

Office Per Minute

Educational Research Information Center (U.S.).

Office in a Minute Diane L. Martin, 2012-08-22 A tutorial for the Microsoft Office novice, designed to take the reader step by step through important yet basic steps in using Microsoft Word, Excel, OneNote and PowerPoint applications. Readers will learn more than 30 different functions per application. These self-paced tutorials also include chapter timings to provide the reader with the estimated time necessary to complete all of the tasks, a feature largely unheard of among conventional how to books.

Word-Processing Technology in Japan Nanette Gottlieb, 2013-09-05 This book deals with a topical issue relating to the use of script in Japan, one which has the potential to reshape future script policy through the mediation of both orthographic practices and social relations. It tells the story of the impact of one of the most significant technological breakthroughs in Japan in the latter part of this century: the invention and rapid adoption of word-processing technology capable of handling Japanese script in a society where the nature of that script had previously mandated handwriting as the norm. The ramifications of this technology in both the business and personal spheres have been wide-ranging, extending from changes to business practices, work profiles, orthography and social attitudes to writing through to Japan's ability to construct a substantial presence on the Internet in recent years.
