Sweetwater Gap Denise Hunter, 2008-12-16 Life doesn't give do-overs. She's sure of it. But then she goes home again. Josie Mitchell's sister Laurel thinks she's come home to pitch in with the apple harvest and save the family orchard. Her brother-in-law Nate thinks she's there to talk the overworked, very pregnant Laurel into finally selling the family business. The orchard's new manager Grady Mackenzie just thinks she's trouble with a capital T. They're all right . . . and all wrong. Because no one really knows what drove Josie from home in the first place. Why she's never come home before, even for her own father's funeral. Why she pushes herself so hard . . . and what she's running from. And nobody, not even Josie, is prepared for the surprising new fruit she'll find on her last trip home.

The Heart of Denise Sidney Kilner Levett-Yeats, 1899

The Making of Mama Denise Dr. Denise Victoria McAllister, 2017-03-10 The Making of Mama Denise is a collaboration of self-composed poetry, messages, and presentations speaking from a mother's heart. The words in this book are full of wisdom, encouragement, and foresight, creating in every reader's heart the ability to discern that giving up is not an option. A Matter of Souls Denise Lewis Patrick, 2014-04-01 From the shores of Africa to the bowels of a transatlantic ship to a voting booth in Mississippi to the jungles of Vietnam, all human connection is a matter of souls. In this stirring collection of short stories, Denise Lewis Patrick considers the souls of black men and women across centuries and continents. In each, she takes the measure of their dignity, describes their dreams, and catalogs their fears. Brutality, beauty, laughter, rage, and love all take their turns in each story, but the final impression is of indomitable, luminous, and connected souls.

Understanding Denise Levertov Harry Marten, 1988

Poems of Denise Levertov, 1960-1967 Denise Levertov, 1983-05-17 Denise Levertov's Poems 1960-1967 brings together all of the poetry first published in The Jacob's Ladder (1961), O Taste and See (1964), and The Sorrow Dance (1967). Denise Levertov's Poems 1960-1967 brings together all of the poetry first published in The Jacob's Ladder (1961), O Taste and See (1964), and The Sorrow Dance (1967). This new compilation, beginning where her Collected Earlier Poems 1940-1960 (New Directions, 1979) left off, shows both a refining of the poet's craft and a widening of her concerns. "We are living our whole lives in a state of emergency," she wrote in 1967. Levertov's staunch antiwar stand is reflected here in such poems as "Life at War" and "What Were They Like?" with what Kenneth Rexroth called "the special luster of a sensibility that never sacrifices humaneness to intensity." Side by side with her poetry of protest is that of celebration—"Song for Ishtar," "Come into Animal Presence," "Luxury"—and tolerance for "The Mutes" uttering "those groans men use/passing a woman on the street...to tell her she is female" as well as for "The Ache of Marriage." Here also are a meditation "During the Eichmann Trial," "Olga Poems" (a sequence in memoriam), and "Say the Word," the poet's first published story.

Rebel Without a Claus Denise Wells, 2019-12-03 I'm the guy who never brings a date to a holiday party. But meeting someone at one is a different story, apparently. The bartender I undressed with my eyes? Whose touch ignited a fire in my soul when his fingers brushed against mine? He's the one I'm prepared to break all my own rules for.

Denise Levertov Audrey T. Rodgers, 1993 Through careful analysis of Levertov's social verse, she demonstrates that there is a consistency and pattern in what the artist herself has termed the poems of engagement. Denise Levertov began her career in England as a lyric poet in the Romantic mode, but even then was touched by the reductive nature of war, revealed in her first published poem, Listening to Distant Guns. During the mid-1960s Levertov's social conscience, notably her strong antiwar sentiment, was reawakened by the Vietnam War. This reawakening resulted in several volumes of poetry that mirrored her concerns with the war (and political activism at home) and her perplexity at the nature of human beings - often great and compassionate, but at times cruel and insensitive. There exists a common thread in Levertov's pilgrimage from her beginning as a lyric poet to her status as an artist definitively in the world: she has always responded to everything within the compass of her experience.

Love Off The Rocks Denise Wells, Work retreat? No problem. I, Magdalena Stratton, am the epitome of a team player. For the most part. Meet the new boss? Absolutely. I can be charming when I want to be. And this retreat will give me two whole days to suck up for the promotion that should already be mine. The problem? The new boss is my ex, Devlin Campbell. A name close enough to devil to fit. The one I've never stopped thinking about. Or hating. We've been paired up in a survival skills exercise. Now I'm not sure I can survive being this close to him without admitting how I still feel. To myself or him.

Denise's Thoughts Denise M. Rixon, 2005-10-01 A collection of poetry and verse inspired by moods and people, some amusing and some hopefully moving. Denise has always liked to put her thoughts and moods into verse. Now she has put them together so that they can be shared.

Fortunately, she is offered a job at the world famous couturier, Maison Christophe, and there her beauty and elegance make her easily the top mannequin. Seaside Letters Denise Hunter, 2011-05-03 Sabrina never intended to fall in love with Tucker McCabe, the man she serves coffee to every morning at a Nantucket cafe--especially since he's unwittingly tied to a past she deeply regrets.

Finding Faith Denise Hunter, 2018-05-15 Set in the high-pressure world of a Chicago TV newsroom, award-winning author Denise Hunter brings to life a heartwarming story of love and pain, desperate choices with dire consequences, and honesty and redemption. Finding Faith is the third novel in the New Heights series, after Mending Places and Saving Grace.

The Things that Cross my Mind Denise Bryson, 2014-06-23 The Things That Cross My Mind is a collection of poetic thoughts and expressions intended to build people from the inside out by exploring four facets of relationship: About God and me; about relationship; about being single; and about life. Its poetry and psalms are designed to inspire, enrich, and help others approach life with confidence and assurance that they are important to God and significant to this world. Your gifts are needed; He gave them to you for a purpose. The Things That Cross My Mind will help you override societal notions of who you should be and assist you in accepting yourself in spite of what others think. It will also help you to love God and self, and know that you are worthy to be loved. Moreover, the entries inform single persons that they have so much to offer and that they do not have to sell themselves to get what they are gifted to accomplish. Giving clear insight into how much God loves you, the poetic expressions break down stereotypes and other barriers that hinder self-worth. The Things That Cross My Mind will allow you to be strengthened, directed, enriched, encouraged, healed while simultaneously allowing you to laugh and stand.

Anarchy in High Heels Denise Larson, 2021-07-27 Anarchy in High Heels is not a state of dress; it’s a state of mind. A San Francisco porno theater might be the last place you’d expect to plant the seed of a feminist troupe, but truth is stranger than fiction. In 1972, access to birth control and a burn-your-bra ethos were leading young women to repudiate their 1950s conservative upbringing and embrace a new liberation. Denise Larson was a timid twenty-four-year-old actress wannabe when, at an after-hours countercultural event, The People’s Nickelodeon, she accidentally created Les Nিকেettes. This banding together of →→like-minded women with an anything-goes spirit unlocked a deeply hidden female humor. For the first time, Denise allowed the suppressed satirical thoughts dancing through her head to come out in the open. Together with Les Nিকেettes, which quickly became a brazen women’s lib troupe, she presented a series of feminist skits, stunts, and musical comedy plays. In 1980, The Bay Guardian described the group as “nutty, messy, flashy, trashy, and very funny.” With sisterhood providing the moxie, Denise took on leadership positions not common for women at the time: playwright, stage director, producer, and administrative/artistic director. But, in the end, the most important thing she learned was the power of female friendship.

Denise's Daily Word Denise Barrow, 2016-02-23 A courageous cancer survivor shares daily words of spiritual encouragement for people of every faith. More than ten years ago, Denise Barrow was diagnosed with stage four breast cancer—a transformational experience that inspired her to pick up her pen and begin writing daily encouragements to her friends and family. Denise’s daily words are based on Bible scriptures, told vividly with compassion and unwavering wit, but intended to free us from “religion”—that organized system of beliefs, practices, and man’s way of doing things—so that we can serve God and His purpose in our individual lives. In her inimitable book, Denise candidly shares her long and personal journey of recovery and how she not just talks faith but joyfully lives faith even in the face of difficult circumstances. Denise touches the soul, mind, body, and spirit of all who believe—regardless of religion—teaching, ministering, and evoking healing in all of us. Her daily words will prayerfully help you to value the gift of your life, inspiring love and forgiveness that will unite us all in God’s purpose!

Letters to Carol Carol Denise Mitchell, 2023-05-30 In Elementary School, during the late 60's classmates called me The Blob. At home, I was ridiculed daily by my mother, who imitated my looks to my siblings. The cruel guardian disassociated me from my real name. With the early loss of my beloved grandmother, I had no protection. Then, my brother's abuse hurt me primarily on multiple levels. One day, inside my bedroom closet I developed dissociative identity disorder, or Multiple Personality Disorder. I began hugging myself, promising to develop protective mechanisms to help me deal with daily trauma. It also helped me tolerate cruel, insulting behaviors by believing I could rely on my alternate universe to help me soothe my inner pain. When I recognized how much better I felt, I could appropriate tolerance by relegating all my abuses to another part of my mind. Later on, following a terrifying bout with homelessness, my last personality emerged to tell my story, proving forgiveness was the component that would ultimately rest my trauma. I am most honored to present to you Letters to Carol.

Spirit Speaks Denise Schaad, 2022-04-12 I slowly open the door and push the kitchen chairs away to crawl out into the light. The tiny clean kitchen is broken and ransacked. Everything is in chaos. My eyes strain to see what has happened. My feet are cold on the gold shag carpet. The living room is dark except for the light filtering through the drapes. I wander around the room, lost and alone. I find my mommy naked on the floor. I approach her, no response. Crying, I shake her bloody body. Mommy, Mommy, please wake up. Mommy won't wake up. She's dead! Mommy, wake up. Please wake up, Mommy, wake up. I will be a good girl. Just wake up, and I will take care of you. Mommy, please wake up. Mommy, please wake up, and I will never leave you. I will always take care of you if you wake up. The front door swings open and I freeze. A man grabs me. I scream for Mommy.

Deliver Us from the Evil One Denise C. McCreary, 2015-07-17 Years ago, the chosen people lived by Gods moral laws, until the Reverend Jonathan Corey broke the most sacred of the laws. He fell into temptation sleeping with his best friends wife. This sin allowed the evil one and his servants to roam and walk the earth, killing, stealing, and destroying innocent souls. Jonathan Corey must repent of his sins and face the evil one in order to restore peace back into the land, which was given to him by his fathers before, with the help of Archangel Michael and the army of the Lord, together they defeated the evil one, thus sending him back to hell for all eternity. The evil one had so much hatred in him he would not give up the hope that there was someone as evil as he that he could possess, thus allowing him to kill, steal, and destroy innocent souls, taking their purity and making them his servants. One day, while the evil one was wreaking havoc in hell, his lead officer, Abolisher, stood before him and shared the good news. Master, we found him, and he is as evil as you. Abolisher said. The evil one was so ecstatic so ecstatic that all participated debauchery that was taking place in hell as the evil one finished up with the innocent souls he stored in his treasure chest. He stepped into the twenty-first century with avenges. He stepped into the twenty-first century with vengeance.
