Countdown Deborah Wiles, 2016-04-26 The story of a formative year in 12-year-old Franny Chapman's life, and the life of a nation facing the threat of nuclear war. Franny Chapman just wants some peace. But that's hard to get when her best friend is feuding with her, her sister has disappeared, and her uncle is fighting an old war in his head. Her saintly younger brother is no help, and the cute boy across the street only complicates things. Worst of all, everyone is walking around just waiting for a bomb to fall. It's 1962, and it seems that the whole country is living in fear. When President Kennedy goes on television to say that Russia is sending nuclear missiles to Cuba, it only gets worse. Franny doesn't know how to deal with what's going on in the world -- no more than she knows how to deal with what's going on with her family and friends. But somehow she's got to make it through. Featuring a captivating story interspersed with footage from 1962, award-winning author Deborah Wiles has created a documentary novel that will put you right alongside Franny as she navigates a dangerous time in both her history and our history.

185 to Go David Harstad, 2015-08-08 Tired of your backpack smooshing your lunch every day? Are you out of pencil lead yet again? Wondering if the class clock has stopped, and you were supposed to be out of school an hour ago? Then maybe you need a relaxing book. Here it is! If you could live anywhere in America, Sandport might be your town. Imagine going to school in the perfect California beach town. It's a place with no stoplights, cool afternoon breezes, and a sheep dog with a plan. The students are intelligent, comical, and have the same spunky soul that got the pioneers across the West. These kids work well together and treat everyone with respect, the way their parents taught them. You would definitely invite all these kids to your next birthday party. Seven of the kids hang-out after school at the tide pools, doing homework and playing on the beach. They even have their own club, where they discuss school topics and work on surf techniques. The Tide Pool Club thrives on inventing creative ways to solve problems, especially a big one for a new friend. Logan Lincoln will guide you through the school year countdown, including golf cart dads, a spry grandma, and their town joke no one knows about. Shh... it's a secret. Read on to find the meaning of life, a talent show to remember, and why their teacher keeps his desk drawer locked. Welcome to Sandport!

Countdown to College Monique Rinere,2019-03-05 After all the testing and touring and applying, your child has been accepted to college. Congratulations! Now what? Every new student grapples with making a successful transition to college—with remaining healthy, happy, grounded, and in school. Indeed, the national statistics are sobering: One in three freshmen will not come back for sophomore year, and less than 50 percent will graduate on time. A student’s adjustment is key, especially during the period starting with the lazy summer months before move-in and ending at the dizzying close of a student’s first semester. Distilling lessons and sharing stories (some cautionary, some entertaining, all helpful) from her long college advisory career, three-time Ivy League dean Monique Rinere presents a unique month-by-month road map to a college experience that is rich, rewarding, and successful for teens and parents alike. Taking parents from the moment the acceptances arrive to the end of the first college semester, her expert advice covers: • assessing the right fit among your child’s options: who and what to ask to get the real scoop on campus and academic life • understanding actual costs: considering hidden expenses, financial-aid and scholarship fine print, loans, and work-study opportunities • parenting through the senior slump so that students don’t jeopardize their hard-won college spot • talking to your child about freshman culture shock and their new freedoms around parties, food, finances, and sleep • what your child needs to know about working with an academic advisor, interacting with professors, and creating their own community of advisors • how to help your rising freshman create a conceptual bridge from what they are, a graduating high school senior, to what they want to be, a college alum • time-management and class-scheduling tips to help your child pick an appropriate class (and extracurricular) load • advice for parents facing the emptying nest: letting go of your anxieties about your child’s autonomy and seizing this opportunity to reinvent your life in new and intentional ways “A valuable and comprehensive guide for parents of college-bound students . . . The months between high school and college are a critical time, but Dr. Monique Rinere gives you confidence that everything will be all right.”—Marvin Krislov, president, Pace University

Teaching Insights Terri S. Thompson,2008

Countdown to College Valerie Pierce,2009 These invaluable To-Do lists show 9th, 10th, 11th, & 12th graders WHAT to do and WHEN to do it to ensure their admission to the college of their choice. There will be no missed deadlines or missed opportunities with these step-by-step strategies for success.

Last Day Blues Julie Danneberg,2013-01-07 Fans of First Day Jitters will love spending the last day of school in Mrs. Hartwell classroom. What do teachers do for summer vacation? Mrs. Hartwell's students worry that their teacher will miss them while they are gone for the summer. The class comes up with a way to make sure Mrs. Hartwell won't be too sad. But Mrs. Hartwell and the other teachers have some plans of their own. Once again Julie Danneberg and Judy Love bring to life the crazy antics of Mrs. Hartwell and her class and show that teachers and students are more alike than we sometimes think.

Countdown to Kindergarten Alison McGhee,2002 Ten days before the start of kindergarten, a preschooler can not tie her shoes by herself and fears the worst.
