Poppy's Purpose Marie Betts Bartlett,2016-09-01 Poppy the PATH train car loved carrying passengers back and forth from New Jersey to New York. When the World Trade Center towers collapsed on top of her on September 11, 2001, Poppy was buried under the rubble- but safe. Still, by the time Poppy opened her doors to people again, her purpose had changed. Now instead of moving people, Poppy gives them a place to pause and appreciate how, even in really hard times, they can find goodness.Marie Betts Bartlett, author and illustrator of The Little Yellow Trolley Car, has captured the true story of a commuter train in a child-friendly book that is colored with warmth, resilience and courage.

Railroads of Hoboken and Jersey City Kenneth French,2002-02-19 With over two hundred historical photographs, Railroads of Hoboken and Jersey City explores the cultural and commercial effects of railway travel in two important New Jersey cities. Because of their unique location directly across the Hudson River from Manhattan, Hoboken and Jersey City have long been centers of transportation activity. When the railway industry was booming in the early twentieth century, four major passenger terminals dotted the left bank of the Hudson from the Jersey Central to the Pennsylvania to the Erie to the Lackawanna. Thousands of people streamed through these terminals every day to the ferries that then took them across the river to New York City. Additionally, tons of freight were brought through the vast train yards along the waterfront. Railroads of Hoboken and Jersey City tells the history of the railroads between the mid-1800s and the 1970s. It also explores how the once vibrant waterfronts of Hoboken and Jersey City went through tremendous decline and how, over time, the waterfront has been restored and redeveloped. New residential and commercial buildings have sprouted along the old Pennsylvania and Erie properties, the Lackawanna Terminal has been restored, and the Central Railroad Terminal is now part of Liberty State Park, one of New Jersey's most popular tourist destinations.

A Station on the Path to Somewhere Better Benjamin Wood,2021-03-09 CWA Gold Dagger Award Finalist: “A slow-burn thriller about a road trip that takes a shocking turn, and the lasting impact of trauma.” –Shelf Awareness (starred review) Shortlisted for the European Union Prize for Literature “His mistakes are my inheritance. The rotten blood he gave me is the blood I will pass on.” For twenty years, Daniel Hardesty, who now goes by a different name, has lived with the emotional scars of a childhood trauma he is powerless to undo. One August morning, young Daniel and his estranged father, Francis—a character of irresistible charm and roiling self-pity—set out on a road trip that seems a promise to salvage their relationship. They have one shared interest: The Artifex—a children’s TV program where Fran works on set—and Daniel has been promised special access to the studio. But with every passing mile, the layers of Fran’s mendacity and desperation are exposed, pushing him to acts of violence that will define the rest of his son’s life. From the author of The Ecliptic, this is a “harrowing and unforgettable” novel about the bond between fathers and sons, and the invention and reconciliation of self-weaving a haunting story of lost innocence and love (Booklist, starred review). “A novel written from the gut, and with a correspondingly visceral power . . . superbly unsettling.” –Sarah Waters, author of The Paying Guests “A novel of expertly woven tension and frightening glimpses into the mind of the deranged other.” –The Guardian “Full of suspense and beautifully written . . . terrifically gripping.” –The Sunday Times

Crossed Paths Rebecca Hart,2018-12-18 People cross our paths every day. It is said that everyone we encounter teaches us something. Do we let them pass by or do we observe? Do we ignore them or allow them to leave an impression? In this book, my stories of everyday encounters are compiled into an inspiring collection. These stories could have happened to you, or anyone. They occur in airports, train stations, stores, restaurants, on the street, and everywhere else people may cross your path. Let these stories inspire you to think differently about the people you cross paths with every day.

The Nature of Code Daniel Shiffman,2024-09-03 All aboard The Coding Train! This beginner-friendly creative coding tutorial is designed to grow your skills in a fun, hands-on way as you build simulations of real-world phenomena with “The Coding Train” YouTube star Daniel Shiffman. How can we use code to capture the unpredictable properties of nature? How can understanding the mathematical principles behind our physical world help us create interesting digital environments? Written by “The Coding Train” YouTube star Daniel Shiffman, The Nature of Code is a beginner-friendly creative coding tutorial that explores a range of programming strategies for developing computer simulations of natural systems—from elementary concepts in math and physics to sophisticated machine-learning algorithms. Using the same enthusiastic style on display in Shiffman’s popular YT channel, this book makes learning to program fun, empowering you to generate fascinating graphical output while refining your problem-solving and algorithmic-thinking skills. You’ll progress from building a basic physics engine that simulates the effects of forces like gravity and wind resistance, to creating evolving systems of intelligent autonomous agents that can learn from their mistakes and adapt to their environment. The Nature of Code introduces important topics such as: Randomness Forces and vectors Trigonometry Cellular automata and fractals Genetic algorithms Neural networks Learn from an expert how to transform your beginner-level skills into writing well-organized, thoughtful programs that set the stage for further experiments in generative design. NOTE: All examples are written with p5.js, a JavaScript library for creative coding, and are available on the book's website.

Train for Heaven on Earth Oneya Rajsel,2020-12-31 Dear reader!Would you like some soul-nurturing? Some light in your life?I am inviting you to dive into the world of a young teacher, accompanied by a faithful canine friend, on the quest to find her purpose in a world full of false images, illusions and secrets – but also love, friendship, adventure, humor, spirituality, 'coincidences' and revelations ...The physical, emotional, mental and above all spiritual journey begins with an overture on a beautiful Croatian Island, explores the lives of the people of Slovenia, and also includes some fuego rhythms from European Hawaii – Canary Islands. The people the heroine meets and the unplanned adventures break the ideas of a modern woman and man, romance, school system, media, spirituality ... She realizes that nothing is as it seems. If you want to board on this train be ready for a varied journey with nine stations: STATION 1: THE SEASTATION 2: SOCIAL NETWORK DATINGSTATION 3: EROTICSSTATION 4: DYING BY INSTALMENTSSTATION 5: ASCENDING INTO THE SPHERE OF SPIRITSSTATION 6: MATURITY EXAMSTATION 7: NEW

BEGINNINGSSTATION 8: THE HEAVEN ON EARTHSTATION 9: RETURNThe novel has a first-person narrator and contains several genres – social, women, romance, adventure, spiritual, psychological and includes lot of autobiographical stories mixed with my imagination. But I followed my grandmother's advice and made it simple.And who am I? The author? Oneya B. Rajsel? My homeland is Slovenia. In 2008 I finished studies of Slovenian language and Sociology of Culture in Ljubljana with a thesis on female literary characters in modern novels. My first short stories were published in some erotic magazines and in Collection of erotic stories: Touches and promises (2011). I continued with different literature.Short story Try Again and once more and one more time: Mladika, literary contest in Trieste (Italy, 2012) – 1st prize.Novella The Rainbow Year 2013/3013: The Annual Collection of Slovenian Fiction Stardust 2012.Blogging for my websites Playground of Life (2013–2019), Dance of life&dreams (2020–): <https://danceoflifeanddreams.blogspot.com/>Train for heaven on Earth is my debut novel.After many years this gift from the universe that changed my life is here for you too. Like a good soul stew, it took a long time to make – 27 years to grow and prepare, 7 years to cook, and 6 to cool and be just right. First comments: So interesting, so juicy, so authentic that I could not stop reading it to the end. Even, the parts where the heroine is sad or disappointed are written with humor. Some funny paragraphs and pious wishes made me laugh out loud ...Ana S., language professorI am thrilled! I do not know the last time I read a book that grabbed my attention so much. After reading it, I decided to say NO to everything that was stealing my energy and precious time! Slavica N., Assistant Head of Shue Store SalesSpecial thanks to Alexander N., my oldest student (he was 75) and truly inspiring person, who proofread this book for free: Thank you for everything! I know you are watching from heaven above ... His words: You managed it, and made it beautifully!!! For me, as a man, it was quite interesting ... Never forbid yourself to dream!The same goes for you, dear reader. Writing this book was a dream come true and if you decide to join this ride I would be grateful for feedback on your reading experience. Have you felt this world? The magic? What did you learn? Realize? How did it make you feel? ...Yours truly Oneya B. Rajsel

Unmanned Driving Systems for Smart Trains Hui Liu,2020–11–13 Unmanned Driving Systems for Smart Trains explores the core technologies involved in unmanned driving systems for smart railways and trains, from foundational theory to the latest advances. The volume introduces the key technologies, research results and frontiers of the field. Each chapter includes practical cases to ground theory in practice. Seven chapters cover key aspects of unmanned driving systems for smart trains, including performance evaluation, algorithm-based reasoning and learning strategy, main control parameters, data mining and processing, energy saving optimization and control, and intelligent algorithm simulation platforms. This book will help researchers find solutions in developing better unmanned driving systems. Responds to the expansion of smart railways and the adoption of unmanned global systems Covers core technologies of unmanned driving systems for smart trains Details a large number of case studies and experimental designs for unmanned railway systems Adopts a multidisciplinary view where disciplines intersect at key points Gives both foundational theory and the latest theoretical and practical advances for unmanned railways

Tracks Across Continents, Paths Through History Douglas J. Puffert,2009–04 A standard track gauge—the distance between the two rails—enables connecting railway lines to exchange traffic. But despite the benefits of standardization, early North American railways used six different gauges extensively, and even today breaks of gauge at national borders and within such countries as India and Australia are expensive burdens on commerce. In Tracks across Continents, Paths through History, Douglas J. Puffert offers a global history of railway track gauge, examining early choices and the dynamic process of diversity and standardization that resulted. Drawing on the economic theory of path dependence, and grounded in economic, technical, and institutional realities, this innovative volume traces how early historical events, and even idiosyncratic personalities, have affected choices of gauge ever since, despite changing technology and understandings of what gauge is optimal. Puffert also uses this history to develop new insights in the theory of path dependence. Tracks across Continents, Paths through History will be essential reading for anyone interested in how history and economics inform each other.

The Crooked Path Irma Joubert,2017–11–07 From the bestselling author of The Girl From the Train, comes another compelling coming of age story of delayed love, loss, and reconciliation in WWII-era South Africa. Lettie has always felt different from and overshadowed by the women around her– this friend is richer, that friend is more beautiful, those friends are closer. Still, she doesn't let this hold her back. She works hard to apply her mind, trying to compensate for her perceived lack of beauty with diligent academic work and a successful career as a doctor. She learns to treasure her friendships, but she still wonders if any man will ever return her interest. Marco's experience in the second world war have robbed him of love and health. When winters in his native Italy prove dangerous to his health even after the war has ended, he moves to South Africa to be with his brother, husband to one of Lettie's best friends. Marco is Lettie's first patient, and their relationship grows as she aids him on the road back to restored health. In the company of beloved characters from The Child of the River, Marco and Lettie find a happiness that neither of them thought possible. With that joy comes pain and loss, but Lettie learns that life—while perhaps a crooked path—is always a journey worth taking.

Underground Railroad Carole Marsh,2006–12–15 In this book, kids walk a mile in Linda Brown's shoes and wonder why they can't go to a school that's only seven blocks away. In 1954, the real Fight for Equality was just beginning--and kids need to know what really happened and why. Come sit in the courtroom with us as we watch the proceedings in the case of Brown versus the Board of Education!

A Path Up The Mountain Charlie Unwin,2014–08–12 There are many paths up the mountain, and they all lead to the top. This is just one path?my path. It's not the right path, nor is it the wrong path; it's just mine and I want to share it with you to help you find your own path up the mountain. When I was at drama school I was struggling with the teachings of one particular tutor?a man revered for his knowledge of the craft and history in theatre. But what he was saying/teaching wasn't striking a chord with me. That wasn't the way that I did it, so I thought, Is my whole technique wrong? But why does it feel right? Then, a very wise teacher sat me down and explained that I wasn't at drama school to learn how to act using his technique. I was there to create my own method. ?Take a bit of what he's teaching, the bit that resonates with you, take a bit of what I'm teaching, what she's teaching, what they're teaching, and so on, and create your own method. And then, over the years, add to it when you learn from other actors, teachers, and acting jobs.? This advice has translated to many other areas of my life and impacted my spiritual beliefs. That is what this book is about. It isn't about saying that this is the correct path up the mountain or the way towards enlightenment. It is just a path up the mountain. This book details my beliefs, my knowledge, and my path. Nothing in this book is wrong; it is all 100 percent right. For me. For now.
