If Annie survives four days in captivity with terrorists, will she be able to return to the man she loves?

Belabored Professions Xiomara Santamarina, 2006-05-18 According to nineteenth-century racial uplift ideology, African American women served their race best as reformers and activists, or as doers of the word. In Belabored Professions, Xiomara Santamarina examines the autobiographies of four women who diverged from that ideal and defended the legitimacy of their self-supporting wage labor. Santamarina focuses on The Narrative of Sojourner Truth, Eliza Potter's A Hairdresser's Experience in High Life, Harriet Wilson's Our Nig, and Elizabeth Keckley's Behind the Scenes. She argues that beyond black reformers' calls for abolitionist work, these former slaves and freeborn black women wrote about their own overlooked or disparaged work as socially and culturally valuable to the nation. They promoted the status of wage labor as a mark of self-reliance and civic virtue when many viewed African American working women as drudges. As Santamarina demonstrates, these texts offer modern readers new perspectives on the emergence of the vital African American autobiographical tradition, dramatizing the degree to which black working women participated in and shaped American rhetorics of labor, race, and femininity.

Outside Belongings Elspeth Probyn, 2015-12-22 Outside Belongings argues against a psychological depth model of identity--one in which individuals possess an intrinsic quality that guarantees authentic belonging. Instead, Probyn proposes a model of identity that takes into account the desires of individuals, and groups of individuals, to belong. The main ideas she considers--the outside, the surface, and belonging--allow her to articulate, in concrete terms, her precise concerns about sexuality and nationality.

The Portable Nineteenth-Century African American Women Writers Hollis Robbins, Henry Louis Gates, Jr., 2017-07-25 A landmark collection documenting the social, political, and artistic lives of African American women throughout the tumultuous nineteenth century. Named one of NPR's Best Books of 2017. The Portable Nineteenth-Century African American Women Writers is the most comprehensive anthology of its kind: an extraordinary range of voices offering the expressions of African American women in print before, during, and after the Civil War. Edited by Hollis Robbins and Henry Louis Gates, Jr., this collection comprises work from forty-nine writers arranged into sections of memoir, poetry, and essays on feminism, education, and the legacy of African American women writers. Many of these pieces engage with social movements like abolition, women's suffrage, temperance, and civil rights, but the thematic center is the intellect and personal ambition of African American women. The diverse selection includes well-known writers like Sojourner Truth, Hannah Crafts, and Harriet Jacobs, as well as lesser-known writers like Ella Sheppard, who offers a firsthand account of life in the world-famous Fisk Jubilee Singers. Taken together, these incredible works insist that the writing of African American women writers be read, remembered, and addressed. Social Change in Contemporary Britain Nicholas Abercrombie,Alan Warde,1992 This book is a lively and up-to-date account of the major developments in British society over the last twenty-five years. It is an excellent teaching text and ideal companion volume to the highly successful textbook Contemporary British Society. Consisting of nine essays by leading sociologists Social Change in Contemporary Britain examines some of the most important changes which have occurred within the lifetime of most students today. Huw Beynon examines the decline of manufacturing industry and asks whether we are witnessing the end of the industrial worker and union militancy. Rosemary Crompton discusses changes in higher education and considers what effects these have had, if any, on the employment opportunities of women. Simon Frith reviews the development of pop music over the past twenty-five years, from the Beatles to Live Aid, and asks what is new about the music scene of today. The volume also includes Jonathan Gershuny on the changing sexual division of labour; Bob Jessop on Thatcherism and post-Fordism; Liz Stanley on changes in household structure and dynamics; Paul Heelas on new religious movements; and Jock Young on crime and policing from the 1960s to the 1980s. Clearly written and well illustrated, Social Change in Contemporary Britain is suitable for A level sociology courses and first-year introductory sociology courses at universities, colleges and polytechnics.
