Faith-Based Marketing Bob Hutchins, Greg Stielstra, 2009-04-06 Most businesses don't have a good understanding of the faith community and how to market to this huge audience in effective, culturally sensitive ways. Many attempts to market to Christians have backfired, because the marketers had little understanding of Christians' values, taboos, and hot buttons. Yet the size of the opportunity is enormous. Faith-Based Marketing provides everything business leaders need to understand 140 million Christian consumers and effectively reach them. It explains who Christians are, what they want, and provides traditional, new media, and word-of-mouth strategies to communicate with and engage them and their churches. The book also includes a valuable directory of top Christian organizations, churches, and events, to help marketers and business leaders find out whom to contact and how. The book includes a free subscription to a companion website with bonus content.

Business as Mission C. Neal Johnson, 2011-10-10
Business as mission (BAM) is a mission strategy whose time has come. As global economics become increasingly interconnected, Christian business people and entrepreneurs have unanticipated opportunities to build kingdom-strategic business ventures. But Christian companies and business leaders do not automatically accomplish missional purposes. BAM requires mastery of both the world of business and the world of missions, merging and contextualizing both into something significantly different than either alone. C. Neal Johnson offers the first comprehensive guide to business as mission for practitioners. He provides conceptual foundations for understanding BAM's unique place in global mission and prerequisites for engaging in it. Then he offers practical resources for how to do BAM, including strategic planning and step-by-step operational implementation. Drawing on a wide variety of BAM models, Johnson works through details of both mission and business realities, with an eye to such issues as management, sustainability and accountability. Business as mission is a movement with enormous potential. This book breaks new ground in how faith and work intersect and are lived out in crosscultural contexts, where job creation and community transformation go hand in hand. Come, participate in what may well be one of the most strategic mission paradigms of the 21st century.

Business by the Book Larry Burkett, 1998 The complete guide to biblical principles for businessmen and women.

Strategic Plan for Ministry Buck Jacobs, 2003 Christian business leaders often struggle to meaningfully live out their faith in the marketplace. Our culture, permeated by the sacred-secular divide, separates the worlds of business and faith. And yet, we know that God never called a part-time disciple. He will hold us accountable for all He has given us, including our businesses. A veteran of the marketplace ministry movement, in the 1970s, Buck Jacobs served as a senior leader in the S.H. Mack Company. The company had a faith-integrated mission, and Buck's experiences there caused him to realize the powerful opportunity business leaders have to effect life change through their businesses. He devoted the rest of his career to equipping Christian CEOs and business owners to live Christ-centered, integrated, and fruitful lives. In A Strategic Plan for Ministry, Buck outlines his signature methodology for accelerating eternal impact in the marketplace. Applying the disciplines of strategic planning, Buck guides us to develop a robust ministry plan within our businesses. Each chapter guides readers from biblical and business concepts to practical implementation. Buck presented these concepts in a workshop format for years, helping thousands of CEOs and business owners increase their ministry impact. Now available in book form, the exercises contained in this guide will help a new generation of business leaders develop their own strategic plans for ministry. May this revised and updated edition lead to life transformation in and through everyday businesses all around the world.

Believers in Business Laura L. Nash, 1994 In this study of over 65 CEOs and top executives, author Laura Nash probes how Christian business managers integrate faith with a successful life at work. Through her interviews with business leaders, Nash discovers that religion can play a vital part in business leadership by helping establish ethical standards and guide everyday business decisions.

Technics and Civilization Lewis Mumford, 2010-10-30 Technics and Civilization first presented its compelling history of the machine and critical study of its effects on civilization in 1934—before television, the personal computer, and the Internet even appeared on our periphery.

Drawing upon art, science, philosophy, and the history of culture, Lewis Mumford explained the origin of the machine age and traced its social results, asserting that the development of modern technology had its roots in the Middle Ages rather than the Industrial Revolution. Mumford sagely argued that it was the moral, economic, and political choices we made, not the machines that we used, that determined our then industrially driven economy. Equal parts powerful history and polemic criticism, Technics and Civilization was the first comprehensive attempt in English to portray the development of the machine age over the last thousand years—and to predict the pull the technological still holds over us today. “The questions posed in the first paragraph of Technics and Civilization still deserve our attention, nearly three quarters of a century after they were written.”—Journal of Technology and Culture

National Electrical Code 2011 Handbook National Fire Protection Association, 2010-11 The National Electrical Code 2011 Handbook provides the full text of the updated code regulations alongside expert commentary from code specialists, offering code rationale, clarifications for new and updated rules, and practical, real-world advice on how to apply the code.

Proceedings of the 52nd Congress of the International Society for Applied Ethology Michael Cockram, Tarjei Tennessen, Luis Bate, Renee Bergeron, Sylvie Cloutier, Andrew Fisher, Maria Hötzel, 2023-11-20 The main theme of the Congress, 'Ethology for Health and Welfare', was chosen to reflect the prominence that applied ethology has in the field of animal welfare and to encourage the development of applied ethology in studies to promote animal health. The location of this year's Congress within the Atlantic Veterinary College at the University of Prince Edward Island has provided the focus on veterinary aspects of ethology and welfare. Applied ethology continues to develop and expand, and we have showcased recent developments in play behaviour and other key topics.
