Eye 2 Eye Warrick Mayes,2015-11-27 Initially, when I wrote my first book of rhyme, I included a brief explanation with many of my poems, so that the reader would know what was going through my mind at the time, or what had inspired that poem. That is why I titled it Little Book of Rhyme... And Reason. I continued this idea into my second book, Below a Tree..., and you will find it again in the pages of this book, as well. A large proportion of the poems are tweetable - 140 characters or less, as I want to be able to respond to events or comment on things that happen around the world - and what better way to do it than in rhyme. The other reason for many of these poems being so short is that I have been taking part in the weekly V0Ella poetry competition (@V0Etry). There's no prize for these competitions beyond the praise or appreciation of others who also contribute in the same way. As ever, I've grouped the poems into categories -Nature - Love - V0Ella - World Events - Life and Fun. The good thing about these distinct categories is that they're not that distinct, some poems could fit into more than one category. I could have just left the poems a they were written, like some time-line, but I thought that if people have favourites, they will be easier to find this way. So, it only leaves me to explain the title of this latest book, Eye 2 Eye. I found myself thinking a lot about eyes - how they can tell you so much about a person (or seem to). We use our eyes so much for communication, not only giving off signals, but in reading them too. You will find several poems in this book that pay homage to, or hint at this important feature.

Industrialisierung Technologisierung von Kunst und Wissenschaft Elke Bippus,Andrea Sick,2015-07-31 Die klassischen Grenzziehungen zwischen Kunst, Wissenschaft und Ökonomie werden, falls sie überhaupt jemals existiert haben, zunehmend fragwürdig. Prozesse wie die »Industrialisierung und Technologisierung der Wissenschaften« und die »Piktorialisierung der Naturwissenschaften« dokumentieren diese Übertragungen und regen zu neuem Nachdenken darüber an. Die mit zahlreichen Abbildungen versehene Publikation befasst sich mit diesen Prozessen und thematisiert dabei vor allem die zentrale Rolle der Kunst in neuer, produktiver Weise. Aus dieser Perspektive werden auch Alternativen zur aktuell betriebenen Ökonomisierung des Wissens deutlich.

Stochastic Methods in Cancer Research. Applications to Genomics and Angiogenesis Paola M. V. Rancoita,2011 In this thesis, I study three stochastic methods that can be applied for the analysis of data in cancer research and, in particular, to cancer genomic data and to images of angiogenic processes. Cancer is a multistep process where the accumulation of genomic lesions alters cell biology. The latter is under control of several pathways and thus, cancer can arise via different mechanisms affecting different pathways. Due to the general complexity of this disease and the different types of tumors, the efforts of cancer research cover several research areas such as, for example, immunology, genetics, cell biology, angiogenesis.
