Role of Non-Owner-Occupied Homes in the Current Housing and Foreclosure Cycle Breck L.

Robinson,2010-10 Non-occupant homeowners (NOH) differ from owner occupants in that they tend to have lower-risk credit characteristics, but may also have weaker incentives to maintain mortgage pay. when housing values fall. During the recent housing boom, the share of mortgage borrowing by NOH was relatively high in states where home values rose rapidly. After the housing boom, foreclosures on NOH mortgages in several Midwestern and Northeastern states reflected a high rate of foreclosure per mortgage, not a high vol. of mortgages to NOH. The reverse held true in coastal and mountain states. NV and FL have experienced the greatest impact overall, because they have both a high vol. of mortgages to NOH and a high rate of foreclosure on those mortgages. Illus.

Florida Foreclosure Law, 2019 Heidi Bassett,2018 Foreclosure law in Florida continues to develop at an aggressive pace. Florida's appellate courts generate a volume of case law every year, providing a need for the addition of new chapters and expanded discussions to this guide. The latest edition includes new form pleadings and discovery, a quick reference guide for the evidentiary basis of trial exhibits, and other relevant forms. For solo practitioners, foreclosure attorneys, litigators, law libraries and business libraries.

Rising Foreclosures in the United States: A Perfect Storm Kelly D. Edmiston,2008-05 In the second qtr. of 2007, the share of outstanding mortg. in some stage of foreclosure (FC) stood at 1.4%, up from less than 1% a year earlier. The number of mortg. entering the FC process reached an all-time high in mid-2007. The FC surge was created by a perfect storm of events. First, the share of sub-prime mortg. originations increased. Second, FC rates for adjustable-rate mortg. (ARMs) have increased, esp. for sub-prime ARMs. Finally, high loan-to-value originations, coupled with stagnant or falling home prices, have left many people with insufficient equity to sell or to refinance their homes. Here is a dissection of the current FC surge. Discusses why the FC situation is likely to get worse over the next 2-3 years & why it is likely to improve afterward. Illus.
