A Journey through Philosophy in 101 Anecdotes Nicholas Rescher,2015-06-04 Nicholas Rescher presents the first comprehensive chronology of philosophical anecdotes, spanning from antiquity to the current era. He introduces us to the major thinkers, texts, and historical periods of Western philosophy, recounting many of the stories philosophers have used over time to engage with issues of philosophical concern: questions of meaning, truth, knowledge, value, action, and ethics. Rescher's anecdotes touch on a wide range of themes—from logic to epistemology, ethics to metaphysics—and offer much insight into the breadth and depth of philosophical inquiry. This book illustrates the various ways philosophers throughout history have viewed the issues in their field, and how anecdotes can work to inform and encourage philosophical thought.

Jim Greene Jr's Journey Elde James R Greene Jr,James Greene,2018-06-05 I was born in New Jersey, in a little city called Burlington. In fact, I was not born in a hospital but in my grandmother's house on St. Mary's Street. Back then many babies were born with family around with sheets, water, etc., Transportation to a hospital was not a first priority, most people had large families and no cars. It was not unusual for a doctor to make home deliveries day or night. My mother was visiting her family, after all there were always three or four girls at home supporting. My grandmother, (who had raised 18 of her own children and 13 were girls) my mother was the number six girl. We lived on Green Street, just around the corner from grandma's house. I learned so much early in life just trying to be like my dad. My dad to me, could do anything. Growing up to me was a very slow process, because my dad would make sure we did not hurry through life, but at the same time learn well and remember our place, learning under his rules. This was great for me because my dad wanted to make sure we heard him well and have fun in everything. He really made sure I was a good and complete child. He reminded me that I should always be ready to teach my brothers and sisters the right way to do things, no shortcuts at all. If it required a team effort, I should and would know it way ahead of time. Jim Greene, Jr's Journey or 101 than I'm done. Volume 1 is about Home & Honoring Parents. From my youth, a personal journey through my life, completing with civilization, military, and my Lord God Almighty. Elder James R. Greene, Jr.

A Journey in Faith Parenthood 101 David Hill,2014-02-18 PRAYING BEFORE I go to sleep at night has been a habit since childhood. The night I thought of writing this book I prayed, “God help me have good dreams and good thoughts as I sleep tonight.” That is a prayer I have prayed ever since I was a child growing up. During the night I started thinking of ways we should raise our children, and how they need to be prepared for life. I told myself, “I should write a book about this: ways to raise a successful child.” I was afraid I would forget this idea by morning, so I arose at 3:00 AM and went to the kitchen to start writing down my ideas. I began to consider just what would be my definition of a “successful” child or adult. I realized that it depends on whose point of view we are coming from. The world defines success quite differently from God. The world would say it is to be rich and famous. However, since we are made in the image of God, it seems only logical that we should be a reflection of Him in our daily lives.
