Pittsburgh Steps Bob Regan,2015-09-01 Today the City of Pittsburgh has more municipal inclines than any other U.S. city and more city steps and bridges than any other city in the world. Undoubtedly the most unique of these transportation solutions is the city steps. Pittsburgh has hundreds of streets complete with street signs, and often times houses, that are composed entirely of steps. Pittsburgh Steps is part historical record for the armchair climber and part guided for active step trekkers.

GIS Tutorial Wilpen L. Gorr,Kristen Seamens Kurland,2007 This study guide meets a growing demand for effective GIS training by combining ArcGIS tutorials and self-study exercises that start with the basics and progress to more difficult functionality. Presented in a step-by-step format, the book can be adapted to a reader's specific training needs, from a classroom of graduate students to individual study. Readers learn to use a range of GIS functionality from creating maps and collecting data to using geoprocessing tools and models for advanced analysis. The authors have incorporated three proven learning methods: scripted exercises that use detailed step-by-step instructions and result graphics, Your Turn exercises that require users to perform tasks without step-by-step instructions, and exercise assignments that pose real-world problem scenarios. A fully functioning, 180-day trial version of ArcView 9.2 software, data for working through the tutorials, and Web-based teacher resources are also included.

Pittsburgh, How to See It George T. Fleming, 2015-08-06 Excerpt from Pittsburgh, How to See It: A Complete, Reliable Guide Book With Illustrations, the Latest Map and Complete Index I believe in Pittsburgh the powerful - the progressive. I believe in the past of Pittsburgh and in the future founded on the heritage of that past; of clean living, frugal, industrious men and women of poise, power, purity, genius and courage. I believe that her dominant spirit is, has been, and always will be for uplift and betterment. I believe that my neighbor stands for the same faith in Pittsburgh, altho his expression may vary from mine. I believe in Pittsburgh of the present, and her people - possessing the virtues of all nations - fused thru the melting pot to a greater potency for good. I believe in taking pride in our city, its institutions, its people, its habits. I believe in the great plans born of initiative, foresight, and civic patriotism in the minds of the great men of to-day; here - now, I believe that the Pittsburghers who truly represent her are those of God fearing lives, scorning ostentation and the seats of the ungodly: building surely, quietly and permanently. I believe that those who know Pittsburgh love her, her rocks and rills, and templed hills. I believe that Pittsburgh's mighty forces are reproduced in a mighty people, stanch like the hills, - true like steel. Hiking through History Pennsylvania Bob Frye, 2018-06-01 In Hiking through History Pennsylvania, you can hike where George Washington suffered his first humiliating defeat as a military commander as well as the grounds where, over the course of a winter, he molded what would become a victorious army. Or you can walk the battlefield that not only turned the tide of the Civil War, but spawned one of the most famous speeches in American history. Or walk where the world's first commercial oil well was drilled. There's all that and more to explore. Hiking Through History Pennsylvania profiles 40 hikes focusing on the state's military, industrial, natural and conservation history. Tragedies, some intentional, some not, are explored, too. Whether you're a curious tourist or a local history buff, this is a comprehensive guidebook to the area's natural and human history.
