DISC Dunning Kruger Effect ESOP Empty Suit Featherbedding Gold Bricking If you were unable to answer one or more of these, then this book is for you. A handbook all managers should carry for reference. - Kedar Imagine that you are sitting in a team meeting and the boss spits out an acronym or term you never heard of and directs a question at you. So that you are never caught unawares in a team meeting, and can confidently answer any question your boss throws at you. And have the pleasure of seeing the confused and envious looks of your colleagues who couldn't figure out what the acronyms/jargon meant. It constitutes a semantic barrier in communication. Selling to Hospitals and Healthcare Organizations Thomas J. Williams, Heather L. Williams, 2016-05-31 This Glossary is designed as an easy-to-use reference. In Part 1 users will find Business and Clinical words that are commonly used within medicine, insurance, finance, supply chain and clinical research defined within the context of the hospital and their related entities. Also included is a detailed listing of medical specialties. Part 2 contains a Healthcare Personnel Glossary that describes the most common titles of hospital personnel along with a brief overview of their job. It is not an all-inclusive healthcare personnel dictionary because titles, roles and responsibilities often differ between hospitals of various sizes and within healthcare systems. In addition, there are differences in titles between community hospitals and teaching hospitals. The latter includes teaching titles and research titles which we deliberately did not add to this missive. Instead, we have provided the most common listing of job titles of personnel working within hospitals and associated healthcare entities. Because physician practices are being purchased by hospitals we did include those. There are Four Appendices to assist the reader. Appendix 1 describes the most frequently used Acronyms and Medical Industry Abbreviations. Appendix 2 provides a short list of Anatomical Terms. Appendix 3 lists several Healthcare Agencies and Organizations that sellers may encounter in their discussions with healthcare personnel. Appendix 4 is a brief list of Prescription Terms.
