The Perfect Moka Espresso Bert Boschman, 2018-09-22 You don't need fancy equipment to brew the perfect cup of espresso. This book shows you how to create excellent espressos, cappuccinos and lattes with the Bialetti Brikka moka pot. It's the missing manual for this temperamental little Italian coffee machine. In a sense this moka pot needs to be 'tamed'. Following the instructions in this extensive guide you'll definitely be able to handle this very special stove top coffee pot. The book is also a great introduction into the world of coffee brewing. Whether you're thinking of buying an espresso machine later on or just stick to the moka pot, it will provide you with all the basics to get started. With a Brikka you can experiment and get a sense of what you like in a coffee. Which coffee beans taste good, the effects of various grind sizes or which roasts you prefer... In detail moka pot and coffee lover Bert Boschman shows you how to get optimum results with just a simple machine. Note: The paperback version of the book is in black & white.

New World Situation: New Directions in Concurrent Engineering Jerzy Pokojski, Shuichi Fukuda, Józef Salwiński, 2010-11-02 The proceedings contain papers accepted for the 17th ISPE International Conference on Concurrent Engineering, which was held in Cracow, Poland, September 6-10, 2010. Concurrent Engineering (CE) has a history of over twenty years. At first, primary focus was on bringing downstream information as much upstream as possible, by introducing parallel processing of processes, in order to prevent errors at the later stage which would sometimes cause irrevocable damage and to reduce time to market. During the period of more than twenty years, numerous new concepts, methodologies and tools have been developed. During this period the background for engineering/manufacturing has changed extensively. Now, industry has to work with global markets. The globalization brought forth a new network of experts and companies across many different domains and fields in distributed environments. These collaborations integrated with very high level of professionalism and specialisation, provided the basis for innovations in design and manufacturing and succeeded in creating new products on a global market.

Social Reproduction and History in Melanesia Robert John Foster, 1995-04-27 In much of Melanesia, the process of social reproduction unfolds as a lengthy sequence of mortuary rites - feast making and gift giving through which the living publicly define their social relations with each other while at the same time commemorating the deceased. In this study Robert J. Foster constructs an ethnographic account of mortuary rites in the Tanga Islands, Papua New Guinea, placing these large-scale feasts and ceremonial exchanges in their historical context and demonstrating how the effects of participation in an expanding cash economy have allowed Tangans to conceive of the rites as 'customary' in opposition to the new and foreign practices of 'business'. His examination synthesizes two divergent trends in Melanesian anthropology by emphasizing both the radical differences between Melanesian and Western forms of sociality and the conjunction of Melanesian and Western societies brought about by colonialism and capitalism.
