Holding Space Ryan Pfluger,2022-11-08 Featuring 100 stunning color photographs of queer, interracial couples taken by a renowned photographer for the New York Times Magazine, Time, Rolling Stone, and more, this incredible photo and story collection depicts modern love and relationships in all their joy, vulnerability, and affection. Throughout 2020 and 2021, during a time of intense personal and political upheaval, artist, advocate, and photographer Ryan Pfluger set out to capture intimate images of queer, interracial couples, along with personal insight into their relationships in today's world. Featured together for the first time in Holding Space, this unique collection of modern love in its many forms across the spectrum of race, sexuality, and gender identity and gives space to these couples to share short, revealing stories about their relationships. The photos in this collection, and the people in them, can be startling in their openness, playful in their poses, and tender to their core. Pfluger has captured the magic, honesty, and beauty of love in today's queer culture. With a Foreword by Janicza Bravo and an essay by Brandon Kyle Goodman

Love Through a Lens Mattie Scott,2015-10-17 Love Through a Lens is a look at love through various forms. These stories are captured through different voices, filtered through a lens of creative storytelling.

Found, Not Lost Elliot Erwitt,2021-06 This book has been an opportunity for Erwitt to revisit the photographs he made in his early career and to uncover meaning upon second glance which was not apparent when the image was originally taken. The master of visual one-liners--bold statement images replete with humour, irony and acknowledged absurdity--the photographs selected for this book are quieter, more subtle and suggest Erwitt's increasing confidence in his own eye. By selecting these photographs he has begun to both examine and challenge how his younger self saw the world.

The Lens of Love Wei Wei Chang,2020-10-23 You are not content because of what you do. You are content because of how you see God, yourself, and others. Are you living a life of fear, dissatisfaction, and insignificance despite your efforts to do all the right things? Do you view your world through lenses tainted by emotional scars from your past? Chances are you're seeing God, yourself, and others through clouded lenses. An event that culturally positioned Wei Wei Chang as an epic failure became the catalyst for her eventual escape from corporate America. It led her to discover a whole new world of clear-sighted love. From Xinjiang's villages to the Himalayan mountains, Hong Kong, and Arizona, Chang takes us on her journey of discovery, sharing her methods of lens diagnosis and seven keys to vision correction. Get ready to discover how to: Reconnect with God so you can experience fulfillment. Identify and remove the tainted lenses that sabotage your joy and peace. Reframe your world so that you can live free of fear and judgment. Start your journey to deepen intimacy, discover contentment, and acquire a fresh vision of God, yourself, and others today!

Love Behind the Lens Karen Pierson,2014-08-04

Janelle Lynch: Another Way of Looking at Love ,2018-09-25 In 'Another Way of Looking at Love', the landscape is explored as a metaphor to consider the personal, societal, and environmental consequences of disconnection, and simultaneously, our yearning to be connected. From 2015-2018, Janelle Lynch (born 1969) has used an 8 x 10 camera to create still lives in the landscape that combine similar and disparate visual and biological elements. This process begins by identifying details in nature that, based on a unique vantage point, created geometric formations of closure. The connective point, or nucleus, that is created by the union becomes the artist's plane of focus. The work is informed by Lynch's recent immersion in drawing and painting from perception, primarily by charcoal mark-making—a new aspect of her practice that has allowed for a deeper inquiry into the nature of seeing, such as: formal abstraction, color relativity, and the notion of relationality.

An Imperfect Lens Anne Roiphe,2007-12-18 Acclaimed author Anne Roiphe evokes the sights and sounds of 1880s Alexandria, Egypt, a bustling center of trade and travel. From teeming docks to overflowing market stalls, from grand homes to grimy narrow alleyways, cholera microbes rise and bob in streams of water and tiny droplets, clinging to moisture as man clings to air. With a keen mind and dedication to his work, young Louis Thuillier has impressed his mentor—famed scientist Louis Pasteur—enough to be sent to Alexandria as one-third of the French mission searching for the source of the cholera that is terrorizing the city. Along with the other members of the French mission—scientists Emile Roux and Edmond Nocard and their enterprising servant Marcus—Louis longs to find the cure, bringing glory to himself and to France. Este Malina is the lovely daughter of a respected Jewish doctor, whose family has lived in Alexandria for hundreds of years. A life of comfort has made Este a romantic, and she hopes to marry a man with the heart of a poet. Neither expects to find a soul mate in the other, but when Este begins to assist at the French mission's lab, a deep bond forms.

Este, though, is engaged to another, and Louis is not Jewish—her family would never allow them to marry. In spite of their many differences, the lovers' desire grows and their fantasies threaten to distract them from their work. In Alexandria, the disease rages on, as mysterious as it was a thousand years before. Political intrigue threatens to separate Este and Louis permanently. Their love, as fragile as the glass slides they use in the lab, is in danger before it has had a chance to thrive. With An Imperfect Lens, rich with the sights and scents of a different era, Anne Roiphe once again demonstrates the storytelling power for which she has long been hailed.

Promises and Agreements Hanoeh Sheinman, 2011-03-17 Comprising 16 original contributions, this is the first collection of philosophical papers on promises and agreements, topics which are enjoying a renaissance in social, moral and legal philosophy.

From Anxiety to Love Corinne Zupko, 2018-01-18 Get Ready for Unstoppable Inner Peace Author Corinne Zupko undertook her study of psychology out of necessity when debilitating anxiety threatened to derail her life. Seeking ways to do more than temporarily alleviate her symptoms, Corinne began to study A Course in Miracles (ACIM), mindfulness meditation, and the latest therapeutic approaches for treating anxiety. In From Anxiety to Love, she shares what she learned and gently guides you through the process, helping you undo anxiety-based thinking and fostering mindful shifts in your thoughts and actions. Whether struggling with everyday stress or near-crippling discomfort, you will find that Corinne's approach offers a new way of healing from — rather than just coping with — fear and anxiety.

Through the Lens of Love Robin Gross, 2020-03-15 Through the Lens of Love: Facing Terminal Illness is foremost a love story which takes you on an amazing journey. It begins with a photography trip to Monet's Garden in France and ends with an emotional reunion in Callaway Gardens, Georgia.

Leave the Porch Light On Dr. Daisy Nelson-Century, 2022-12-20 Leave the Porch Light On is a collection of conversational love poems from a male and female point of view. It is design to make you swoon, slow dance, remember, smile, daydream, plan, and activate. "If you're lucky enough to experience the joy of being in love, consider yourself fortunate, not everyone knows what it Feels like to be blissfully smitten." Karla Pope "Love is life's emotional button." Dr. Daisy Nelson-Century

Love Through a Lens Lucy Felthouse, 2016-03-08 Will rookie camerawoman Celine emerge from her first project with her career and her heart intact? Celine Patterson is a recent graduate eager to begin her career as a camerawoman—with the fashion world and all its glitz and glamour calling to her. Things aren't that simple, however, and she's forced to take a job making a documentary in the Peak District countryside with a mid-list British actor. In spite of her initial disappointment—not only is the job not what she wanted, the pay is appalling, too—Celine warms to the project. The actor she's working with, Edward Robson, is kind, considerate, funny and a consummate professional. She realizes she can learn a great deal from him, and resolves to do so. As the days of the shoot pass by, Celine grows increasingly fond of Edward, and that fondness quickly goes beyond the platonic. Convinced her crush is completely one-sided—he's over three decades her senior, for starters—she tries hard to ignore it, hoping the feelings will go away. But then something happens to change Celine's opinion, and flip her world upside-down. How will she react? And can she emerge from this project with both her career and her heart intact? Note: Love Through a Lens has been previously released as part of the Sweet Sensations boxed set.

Love's Shadow Paul A. Bové, 2021-01-12 A case for literary critics and other humanists to stop wallowing in their aestheticized helplessness and instead turn to poetry, comedy, and love. Literary criticism is an agent of despair, and its poster child is Walter Benjamin. Critics have spent decades stewing in his melancholy. What if instead we dared to love poetry? To choose comedy over Hamlet's tragedy, romance over Benjamin's suicide on the edge of France, of Europe, of civilization? Paul Bové challenges young lit critters to throw away their shades and let the sun shine in. Love's Shadow is his three-step manifesto for a new literary criticism that risks sentimentality and melodrama and eschews self-consciousness. The first step is to choose poetry. There has been since the time of Plato a battle between philosophy and poetry. Philosophy has championed misogyny, while poetry has championed women, like Shakespeare's Rosalind. Philosophy is ever so stringent; try instead the sober cheerfulness of Wallace Stevens. Bové's second step is to choose the essay. He praises Benjamin's great friend and sometime antagonist Theodor Adorno, who gloried in the writing of essays, not dissertations and treatises. The third step is to choose love. If you want a Baroque hero, make it Rembrandt, who brought lovers to life in his paintings. Putting aside passivity and cynicism would amount to a revolution in literary studies. Bové seeks nothing less, and he has a program for achieving it.
