The Disruptive Impact of FinTech on Retirement Systems Julie Agnew, Olivia S. Mitchell, 2019-08-22 Many people need help planning for retirement, saving, investing, and decumulating their assets, yet financial advice is often complex, potentially conflicted, and expensive. The advent of computerized financial advice offers huge promise to make accessible a more coherent approach to financial management, one that takes into account not only clients' financial assets but also human capital, home values, and retirement pensions. Robo-advisors, or automated on-line services that use computer algorithms to provide financial advice and manage customers' investment portfolios, have the potential to transform retirement systems and peoples' approach to retirement planning. This volume offers cutting-edge research and recommendations regarding the impact of financial technology, or FinTech, to disrupt retirement planning and retirement system design.

Renaissance Hombre Scott W. Petersen, 2020-09-18 Scott Petersen started out in the attic of a Chicago bungalow on the city's Northwest Side. He was a latchkey kid who squeaked into college because he was an Eagle Scout. From there he went on to a successful law career and a life rich with avocations and adventures. Out of that experience came Renaissance Hombre. What started as a blog is now a book as well-rounded as his life. It's a recipe guide. A reading list. A collection of quotes (and jokes). A cultural notebook. A source of arcane information and profound inspiration. This is a reflection on a life well-spent– and a touching reflection on life itself.

Ships for All Nations Ian Johnston, 2015-10-30 “A worthy tribute to the John Brown company and to British shipbuilding . . . a joy to enthusiasts of the great ships of the past.”—Australian Naval Institute The Clydebank shipyard built some of the most famous vessels in maritime history—great transatlantic liners like Lusitania, Queen Mary and QE2, and iconic warships like the battlecruiser Hood, and Britain's last battleship, HMS Vanguard. Starting life as J & G Thomson in 1847, the business acquired its more famous persona when taken over in 1899 by the Sheffield-based steelmaker John Brown & Co, which enhanced the yard's existing reputation for turning out first-class products, both naval and mercantile. This book charts the fortunes of the company in terms of its business development, its management and personnel, as well as the great variety of ships it built during the century and a quarter of its existence. It also tells a wider story of the rise to world domination of the British shipbuilding industry and its eventual decline and collapse in the post-war decades, as reflected in the experience of John

Brown. Written by an acknowledged authority on Clydeside shipbuilding, the book was originally published in a limited edition in 2000, but this reprint is entirely new and revised, although it retains all the original photographs from the yard's own unrivaled collection. "Essential to anyone's maritime collection."—Sea Breezes "The profusely illustrated, beautifully produced and very detailed story of John Brown & Company."—Army Rumour Service
