Selling Air Bob Diamond, Jay Frost, 2008 The Perfect Book for Every Aspiring Radio Sales Professional! Until now, there has been no definitive guidebook on how to launch a successful career in radio sales. With Selling Air (radio talk for selling commercial time), Bob Diamond, a radio account executive with more than 20 years of achievement in the industry, provides comprehensive advice on how to get started. Bob's clear, concise style tells you how to: Make an informed choice about a career in radio sales Find a job that's right for you Prepare for your interview with a sales manager Navigate your way through your first few weeks on the job Develop the selling and interpersonal skills unique to radio sales Create strategies that ensure win-win customer relationships . and much more, including Bob's top 10 tips that will help you maintain a positive attitude and a substantial income on a long-term basis. FOR MANAGERS! Use this book to reduce the learning curve for interviewees and new hires This fabulous book allows new salespeople to have a virtual two-year head start by showing them what works, what doesn't, and what they can specifically expect to happen. I hope this book ends up in the hands of every new or prospective radio sales rep. It will save everyone-managers and potential sales reps alike-a lot of headache . . . and heartache! Underwriting 101 Shyrl L. Plum, 2000 This media sales primer serves as a step-by-step manual to assist students in attaining sales proficiency and confidence. The author employs a practical, hands-on approach, enabling readers to develop valuable professional and interpersonal skills and to improve their options for obtaining sales positions. Underwriting 101 covers the activities involved in sales work, such as developing sales kits and presentations, handling objections, writing proposals, closing, and preparing underwriting announcements. Role-playing, sales promotion, résumé preparation, and interviewing are also covered. Special features include: *materials needed to teach the 15 week course, including a syllabus, calls schedule, positioning worksheet, sample proposals, sample résumé, sample cover letter, and course evaluation; *comments from former students who have secured sales positions upon completion of the course; *underwriting announcement guidelines for FCC conformation; and *a guide to Internet research tools for sales presentation enhancement. Intended for upper-level students in radio or broadcast sales courses, Underwriting 101 will be useful to sales instructors with or without sales experience. It is also appropriate for use in college radio stations, as a resource for sales departments.

Successful Local Broadcast Sales Paul

Weyland, 2007-09-19 For the right person, a career in media sales can be glamorous, rewarding, and lucrative. But without the right guidance, it can also be challenging. Author Paul Weyland has decades of experience working with local direct clients. Now, in Successful Local Broadcast Sales he shares his hard-won wisdom, showing television, radio, and cable salespeople how to get more sales. This invaluable resource gives readers the tools they need to:

- get appointments
- write great proposals and presentations
- sell against other media like newspapers and the Internet
- overcome rate resistance
- close sales without alienating their clients
- create genius creative without being a creative genius
- calculate ROI for the client's advertising dollar
- land long-term contracts with local businesses
- negotiate more effectively

Honest, practical, and accessible, this is the one handbook that shows novice and veteran salespeople how to thrive—not just survive—in the media business.
