Flames of Fear Roger McNeice OAM,2016-12-17 A photographic and documentary history of the fear and devastation caused by bushfires in Tasmania since 1820.

Bushfire in Tasmania State Fire Management Council,2014-09-19 This report has been prepared by the State Fire Management Council, undertaking an assessment of bushfire risk in Tasmania, and through modelling, testing the effectiveness of different fuel reduction burning strategies.

Arson and Deliberately Lit Fires Sentencing Advisory Council of Tasmania,2011 The purpose of this consultation paper is to assist in the discussion about the legislative framework, sentencing options, intervention and community information programs available for adults and juveniles involved in firesetting in Tasmania. The Council intends to use the responses to inform its advice to the Attorney-General.

Bay of Fires Poppy Gee,2013-03-12 Sarah Avery's reckless behavior has cost her a job, her boyfriend, and the independence she desperately craves. Reluctantly home for the holidays in the Bay of Fires, a tiny seaside town on the Tasmanian coast, she hopes for a calm, quiet visit, with time to reflect on all that's gone wrong. Those hopes are crushed when, early one morning, she discovers the body of a young female backpacker washed up on the shore. A year earlier, another woman went missing and hasn't been seen since. Now everyone wonders: is there a killer in the brush? Or were these women victims of Tasmania itself? The island is place of savage beauty: pristine sand beneath orange-lichen covered granite boulders; heaving shadowy kelp fields; sweeping cold currents; crackling bush beyond the seashore. It's also a landscape as flawed, vulnerable and vengeful as any human. Once its fragile peace is shattered, the locals' anxiety fuels a string of speculations about happened to the women - and who might be the next victim. When journalist Hall Flynn arrives to investigate, haunted by recent failures and yearning for a fresh start, he's determined to do whatever it takes to break the story, and Sarah is his best source of local information. But Sarah - like everyone else in this close-knit town - has secrets she's desperate to keep hidden. And one of those secrets leads straight to a killer's door. Haunting, evocative, as wildly atmospheric as the remote island where it takes place, BAY OF FIRES is a startling and wholly original debut.

Safer Gardens Lesley Corbett,2021-07-02 Destructive bushfires are increasing in frequency and intensity around the world. For people living in fire prone areas there are no reliable guides about which plants have low flammability and which are frighteningly flammable. Safer Gardens is that guide, with over 500 plants assessed, based on fire research from around the world. Readers can look up a plant in the Plant Flammability Table to get an idea of its flammability then turn to the A-Z for more detailed information. The book contains advice about ways to create a more firesafe garden, including the need to carefully manage the use of mulch and hedges. This is citizen science, written by a gardener for other gardeners. Complex and potentially confusing science is made comprehensible and usable, to help you make your garden and hence your house safer.

Fight the Fiery Fiend Roger V. McNeice,2012 Documents bushfires, house fires and ship fires in Tasmania from 1803-1883, the formation of fire brigades and the role played by the early military.

Fire Ecology of Buttongrass Moorlands N. J. H. Gellie,1980 Buttongrass moorlands are a flammable vegetation type occupying approximately one million hectares in Western Tasmania. The flammability of this vegetation type causes problems to fire managers in areas of high fire incidence. Fuel reduction burning is part of a management programme to reduce the risk of damaging wildfires to both buttongrass moorland and forest.

Firestorm Jon Henley,2013-05-02 The photographs stop you in your tracks. Five children and their grandmother sheltering under an old wooden jetty as the air around them burns a fierce orange. Seen around the world, these were the images from the heart of the inferno that showed the Tasmanian township of Dunalley fighting for survival. On the morning of 4 January 2013, the people of Dunalley had watched with caution as a bush fire burned slowly on top of the hill. It was not an unusual occurrence – fires are a part of Australian life – and Dunalley had never been troubled before. They made their preparations, just in case. Even so, they had no idea what was about to hit them. In the aftermath of the Inala Road fire, Jon Henley visited Dunalley. Minute by minute, he reconstructed what had happened – the residents, the emergency services ... the moment the flames struck the first houses. Firestorm explores what it means to live in a natural environment that has evolved to burn. Meteorologists and firefighters alike fear the growing ferocity of the fires it produces as Australia's summers grow ever hotter. Scientific facts suggests that the Inala Road fire may have been just a hint of what is to come. Firestorm is the story of the terrifying fire, and of the remarkable and resilient character of its inhabitants as they seek to raise their homes from the ashes. But most of all, it is the story of the family under the jetty, clinging on as Dunalley burned.

Contingencies, Resilience and Legal Constitutionalism Clive Walker,2017-10-02 Contingency planning and resilience are of prime importance to the late modern risk society, with implications for law and for governance arrangements. Our risk society continues to seek ever more complex and detailed risk mitigation responses by law, including the UK's Civil Contingencies Act 2004 and the US Homeland Security Act 2002, which respond to counter-terrorism, natural catastrophes, and other risks. This book seeks to analyse and criticise the legal developments in contingencies and resilience on a comparative basis, which engages with not only law and constitutionalism but also political theory and policy, including relations between public and private, national and local, and civil and military. Two transcending themes are of interest. One is institutional or structural – what bodies and power relations should we establish in a late modern world where Critical National Infrastructure is mainly held in private hands? The second is dynamic and concerns the grant of powers and arrangements for live responses. Both aspects are subjected to a strong critical stance based in 'constitutionalism', which demands state legitimacy even in extreme situations by the observance of legality, effectiveness, accountability, and individual rights. This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Human Rights.

Time and Chance Gay Hawkes,2014 In this deeply personal account, with accompanying paintings, Dunalley artist and furniture maker Gay Hawkes tells the story of the 2013 bushfires which devastated the Tasman Peninsula, and in which she lost everything, and reveals poignantly how this has affected her.

Black Tuesday Torquil Canning,2012 During the afternoon of 7 February 1967, Southeast Tasmania has the highest bushfire danger rating ever recorded in Australia. On this afternoon 110 fires are free burning and by the end of the day Australia has suffered its worst bushfire disaster occurring in such a short space of time. The death toll is 62 and over 1300 houses are destroyed.--Back cover.

One Simple Journey with Cee and Tee Craig Nelson Mahon,2020-07-27 "One Simple Journey" was written to log 'our' journey and ‘our’ mission to slow down and discover more meaning to ‘our’ lives. Both Tee and I felt that the only way to achieve this was to break away, almost completely, from everyday life and search for balance! It is a simple story that takes you (the reader) on a journey across this great country of ours, and offers you an opportunity to see an ordinary Australian couple’s perspective of that journey. Readers will travel with Tee and I on our daily tour and we have set up a link so you can cross reference our destinations in picture form (google - OneSimpleJourneywithCeeandTee or email - onesimplejourneywithceeandtee@gmail.com for a link. Alternatively, you can put the book down and research the areas through other means, which will give you a more vivid and pleasant way of joining Tee and I on our journey. In addition to the “Simple Journey” we have added some personal experiences and a number of personal motto’s and beliefs. These family experiences are part of ‘our’ personal journey and are expressed purely for “us”, as “One Simple Journey” has been penned for “us” and was never intended for widespread publication. These personal beliefs are those that we have gathered over our lifetime, with many forming how both Tee and I approach life. So please – Read On – and enjoy, but I ask that you don’t expect too much, as this book is “Raw and Simple”. It was written and is intended only to distract you from your daily existence and throw another perspective at you. There is always a thousand reasons not to take a long break from mainstream society – But only one reason why you should – “Choose Wisely!”

Burning Bush Stephen J. Pyne,2015-09-14 Pyne traces the impact of fire in Australia, from its influence on vegetation to its use by Aborigines and European settlers.“Mr. Pyne, showing what a historian deeply schooled in environmental science can contribute to our awareness of nature and culture, has produced a provocative work that is a major contribution to the literature of environmental studies.”—New York Times Book Review
