Nist Recommended Practice Guide Jeff C Gust,2018-03-19 Excerpt from Nist Recommended Practice Guide: Stopwatch and Timer Calibrations (2009 Edition) Stopwatch and timer calibrations are perhaps the most common calibrations performed in the field of time and frequency metrology. Hundreds of United States laboratories calibrate many thousands of timing devices annually to meet legal and organizational metrology requirements. However, prior to the publication of the first edition of this guide in May 2004, no definitive text had existed on the subject. This nist Recommended Practice Guide was created to a fill a gap in the metrology literature. It assists the working metrologist or calibration technician by describing the types of stopwatches and timers that require calibration, the specifications and tolerances of these devices, the methods used to calibrate them, and the estimated measurement uncertainties for each calibration method. It also discusses the process of establishing measurement traceability back to national and international standards.
