Beat High Gas Prices Now! Diane MacEachern, 2011-05-12 No one ever won a prize for spending the most money possible on gas. Our goal should be to spend the least amount of money, and use the least amount of fuel, to cover the distance we want to go, states MacEachern. If you're looking for ways to spend less money on gas but still get where you want to go, this handy guidebook offers dozens of easy-to-follow tips to help you beat the pump. Here's what you'll find inside: * How to make gas go farther when you drive to work or go shopping * Information to help you choose a new car if you want to trade in your current gas guzzler for a gas stretcher * Ways to use the Internet to find the cheapest gas in your neighborhood * What credit cards give you money back when you buy gas * How smart driving can save you $50 every month at the pump * How to get a $2,000 tax deduction when you buy a gas-saving hybrid vehicle * A fuel cost calculator so you can see exactly how much money you're spending on gas PLUS: Specific tips to help you save $20, $30, $40 and even $50 a month at the pump.

High Diesel Fuel Prices United States Senate, Committee on Energy and Natural Resources (senate), United States. Congress, 2019-09-04 High diesel fuel prices: hearing before the Committee on Energy and Natural Resources, United States Senate, One Hundred Tenth Congress, second session, to examine why diesel fuel prices have been so high and what can be done to address the situation, September 23, 2008.

Gas Saving Devices Montuk Atrib, 2021 There are plenty of products on the market for consumers to choose from. Most of the time they evolve based on the needs of society. When there is a trend taking place then you will see many different products emerge that can meet the new need people have. Some of them have been around for many years but people just don't notice them. They aren't recognized until there is a significant need for them. Older products may change how they advertise and even change the name of the product in order to get a facelift in the public eye. It is no secret to anyone that gas prices have continued to rise to unbelievable prices over the past couple of years. While there has been a steady increase all along, nothing has taken place like it has in the past six months. It seems like the prices at the pumps are increasing every couple of days. That has many consumers scared to death and scrambling for a solution. They aren't making more money but continue to have more expenses to cover. The more you drive your vehicle the more you are affected by these increasing fuel prices. It can be a very scary time if you already have a thin budget to work with. It may only be by a few cents but that quickly adds up to too much per gallon. The fact that the prices tend to go up every week isn't helping. In the end you are likely paying more money when you fill up than ever before. This has also led to an increase in the cost of everything else. That is because it is taking more money for suppliers to get it delivered. All of that price increase is being passed on to the consumer. Trucking companies have to pay more for fuel to get supplies to lumber yards, groceries and supplies to stores, and even to transport fuel to the gas stations. They can't stay in business if they don't increase what they charge for such deliveries. As a result the places they are delivering materials to have to increase what they charge in order to make a profit. This is a continuous cycle with the final consumer getting the short end of the stick. This has resulted in people traveling less and buying fewer items that aren't essential. With very little chance that gas prices are going to drop, people are looking for alternatives. That is why business entrepreneurs are offering a variety of gas saving devices. The controversy though is that some people believe they work while others are convinced they are nothing more than a scam. There are hundreds of such products out there available and that is appealing to consumers. They are tired of paying high amounts for gas and they are willing to do all they can in order to find a way out of it. Advertisers of such products know this and they continue to appeal to the emotions of these consumers in order to sell more of their products. Before you buy one of them you need to do your homework. You need to find out what other consumers have to say about it. You definitely don't want to waste your time or money on something that isn't going to be effective. There is no reason to hand over the cash until you know you are getting a legitimate product with a high level of credibility behind it. The Federal Trade Commission has issued several warnings about the use of gas saving devices. Therefore it is very important for you to be sure you know what you are paying for. If it sounds too good to be true than more than likely it is. Don't find out after you have paid for the product. The Federal Trade Commission has tested more than 100 products on the market that claim a person can save 20% or more on their gas expenses. However, this agency wasn't able to verify any of these products could offer those results or any significant benefit at all. You may be familiar with particular fuel saving products that have been advertised. They all fall into particular categories depending on how you use them and what methods they incorporate. Keep reading to find out reliable information on each of these categories.

How to Find and Buy a Profitable Gas Station Shabbir Hossain, 2012-11 Since the economic meltdown in 2008, we not only witnessed the collapse of housing market, but also the wave of small businesses that closed their doors for ever. Look back in your city, and I am sure you can identify many empty homes along with many small businesses such as restaurants, gift shops, clothing stores that are no longer there. Now let's look again and see how many gas stations or convenience stores closed during the same period? Probably none. Instead you may notice there are newer stations are being built. Why is that? The answer is simple, it is a recession proof business. Regardless if you have a job or not, have a home or not, you still need gasoline for your car, milk for the kids, or cigarette, beer, soft drinks.. The neighborhood store is filled with your everyday needs. In this book we look deep inside and learn how and why this business model works and what is the best and economical way to get into this business. How to Find and Buy A Profitable Gas Station Business helps beginners and more seasoned business people understand how to be successful with gas station ownership. Across the United States, gas station businesses and convenience stores are proving decidedly profitable, even recession proof. As this book demonstrates, gas station businesses are easy to set up and manage. Following a few simple tips outlined in this book, it is possible for even first-time business owners to enjoy the benefits of a profitable, easy-to-manage business.

Fill 'er Up Jim Draeger, Mark Speltz, 2012-12-01 Step back to the day when a visit to the gas station meant service with a smile, a wash of the windshield, and the cheerful question, Fill 'er up? Since their unremarkable beginnings as cheap shacks and curbside pumps at the dawn of the automobile age, gas stations have taken many forms and worn many guises: castles, cottages and teepees, Art Deco and Streamline Moderne, clad with wood, stucco, or gleaming porcelain in seemingly infinite variety. The companion volume to the Wisconsin Public Television documentary of the same name, Fill 'er Up: The Glory Days of Wisconsin Gas Stations visits 60 Wisconsin gas stations that are still standing today and chronicles the history of these humble yet ubiquitous buildings. The book tells the larger story of the gas station's place in automobile culture and its evolution in tandem with American history, as well as the stories of the individuals influenced by the gas stations in their lives. Fill 'er Up provides a glimpse into the glory days of gas stations, when full service and free oil changes were the rule and the local station was a gathering place for neighbors. More importantly, Fill 'er Up links the past and the present, showing why gas stations should be preserved and envisioning what place these historic structures can have in the 21st century and beyond.

Hypermiling Mitch Burns, If you aren't familiar with hypermiling you should look into what it is all about. Chances are you will be hearing that term floating around quite a bit. It is a way for you to be able to cut back on the amount of fuel you consume. Since most of us rely upon our vehicle to get us around we need to make it go further with less fuel being consumed. You may be thinking that you are already doing all you can to cut costs. You are watching the prices at the pumps and you are cutting back on when and where you drive. You may be frustrated about all of it as well. This is because it simply isn't always possible to cut down on the amount that you use your vehicle. You can't change how far it is to your place of employment due to gas prices. Getting another job closer may not be possible. At the same time you may really like the job you have. There is also the pay to consider as a new job may start you out at less than you make right now. With the economy being as low as it is right now, the job market is difficult as well. It is understandable that you may be worried about a lay off or not being needed at a particular job site. If you have been at one place for a while there is some job security in that. You also have your other commitments such as getting kids to school, grocery shopping, and running errands. While you can arrange things to flow better you still won't be able to completely cut these needs out of your schedule. It just isn't realistic to expect anyone to blow off all of the other things going on in their life because they can't pay for the high cost of fuel. If you still want to be able to enjoy those things then pay attention to the various hypermiling methods. They can really help you even if you aren't sure at this time. Gas is going to be consumed no matter where you go and what you do. If you take your vehicle there it will be an additional expense to consider. Carpooling isn't always a practical solution either when you have so many things going on. People tend to overextend themselves so having your own car is often necessary in order to be able to successfully get it all done. If you have a work schedule that varies it is even harder to carpool. Try to do it if possible though even a couple of days per week. With the outlook for the economy being quite grim right now, consumers are at the mercy of oil prices when the approach the pumps. Since the government isn't able to offer us the relief we need it is up to each of us to do something. You can sit around and complain about how much you pay per gallon for gas or you can be more efficient. The government has made some efforts though by offering information about hypermiling on various websites. It is a good idea to take a look at that information so you can see for yourself that it is substantial material. In many ways this is a service the government is offering to help the average person be able to get by in light of the increases in prices. Once you finish reading this you will have plenty of information about hypermiling. You will be able to implement a strategy that works so you can get the most out of it. This way you can make your car go further with less gas. That means more money in your pocket instead of being placed in order for you to get around. You should be able to start implementing many of them in very little time at all. Make sure you review the list of hypermiling strategies on a regular basis though. If you aren't effectively practicing certain ones you may end up forgetting about them. Should that happen you won't be able to get as much savings as you could.
