Running with Sherman Christopher McDougall,2020-07-28 From the bestselling author of Born to Run, a heartwarming story about training a rescue donkey to run one of the most challenging races in America, and, in the process, discovering the life-changing power of the human-animal connection. A delight, full of heart and hijinks and humor. —John Grogan, author of Marley & Me: Life and Love with the World's Worst Dog When Christopher McDougall decided to adopt a donkey in dire straits, he had no idea what he was getting himself into. But with the help of his neighbors, Chris came up with a crazy idea. Burro racing, a unique type of competition in which humans and donkeys run side by side over mountains and through streams, would be exactly the challenge Sherman and Chris needed. In the course of Sherman's training, Chris would enlist Amish running clubs, high-spirited goats, the service animal community, and two Sarah Palin-loving long-distance female truckers. Sherman's heartwarming story of overcoming all odds to run one of the most unbelievable races in America shows the healing power of movement and the strength of the human-animal connection. Look for Christopher McDougall's new book, Born to Run 2, coming in December!

Running: A Love Story Jen A. Miller,2016-03-22 Jen Miller has fallen in and out of love, but no man has been there for her the way running has. In Running: A Love Story, Jen tells the story of her lifelong relationship with running with wit, thoughtfulness, and brutal honesty. Jen first laces up her sneakers in high school, when, like many people, she sees running as a painful part of conditioning for other sports. But when she discovers early in her career as a journalist that it helps her clear her mind, focus her efforts, and achieve new goals, she becomes hooked for good. Jen, a middle-of-the-pack but tenacious runner, hones her skill while navigating relationships with men that, like a tricky marathon route, have their ups and downs, relying on running to keep her steady in the hard times. As Jen pushes herself toward ever-greater challenges, she finds that running helps her walk away from the wrong men and learn to love herself while revealing focus, discipline, and confidence she didn't realize she had. Relatable, inspiring, and brutally honest, Running: A Love Story, explores the many ways that distance running carves a path to inner peace and empowerment by charting one woman's evolution in the sport.

Introduction to Prescribed Fire in Southern Ecosystems Thomas A. Waldrop,Scott L. Goodrick,2018-03-29 Prescribed burning is an important tool throughout Southern forests, grasslands, and croplands. The need to control fire became evident to allow forests to regenerate. This manual is intended to help resource managers to plan and execute prescribed burns in Southern forests and grasslands. A new appreciation and interest has developed in recent years for using prescribed fire in grasslands, especially hardwood forests, and on steep mountain slopes. Proper planning and execution of prescribed fires are necessary to reduce detrimental effects, such as the impacts on air and downstream water quality. Career As a Nurse Anesthetist Institute for Career Research,2015-06-26 YOU'VE SEEN THE OLD WESTERN movies when someone who has been shot is given a bullet to clench between his teeth so he won't bite his tongue off during surgery. Prior to the advent of anesthesia in the mid-1800s, even the most modest of surgeries were usually excruciatingly painful for patients. Since then, the field of anesthesiology has advanced significantly, offering patients a painless, comfortable, and safe surgical experience. Each year in the United States, approximately 30 million people receive anesthetics, with certified registered nurse anesthetists (CRNAs) administering approximately 65 percent of them. The oldest recognized nursing specialists, nurse anesthetists have touched millions of lives over the years. Although anesthesia may be thought of as merely putting patients to sleep so they will not experience surgical pain, nurse anesthetists also play an important role acting as the patient's eyes and ears during surgery, essentially serving as a patient advocate because the patient is unconscious and cannot speak. Often the CRNA is the last person a patient sees before being put under, and it is the CRNA who offers comfort and confident reassurance, and then proceeds to watch over the patient like a guardian angel. CRNAs are an integral part of the entire operative process. After inducing sleep, they monitor vital signs, adjust anesthesia levels, and wake the patient after surgery. Throughout, they are vigilant monitors of every heartbeat and every breath, as they must be ready to respond if something is not right, such as a patient having a negative response to a certain anesthetic. Fortunately, according to a recent Institute of Medicine report, due to advances in the field, anesthesia is approximately 50 times safer than it was as recently as the 1980s. Nurse anesthetists have been blazing trails in the field since the Civil War, when they were responsible for giving soldiers ether during surgery. Since then they have been the principal providers of anesthesia care to US military personnel on the front lines. The CRNA credential was first established in 1956, and today approximately 42,000 nurse anesthetists throughout the United States administer anesthesia for all types of surgical procedures, from simple to complex. They also work in a variety of settings, from hospitals to private healthcare practices of dentists, podiatrists, ophthalmologists, plastic surgeons, and pain management specialists. On an international basis, according to the International Federation of Nurse Anesthetists, CRNAs are solely responsible for providing 60 percent of anesthesia worldwide and are the predominant providers of anesthesia in rural areas and developing countries. Being a nurse anesthetist is exciting, challenging, and rewarding. They are among the highest paid of all nurses, with salaries typically in the six-figure range. In addition, nurse anesthetists are in great demand and have been so since the late 1980s. If you are thinking of a career as a nurse or are currently a registered nurse (RN) who is thinking about going on to become a CRNA, this report will provide you with valuable information on everything from the history of the field and career duties, to educational requirements and a first-hand look at the field through the eyes of its practitioners.

A Vast Machine Paul N. Edwards, 2013-02-08 The science behind global warming, and its history: how scientists learned to understand the atmosphere, to measure it, to trace its past, and to model its future. Global warming skeptics often fall back on the argument that the scientific case for global warming is all model predictions, nothing but simulation; they warn us that we need to wait for real data, "sound science." In A Vast Machine Paul Edwards has news for these skeptics: without models, there are no data. Today, no collection of signals or observations—even from satellites, which can "see" the whole planet with a single instrument—becomes global in time and space without passing through a series of data models. Everything we know about the world's climate we know through models. Edwards offers an engaging and innovative history of how scientists learned to understand the atmosphere—to measure it, trace its past, and model its future.

Freedom in the World 2005 Freedom House, 2005 Freedom in the World, the Freedom House flagship survey whose findings have been published annually since 1972, is the standard-setting comparative assessment of global political rights and civil liberties. The survey ratings and narrative reports on 192 countries and a group of select territories are used by policy makers, the media, international corporations, and civic activists and human rights defenders to monitor trends in democracy and track improvements and setbacks in freedom worldwide. Press accounts of the survey findings appear in hundreds of influential newspapers in the United States and abroad and form the basis of numerous radio and television reports. The Freedom in the World political rights and civil liberties ratings are determined through a multi-layered process of research and evaluation by a team of regional analysts and eminent scholars. The analysts used a broad range of sources of information, including foreign and domestic news reports, academic studies, nongovernmental organizations, think tanks, individual professional contacts, and visits to the region, in conducting their research. The methodology of the survey is derived in large measure from the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, and these standards are applied to all countries and territories, irrespective of geographical location, ethnic or religious composition, or level of economic development. Freedom House is a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization that supports democratic change, monitors freedom, and advocates for democracy and human rights.

Freedom in the World 1997-1998 Roger Kaplan, Adrian Karatnycky, 1998-04 The Comparative Survey of Freedom is an institutional effort by Freedom House to monitor the progress and decline of political rights and civil liberties in 191 nations and 59 related territories. These year-end reviews of freedom began in 1955, when they were called the Balance Sheet of Freedom and, still later, the Annual Survey of the Progress of Freedom. This program was expanded in the early 1970s, and has appeared in Freedom Review since 1973. It has also been issued in a more developed context as a yearbook since 1978. Since 1989, the Survey project has been a year-long effort produced by regional experts, consultants and human rights specialists. The Survey derives its information from a wide range of sources. Most valued of these are the many human rights activists, journalists, editors and political figures around the world who keep us informed of the human rights situation in their countries. Throughout the year. Freedom House personnel regularly conduct fact-finding missions to gain more in-depth knowledge of the vast political transformations affecting our world. During these week-to-month-long investigations, we make every effort to meet a cross-section of political parties and associations, human rights monitors, religious figures, representatives of both the private sector and trade union movement, academics and journalists. During the past year. Freedom House staff traveled to numerous countries throughout most of the world's geographical and political regions. The Survey project team also consults a vast array of published source materials, ranging from the reports of other human rights organizations to often rare, regional newspapers and magazines. This year's Survey team includes: Adrian Karatnycky, Martin Edwin Anderson, Kristen Guida, Marshall Freeman Harris, Thomas R. Lansner, Arch Puddington, Leonard R. Sussman, and George Zarycky. The general editor of Freedom in the World is Roger Kaplan; the managing editor is Tara Kelly. This year's research coordinator was Charles Graybow.
