Faith in the City David Gordon Vanderstel, 2012-05-01 This is a story that must be told! It is an essential resource for anyone who wants to understand the interplay of faith and culture in America and will remain important for all those who come after.

Rev. Dr. Dick Hamm, Former General Minister and President of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in the US and Canada and Executive Director of Christian Churches Together (CCT) This book makes an important contribution to the understanding of how the role of faith has contributed to the creation of Indianapolis becoming an “All American City.”

Mr. P. E. MacAllister, MacAllister Machinery This historical book helps shed the light on the wonderful state of Indiana. It is well done and a magnificent tribute to the work of the Lord.

Mrs. Maria Pimentel-Gannon, President of the Board The Church Federation of Greater

IndianapolisHow blessed we are to have the Church Federation for the last 100 years. This Centennial faith history is both inclusive and inspirational.Rev. Dr.T. Garrott Benjamin Jr, Senior Pastor and Resident Bishop, Light of the World Christian ChurchThe centennial history demonstrates that the Federation is a dynamic, still-growing association which has never embraced such a broad fellowship of church communities or such a multi-faceted mission as it does today.Dr. Paul Valliere, McGregor Professor in the Humanities, Butler UniversityGod's desire is that His children love one another, unify and become one. As we celebrate the Centennial of The Church Federation of Greater Indianapolis, we congratulate and thank you for your work. tells the story of Trinity Episcopal Church, Indianapolis, and how it grew from an underfunded, struggling, neighborhood church for wealthy suburbanites of a growing Midwest city to a well-funded, dynamic, inner city church important to The Episcopal Church at the diocese and national levels and a thriving center for urban ministry. To put the story of Trinity into context, the stories of the state of Indiana, the city of Indianapolis, and the church are woven together. Part One of this book tells how the state of Indiana and the city of Indianapolis came to be and how The Episcopal Church arose there in those early years. Part Two deals with Trinity in its original incarnation as the Church of the Advent and with Indianapolis during that time. Parts Three through Five tell the story of Trinity from the time of the creation of its existing English Gothic church building to its hundredth year. Appendices include a glossary of Episcopal terms, a piece written by a noted parishioner about her involvement in the concept, design, and construction in the existing church building that was predicted to stand for 2,000 years, a list of the bishops of Indiana and Indianapolis and the rectors and senior wardens of Trinity, and a list of maps and illustrations.

Hoosier Faiths L. C. Rudolph, 1995 Presents the history of religion in Indiana, surveying the history of more than 50 denominations and religious groups in Indiana from pioneer days. This book includes sections on Jews, Muslims, Shakers, Rappites, Mennonites, Pentecostals, Mormons, Adventists, Jehovah's Witnesses and others, who contributed to Indiana's religious heritage.

Miracle on 86th Street E. Carver McGriff, 2004 It was only a country road with no idea of its destiny as a major thoroughfare running through the heart of Indianapolis. They were simply hardworking men and women looking for a new place to live out their faith. In the midst of the cornfields and woodlands a miracle was destined to take place. Because of their vision to see into the future, their passion to create for their families a new church in that wild land, and their tremendous faith to trust where God would lead, a miracle took place on what would eventually be known as 86th Street in Indianapolis, Indiana. That miracle is called St. Luke's United Methodist Church. A church building alone, however, is no miracle. The miracle of St. Luke's began with those founding members whose pioneering spirit, incredible passion and inspired vision continued for over fifty years. St. Luke's has experienced unprecedented growth, and its impact has been felt throughout the world. By embracing the St. Luke's mission statement to be An open community of Christians gathering to seek, celebrate, live and share the love of God for all creation, the people of St. Luke's have been able to live out the church's vision statement as well: To transform our world into a compassionate, inclusive and Christ-like community. Policies written on paper don't accomplish these things. People of faith, vision and passion accomplish these things. The stories of those people are recounted in these pages; to read these stories is to intimately understand how St. Luke's came to be one of the premiere United Methodist Churches in the country. There is no one better situated to tell that story than Dr. Carver McGriff. Carver served as St. Luke's senior pastor for 26 years - a length of time virtually unheard of in the Methodist church. Carver offers insights into the early history of St. Luke's, delves deeply into his own time, and brings us to the current life of St. Luke's. Carver's journey and the St. Luke's journey are inextricably linked. The story will appeal to St. Luke's members new and old as they relive favorite memories and learn about the behind-the-scenes workings of their church. Carver's open discussion of pastoral issues will be of interest to ministers as well, providing insight and letting pastors know that they are not alone in their struggles and joys. It is ultimately a story for anyone interested in how a community - through turmoil, joy, disagreement, change and celebration - created and continues to create miracles.

of the Lilly Endowment's Project on Religion and Urban Culture conducted by the Polis Center at IUPUI -- aims to understand religion's changing role in public life. The book examines the shaping of religious traditions by the changing city. It sheds light on issues such as social capital and faith-based welfare reform and explores the countervailing pressures of decentering -- the creation of multiple (sub)urban centers -- and civil religion's role in binding these centers into one metropolis. The Story of Eastern Star Church Diana Etindi, 2005-01-01 In 1920, in the midst of segregation, racism and statewide KKK influence, a small group of African Americans met in a home in Indianapolis, Indiana and started a mission. Under the leadership of an experienced local pastor, the mission became a church and grew to be a welcome entity within the community. This year (2005) marks its 85th anniversary, and the church has grown from 12 original members to a congregation of over 10,000 that meets in three different locations within the city. The Story of Eastern Star Church shares the history of this body of believers -- much of it in the words of senior saints who have been members of the church for over 50 years. This book offers a glimpse into the lives of the people and the pastors, and provides insight into its growth.

Through this story, we acknowledge the truth of Psalm 127:1

Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it...

Eastern Star Church is truly a house of worship that God has built.

Great is Thy Faithfulness Andrea Neal, Jason S. Lantzer, 2020

In the fall of 1821 Reverend William Cravens came to the new community of Indianapolis to minister to those of the Methodist faith. That first church in the city of Indianapolis in 1821 was known as Wesley Chapel. The congregation first met in Isaac Wilson's log cabin on the Capitol Square grounds and was served by itinerant preachers. In 1825 a log cabin on Maryland at Meridian Street was purchased and enlarged to seat 200 people. It continued to be served by circuit riders. From 1829 to 1846, the congregation met in a small brick building on the Circle at Meridian Street. In 1846 the Wesley Chapel was torn down and a new church was built on the same site at a cost of $10,000; it housed the congregation during the Civil War and until 1869. After the war, the congregation decided to build the most beautiful church in the city. They moved to New York and Meridian Streets and built an ornate Gothic structure with tall, slender spires for $100,000. This building served the congregation until a fire in 1904 burned it beyond repair. It was during this time that Wesley Chapel was renamed Meridian Street Episcopal Church--
