My Baby First Birthday Jenny Zhang, 2020-05-12 A New York Public Library Best Book of 2020 A Best Read of 2020 at Ms. Magazine To read Jenny Zhang is to embrace primal states: pleasure, hunger, longing and rage. —TIME Radiant and tender, My Baby First Birthday is a collection that examines innocence, asking us who gets to be loved and who has to deplete themselves just to survive. Jenny Zhang writes about accepting pain, about the way we fetishize womanhood and motherhood, and reduce women to their violations, traumas, and body parts. She questions the way we feminize and racialize nurturing, and live in service of other people's dreams. How we idealize birth and being baby, how it's only in our mothers' wombs that we're still considered innocent, blameless, and undamaged, because it's only then that we don't have to earn love. Her poems explore the obscenity of patriarchy, whiteness, and capitalism, the violence of rescue and heroism. The magic trick in My Baby First Birthday is that despite all these themes, the book never feels like some jeremiad. Zhang uses friendship as a lyric. She seeks tenderness, radiant beauty, and having love for your mistakes. Through all this, she writes about being alone—really alone, like why-was-I-ever-born alone—and trying, despite everything, to reach out and touch something—skin to skin, animal to animal.

My Baby's First Year Nicole Anidjar,2020-05-22 My baby's first year. With my first baby, I was completely lost. I didn't think I needed to study or get informed because there's no manual on raising a child, right? I became a mother without knowing anything about newborns, the process of childbirth, breastfeeding and other forms of nutrition, or anything else that would come later. I dove into motherhood blindly assuming that everything would turn out fine because nobody really decides to do something believing that it might not go the way they expect. Nicole Anidjar. Better known as Mama Nicole, Dentist, Breastfeeding Specialist, Parenting Consultant and creator of Informed Parenting. A mother and professional with a clear goal: to make mothers enjoy raising their children to the fullest through empowerment and security.
