Nuclear Energy United States. Interagency Task Force on Nuclear Energy,1974 The Nuclear Task Force was established on April 5, 1974 at the request of the Federal Energy Office (FEO) to provide information to Project Independence Blueprint regarding the contribution nuclear power could make in the supply of future energy resources. In its deliberations and with FEO guidelines, the task force developed four objectives to guide its efforts. These were to: 1. Predict the growth potential of nuclear generated electric power by 1977, 1980, 1985, and 1990 assuming a consistent level of development based on current plans and policies, and, the prospect for increased growth assuming an accelerated level of development; 2. Identify and examine the key constraints on the Nation's ability to provide major increases in the numbers of nuclear power plants and adequate fuel supplies for those plants; 3. Identify actions needed to achieve the different levels of nuclear power production, and assess the likelihood of achieving these levels; 4. Identify and assess the environmental effects of such increased use of nuclear power.
