The Map Corner Arnold B. Cheyney, Donald L. Capone, 1983 This is not just another 'trace the state and find the capital' book. Instead, The Map Corner offers 72 imaginative activities to help students in grades 4-8 become more familiar with their world, and to make sense of global current events. This book's primary purpose is to develop students' ability to locate positions on the earth by using a variety of references.

Detailed Stratigraphic, Structural and Three-dimensional Mapping of the Basal Surface of the Paleoproterozoic Bravo Lake Formation, Nadluardjuk Lake Area, Central Baffin Island, Nunavut Eric A. De Kemp, 2002 The basal surface of the Bravo Lake Formation, central Baffin Island, represents a rapid, conformable transition from iron-enriched marine deposition to near-basin margin shallow marine volcanism. This report presents results of detailed structural, stratigraphic, & three-dimensional mapping of this basal surface in an area south-west of Nadluardjuk Lake. It includes information on the general geology of the area, stratigraphy, characteristics of exposed rocks, and structural geology.

Mapping the Americas Shari M. Huhndorf, 2011-02-23 In Mapping the Americas, Shari M. Huhndorf tracks changing conceptions of Native culture as it increasingly transcends national boundaries and takes up vital concerns such as patriarchy, labor and environmental exploitation, the emergence of pan-Native urban communities, global imperialism, and the commodification of indigenous cultures. While nationalism remains a dominant anticolonial strategy in indigenous contexts, Huhndorf examines the ways in which transnational indigenous politics have reshaped Native culture (especially novels, films, photography, and performance) in the United States and Canada since the 1980s. Mapping the Americas thus broadens the political paradigms that have dominated recent critical work in Native studies as well as the geographies that provide its focus, particularly through its engagement with the Arctic. Among the manifestations of these new tendencies in Native culture that Huhndorf presents are Igloodik Isuma Productions, the Inuit company that has produced nearly forty films, including Atanarjuat, The Fast Runner; indigenous feminist playwrights; Leslie Marmon Silko's Almanac of the Dead; and the multimedia artist Shelley Niro. Huhndorf also addresses the neglect of Native America by champions of postnationalist American studies, which shifts attention away from ongoing colonial relationships between the United States and indigenous communities within its borders to U.S. imperial relations overseas. This is a dangerous oversight, Huhndorf argues, because this neglect risks repeating the disavowal of imperialism that the new American studies takes to task. Parallel transnational tendencies in American studies and Native American studies have thus worked at cross-purposes: as pan-tribal alliances draw attention to U.S. internal colonialism and its connections to global imperialism, American studies deflects attention from these ongoing processes of conquest. Mapping the Americas addresses this neglect by considering what happens to American studies when you put Native studies at the center.

Canada Map Skills (eBook) David Fletcher, Sharon Bocklage, 2003-09-01 This book presents supplementary learning experiences which focus on basic geographical concepts and skills. The activities provide practical learning projects, stimulate critical responses, and enhance the understanding of the geography of Canada. Each of the twelve teaching units in the book is introduced by a PowerPoint slide that emphasizes the basic concept of the unit. Student activity pages provide reinforcement and follow-up activities. The teaching guide offers student activity objectives, the teaching focus, suggestions for enrichment projects, and a complete answer key.
