DON NUTBEAM,ELIZABETH HARRIS

2 Vital Signs Ken Hillman, 2009 Written by a practicing intensive care clinician, this unique collection shares the experiences of intensive care patients and their families. Demonstrating how ordinary people cope in the face of terrible tragedies, this inspiring account journeys inside an intensive care unit and reveals the daily struggles of caring staff members in this critical environment. Filled with humorous and heartbreaking moments, this compilation will appeal to healthcare students as well as those dealing with the death of a loved one.

2 Social Paediatrics Bengt Lindström, Nick Spencer, 1995 This unique book takes a completely fresh approach to child health. The authors address the challenges of child health as embodied in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child and the positive health targets of WHO's Health for All 2000 initiative. Throughout the book they use these as a theme around which to examine the effects of adverse social, political, environmental, and family influences on child health. Social Paediatrics provides an essential theoretical and philosophical framework for those wishing to face the challenge of enhancing life quality for all children and gives practical guidelines for all involved in child health issues. It is an indispensable source of information for every pediatrician.

2 Theory in a Nutshell Don Nutbeam, Elizabeth Harris, 2004 The use of theory in the planning and implementation of health promotion programs will more reliably produce positive outcomes. Following on from the success of the first edition, Theory in a Nutshell 2nd Edition explores the main theoretical concepts and models in health promotion and explains the significance, practical application and impact of different theories on the individual, community and organization. This edition includes concise reviews of established theories, such as social cognitive theory and health belief model, as well as expanding on new developments in the field including evidence-based policy making and health impact assessment. Thoroughly revised and updated, the book maintains the accessible style suitable for public health practitioners, health promotion and health education specialists, epidemiologists and social policy makers, as well as students of public health and health promotion. Features: *Written for public health practitioners, health promotion specialists and students *Explains the core theories and concepts and applies them to a variety of common community contexts *Thoroughly updated information distilled into a concise, accessible format *Authors are internationally recognized leaders in the field About the authors: Don Nutbeam is Pro Vice-Chancellor and Head of the College of Health Sciences at Sydney University. He was formerly Head of Public Health in the UK Department of Health. Elizabeth Harris is Director of the Centre for Health Equity Training, Research and Evaluation at the University of New South Wales.
