Conversational Narrative Neal R. Norrick, 2000-01-01 This book investigates the forms and functions of storytelling in everyday conversation. It develops a rhetoric of everyday storytelling through an integrated approach to both the internal structure and the contextual integration of narrative passages. It aims at a more complete picture of oral narrative through analysis of a wider range of natural data, including personal anecdotes told for humor, put-down stories told for self-aggrandizement, family stories retold to ratify membership and so on, as well as marginal stories and narrative-like passages to delineate the boundaries of conversational storytelling and to test the analytical techniques proposed. Using transcriptions of stories from everyday talk, Norrick explores disfluencies, formulaicity and repetition as teller strategies and listener cues alongside global phenomena such as retelling and narrative macrostructures. He also extends his analysis to narrative jokes from conversation and to narrative passages in drama, namely Shakespeare's Romeo & Juliet and Beckett's Endgame.

Giving the Gift of Giggles Duncan Fife, MR Duncan Fife M a, 2016-04-04 You will love this collection of stories about how The Fifes started a business doing what they love to do: entertain. Chapter I, When the Going Gets Tough, The Tough Get Costumes! gets into how their new singing telegram business began to grow to include children's shows, corporate meeting performers and more. Robin and Duncan played character and celebrity look-alikes who were hired to burst into living rooms, restaurants, offices and even onto ball fields and into swimming pools. Various animals and assorted foods were also requested to sing for birthdays, anniversaries, marriage proposals, debt collections and the like. Their adventures of making a living by giving and by having fun continue. Dressing up as a Viking or as a country western star or as Santa Claus for their little shows is still their labor of love; labor you'll love reading about.
