Feed Me-- I'm Hungry! Christine Sachse, Sunita Mohan, Irene Swedak, 2007

Becoming Marianne Moore Marianne Moore, 2002 These notes, in turn, point readers to narrative accounts of Moore's associations with her early publishers that offer a range of historical, contextual, biographical, and bibliographic information about the publication events of Moore's poems and explore her attempts to shape her literary career in concert with some of her most famous modernist peers - Richard Aldington, H. D., Harriet Monroe, Ezra Pound, and William Carlos Williams.--BOOK JACKET.

Women Editing Modernism Jayne Marek, 2021-10-21 For many years young writers experimenting with forms and aesthetics in the early decades of this century, small journals known collectively as little magazines were the key to recognition. Joyce, Stein, Eliot, Pound, Hemingway, and scores of other iconoclastic writers now considered central to modernism received little encouragement from the established publishers. It was the avant-garde magazines, many of them headed by women, that fostered new talent and found a readership for it. Jayne Marek examines the work of seven women editors—Harriet Monroe, Alice Corbin Henderson, Margaret Anderson, Jane Heap, H.D., Bryher (Winifred Ellerman), and Marianne Moore—whose varied activities, often behind the scenes and in collaboration with other women, contributed substantially to the development of modernist literature. Through such publications as Poetry, The Little Review, The Dial, and Close Up, these women had a profound influence that has been largely overlooked by literary historians. Marek devotes a chapter as well to the interactions of these editors with Ezra Pound, who depended upon but also derided their literary tastes and accomplishments. Pound's opinions have had lasting influence in shaping critical responses to women editors of the early twentieth century. In the current reevaluation of modernism, this important book, long overdue, offers an indispensable introduction to the formative influence of women editors, both individually and in their collaborative efforts.

Feed Me! Harriet Brown, 2009-01-27 In our appearance-obsessed society, eating is about much more than hunger and sustenance. Food inspires pleasure and anxiety, shame and obsession. We are constantly judged on how we look, so we've come to judge ourselves (and others) on what and how we eat. Joyce Maynard writes about learning to make pie with her complex but adored mother. Caroline Leavitt's chilling piece describes the overlap between power and eating. Ophira Edut explains how an outspoken "body outlaw" wound up on Jenny Craig. Diana Abu-Jaber writes about abandoning her Bedouin customs for America's silverware and table manners—and missing the physical, hands-on connection with food. Exploring the bonds between appetite and remorse, hunger and longing, satisfaction and desire, this anthology is for every woman who's ever felt guilty about eating dessert, or gushed over a friend's weight loss, or wished she had a different body. Feed Me! features the following essays: "He Called Me Fat; It Set Me Free" by Sari Botton "The Grief Diet" by Caroline Leavitt "With Hands" by Diana Abu-Jaber "Seconds" by Jenny Allen "My Worst Excess" by Amity Gaige "Sisi, You're Getting Fat" by Courtney E. Martin "My Ten Plagues" by Harriet Brown "Top Model" by Magali Amadei "Reader, I Ate Him" by Brenda Copeland "The Twin Paradox" by Susan O'Doherty "Attack of the XL Girl" by Laurie Notaro "Sugar Plum Fairy" by Dana Kinstler "Sky Girl" by Ann Hood "Plus What?" by Lisa Romeo "Ess, Ess" by Rochelle Jewel Shapiro "In the House of Jean Nidetch" by Whitney Otto "You're Not Fat" by Kate Harding "My Binge Year" by Jane E. Brody "Day One" by Wendy McClure "Quacks" by Kathi Kamen Goldmark "Battle of the Bulge: Notes from a Decade of Body Activism" by Ophira Edut "Take this Cake and Shove it" by Joan Fischer "Pie"

Deadly Vengeance Travis Jerome,2013-05 Deadly Vengeance is an epic story of how one man's vengeance turned deadly. Four jewelry thieves robbed his jewelry store for more than ten million dollars' worth of jewelry and unwittingly stumbled on a valuable piece of jewelry that could ruin the lives of a few, leaving employed men seeking their whereabouts and many dead, with one up on the game the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Despite the men of law enforcement that seek to unravel the sophistication of the crime, the two main orchestrators of previous and following crimes, RL and Mayshach, seek their own vengeance: to take Wilson, the prominent owner of the jewelry store, for a substantial share of the empire he's acquired through selling mass amounts of drugs. Their vengeance is deadly.

Plants Feed Me Lizzy Rockwell,2014-01-17 Sink your teeth into the plants that feed the world—flowers, fruits, seeds, and all! With its simple text and bright, appealing illustrations, this book is perfect for young readers learning about where their food comes from. Clearly-labeled diagrams show the different parts of plants we use and eat—leaves of spinach and cabbage, the roots of carrot plants, and the wide variety of fruits, such as apples, berries, and tomatoes. Plants Feed Me explores the different types of seeds we eat— beans, nuts, rice, and even how wheat is ground into flour and used to make many other types of food. Smiling children pick fruits and vegetables, and learn how plants grow from seeds, stretching toward the sky for sun and into the earth for nutrients. This celebration of fruits, vegetables, and more is sure to get kids interested in what's on their plates!

Mother, Please Let Me Go H. D. Graham,2010 This book is about my exciting and wonderful career in the United States Air Force. I listed my various assignment in the order in which they occurred and outlined the major events in my life while at each base. Every assignment had a lot of good points and some that wasn't that great but I tried to focus on the exciting things. A large portion of the book deals with my assignments in Vietnam and events that still haunt me today. The events in the book start when I was a senior in high school trying to talk my Mother into giving me permission to enlist just as soon as I turn 17 years old. I also wrote about some of the interesting things while in high school and about my large family. I felt that it might be of interest to the reader to know that between all my brothers and I we accumulated over 170 years of military service to our country. I ended the book with some events that happened while I was teaching and the jetliner that I observed on 10 Sep 01 practicing for the flight across southern Pennsylvania that crashed on 9/11.
