Planning Families in Nepal Jan Brunson, 2016-03-29 Based on almost a decade of research in the Kathmandu Valley, Planning Families in Nepal offers a compelling account of Hindu Nepali women as they face conflicting global and local ideals regarding family planning. Promoting a two-child norm, global family planning programs have disseminated the slogan, "A small family is a happy family," throughout the global South. Jan Brunson examines how two generations of Hindu Nepali women negotiate this global message of a two-child family and a more local need to produce a son. Brunson explains that while women did not prefer sons to daughters, they recognized that in the dominant patrilocal family system, their daughters would eventually marry and be lost to other households. As a result, despite recent increases in educational and career opportunities for daughters, mothers still hoped for a son who would bring a daughter-in-law into the family and care for his aging parents. Mothers worried about whether their modern, rebellious sons would fulfill their filial duties, but ultimately those sons demonstrated an enduring commitment to living with their aging parents. In the context of rapid social change related to national politics as well as globalization—a constant influx of new music, clothes, gadgets, and even governments—the sons viewed the multigenerational family as a refuge. Throughout Planning Families in Nepal, Brunson raises important questions about the notion of "planning" when applied to family formation, arguing that reproduction is better understood as a set of local and global ideals that involve actors with desires and actions with constraints, wrought with delays, stalling, and improvisation.

101 Sons Praful Shah, 2020-10-24 Why '101 SONS' is a must-read book? The shocking reality of neglecting aging parents prevails in the land of famous obedient sons, Ram and Shravan. But can old or new law alone help seniors? Is it the job of the Government alone to provide a remedy for his social disease? Can it give back self-respect and self-esteem to the aged? With food, shelter, and medicine, can this law bring back REAL smiles on their faces and peace-relief in their hearts? In India only, the number of elderly persons is expected to grow to 173 million by 2026. '101 SONS, Not just a story' is a unique emotional story of awakening, arising, and self-upliftment of senior citizens through a powerful woman protagonist. It is based on mind-blowing but still unknown reality. It is inspired by the revolutionary initiative taken by a small village. This path-breaking saga of 1400 people can be of great inspiration to 80 million aged Indians and to entire mankind also. Over to readers but just remember tagline: Not just a story...yes, it is about me, you and most importantly about our parents. Seasoned author, veteran journalist & master story teller Praful Shah comes with a path-breaking story that can play the role of the lighthouse in the dark light of senior citizens, especially ignored, insulted & bruised souls of parents. Over to all sons, daughters & parents.

Origin Of 101 Everyday Things Seema Gupta,2005-07-06 There are so many things scattered around us which we use everyday without giving a single thought about their origin. Have you ever wondered where have these things come from? Think of that pen in your hand - it has not fallen from the sky into your hand, or that television which entertains you, was not there when this earth was formed. The eraser, pencil, shoes, chair, table and there are so many other things in our lives which are the successful outcome of research going on for centuries. Tremendous hard work and dedication of many inventors and discoverers has gone into making these things. They worked day and night, laboured under unfavourable conditions to bring these things in our lives. Today we call them backward because they did not have so many electronic gadgets to help them whereas we call ourselves technologically advanced since we have all the means and machines. But could we have all this without their efforts? the answer is simply, no. So it is our duty to continue this tradition of inventing and discovering new things by keeping our eyes and ears open, and also by learning from the past experiences of these great men and understanding their ways of working. This book here presents the horoscope of 101 selected things, which you use everyday. And what makes our book different
