of natural resources in outer space. It begins by establishing the economic necessity and technical feasibility of space mining today, an estimate of the financial commitments required, followed by a risk analysis of a commercial mining venture in space, identifying the economic and legal risks. This leads to the recognition that the legal risks must be minimised to enable such projects to be financed. This is followed by a discussion of the principles of international space law, particularly dealing with state responsibility and international liability, as well as some of the issues arising from space mining activities. Much detail is devoted to the analysis of the content of the common heritage of mankind doctrine. The monograph then attempts to balance such interests in creating a legal and policy compromise to create a new regulatory regime.

Integrated Space for African Society Annette Froehlich, 2019-09-18 This book provides an overview of the space sector in African countries, from a legal and policy point of view, analysing how the African Union's Space Policy and Strategy (ASPS) is implemented and highlighting the various space activities in each country. Against this backdrop, it investigates the ASPS, identifying its policy goals identified and discussing its strategy. Moreover, it explores the on-going regional cooperation programmes, the continent's leading space actors and their roles, and the space-related regional fora and organizations, reflecting on various initiatives, including the African Leadership Conference on Space Science and Technology for Sustainable Development (ALC), the Regional African Satellite Communications Organisation (RASCOM), and the African Resource Management Satellite Constellation (ARMS-C). As such, it is a valuable source of information on space capacities in African countries.

Space Rescue Shayler David, 2009-03-17 Looks forward to the completion of the ISS, possibility of return to the moon, manned flights to Mars, and the prospect of safety and rescue far beyond. Describes the role of Mission Control and recovery forces in ensuring the support from the ground to the crew in space. Provides a unique range of historic archive of material on the Russian programme. Presents a review of the Columbia accident, its investigation and various proposed rescue scenarios. Details escape systems devised for rocket research aircraft, early manned spacecraft, abort and recovery options from Earth orbit, and from lunar distance. Demonstrates that crew safety has been a factor in planning and mounting on all manned spaceflights.

Space Risk: Rescue on Jupiter's Moon Europa Arthur Anderson, 2023-11-15 In the vast canvas of the solar system, among the moons and planets shimmering in cosmic darkness, unfolds an epic of risk and redemption. Space Risk: Rescue on Jupiter's Moon takes us beyond Earth's confines, where the Terra 1 spacecraft emerges as the architect of a bold destiny on Jupiter's moon Europa. The hope of establishing a new home on a distant world propels this brave crew, but when technical mishaps threaten to extinguish that light, Earth responds with a cosmic card: Terra 2, the rescue mission. Through the following pages, we embark on a journey that embraces the thrill of launch, confronts challenges in deep space, and lands in the looming threat of Europa. The race against time triggers titanic efforts to establish habitable conditions, while a space emergency tests the crew's determination. The call for help resonates in stellar silence, carrying with it the desperation and uncertainty that only space can inspire. And so, Terra 2 emerges from Earth, ready to defy interstellar distances in a rescue mission that transcends human limitations. In each chapter, from the journey to Europa to cosmic encounters and the crucial cooperation between Terra 1 and Terra 2, this story intertwines with the fabric of space and interplanetary exploration. The rescue on Jupiter's moon becomes a cosmic epic, and the return home reveals itself as a journey filled with lessons, personal changes, and reflections on humanity's destiny in the unexplored vastness of the universe. Go ahead, intrepid reader, delve into the depths of space and discover a tale that challenges the limits of imagination and exploration.

Space Rescue One Atk Butterfly, 2014-05-14 When disasters strike ships in space, only three ships stand ready to answer the call in in our solar system. On board Space Rescue One are two dedicated teams willing to put their lives on the line to save the lives of others. However, Rescue Team One has a problem in the person of Richard Saber, whose anti-social behavior and drinking threatens to disrupt the team and possibly put their lives needlessly at risk. Treating Richard as another victim crying to be saved, his team buddies pull together to break through his walls of isolation in discovering the reason while the universe around them disintegrates into civil war when the colonies on Mars and Venus declare their independence. There's seems to be no possible way for three ships to rescue so many, but unknown to everyone Richard holds the key to ending the war. Even so, disaster still strikes out at the team in a form that will etch itself into space history! Boson Books also offers The Rust Bucket Universe series by Atk. Butterfly. Risk Management in Outer Space Activities Maria A. Pozza, Joel A. Dennerley, 2022-02-09 Risk Management in Outer Space Activities assesses selected risks associated with space activities, from an Australian and New Zealand perspective. The book explores the rise of commercial space activities and considers the development of Australia and New Zealand's regulatory frameworks, and how they are equipped to address new and emerging risks in the space sector. The book examines the juxtaposition of international space law against the domestic legal regimes of Australia and New Zealand, and how these regulatory frameworks are designed to create governance mechanisms to control space risk. Both national jurisdictions approach space risk from the perspective of liability and international legal obligations, but as a result of their different historical space trajectories, their risk approaches differ. This is illustrated by research that suggests that from an Australian point of view, much of its space industry development has been influenced by Cold War era military and national security concerns. On the other hand, the New Zealand perspective is grounded on the rapid market-led commercial development that is currently underway in the country. The book examines a variety of risks that can and do emerge in the course of undertaking space activities. It does this by presenting a series of space risk case studies. There are chapters devoted to examining commercial space risks, space insurance, the risks posed by space debris, cybersecurity and space assets, light pollution as a risk for astronomy and the risks inherent in landing objects on the Moon. The work contained in this book is intended to provide a clear, practical and informed approach to understanding risk management in outer space activities. It will appeal to policy makers, risk professionals, space lawyers, national space agencies as well as academics, researchers and students

Superman: Deep Space Hijack Scott Sonneborn, 2014 When astronauts crash on Pluto, only one man can save them . . . SUPERMAN! Faster than a speeding bullet, the MAN OF STEEL soars toward the dwarf planet, towing a high-tech rescue vehicle. Soon, he discovers an unexpected passenger aboard the spacecraft. JIMMY OLSEN, the DAILY PLANET'S young photographer, has hitched a ride, but that's not SUPERMAN'S biggest problem. When the evil KANJAR RO attacks, the MAN OF STEEL finds himself weakened by deep-space travel. Can he summon the strength to defeat the alien invader 3,660,000,000 miles from Earth's yellow sun?

Who Owns Outer Space? Michael Byers, Aaron Boley, 2023-04-30 Explores the environmental, safety, and security challenges facing humanity's rapid expansion into Space and proposes actionable solutions.

Meta-Geopolitics of Outer Space N. Al-Rodhan, 2012-05-11 Al-Rodhan sheds new light on the debate about the geopolitics of outer space, going beyond applying traditional International Relations approaches to space power and security by introducing a multidimensional spatial framework. The meta-geopolitics framework includes space and expands classical power considerations to cover seven state capacities.

Space Law: A Case Study for the Practitioner George S. Robinson, Pamela L. Meredith, 2023-07-24 Space Law: A Case Study for the Practitioner: Implementing a Telecommunications Satellite Business Concept concentrates on the law governing commercial space ventures, commercial telecommunications satellite projects, in particular. The telecommunications satellite industry is by far the most mature of all the commercial space industries with a commensurate body of law governing it, and many of the same types of regulatory processes and private law transactions discussed in this book also pertain to the implementation of other commercial, and even non-commercial and military space ventures. The reader will find a clear description of the necessary legal actions lawyer and client must take to provide for the construction, launching and operation of a privately-owned telecommunications satellite. Both international and national laws and regulations pertaining to space projects are discussed. A step-by-step approach to legal actions has been adopted to help make the book a practical, easy-to-use reference tool. It is designed to assist lawyers in private practice, government attorneys, corporate legal counsel, entrepreneurial executives and teachers and students of space law.

European Identity through Space Christophe Venet, Blandina Baranes, 2012-11-28 Space activities are one particularly visible area, where Europe can shape its identity. This publication investigates the effect space activities have already had on building a European "spirit" (e.g. through European missions or European astronauts). It also looks into the effects that activities labelled "national" have on the emergence of a European identity. Based on this analysis, the book's intention is to identify creative ways and means for how to further use space for shaping the European identity. For this purpose the focus is not only on policy analysis but also on expertise from the fields of cultural science and the arts in order to tap their creative potential and also their theoretical approaches to the topic. Selecting this theme provides ESPI with another opportunity to develop its trans-disciplinary approach.
