Be(com)ing a Conference Interpreter Veerle Duflou,2016-09-07 This study offers a novel view of Conference Interpreting by looking at EU interpreters as a professional community of practice. In particular, Duflou's work focuses on the nature of the competence conference interpreters working for the European Parliament and the European Commission need to acquire in order to cope with their professional tasks. Making use of observation as a member of the community, in-depth interviews and institutional documents, she explores the link between the specificity of the EU setting and the knowledge and skills required. Her analysis of the learning experiences of newcomers in the professional community shows that EU interpreters' competence is to a large extent context-dependent and acquired through situated learning. In addition, it highlights the various factors which have an impact on this learning process. Using the way Dutch booth EU interpreters share the workload in the booth as a case, Duflou demonstrates the importance of mastering collaborative and embodied skills for EU interpreters. She thereby challenges the idea of interpreting competence from an individual, cognitive accomplishment and redefines it as the ability to apply the practical and setting-determined know-how required to function as a full member of the professional community.

Aircraft Design Ajoy Kumar Kundu,2010-04-12 Aircraft Design explores fixed winged aircraft design at the conceptual phase of a project. Designing an aircraft is a complex multifaceted process embracing many technical challenges in a multidisciplinary environment. By definition, the topic requires intelligent use of aerodynamic knowledge to configure aircraft geometry suited specifically to the customer's demands. It involves estimating aircraft weight and drag and computing the available thrust from the engine. The methodology shown here includes formal sizing of the aircraft, engine matching, and substantiating performance to comply with the customer's demands and government regulatory standards. Associated topics include safety issues, environmental issues, material choice, structural layout, understanding flight deck, avionics, and systems (for both civilian and military aircraft). Cost estimation and manufacturing considerations are also discussed. The chapters are arranged to optimize understanding of industrial approaches to aircraft design methodology. Example exercises from the author's industrial experience dealing with a typical aircraft design are included.

T3 - Train the Trainer Tavis Banks,2019-12-06 T3 - Train the Trainer - 10 Things Every Successful Trainer Should Know covers common-sense approaches to learning and development for aspiring or already established Training Specialists. This book also gives leaders responsible for Training and Development in their organizations a framework and foundation to measure their trainers' skillset. This easy to read guides reviews 10 major areas of training facilitation that every successful trainer must know. During a Lessons Learned discovery session with his new training team, Training Manager Tavis Banks decided to survey the group about things they might have trouble with while facilitating their training classes. The survey elicited questions like:*What should I do with late or difficult participants? *How do I handle situations when the equipment has technical issues?*What do I do if I don't know the answer to the question I'm being asked? *What if the people in the class know more than I do about the subject matter than I do?He was excited! He thought the questions they had were all great. Tavis decided to facilitate a T3, or Train the Trainer, session to review and discuss the answers to their questions. He would give his Training Specialists some tools, tips and tricks to use while facilitating their training classes. Tavis couldn't wait to get in front of the team, share the experiences he'd had over the years and develop his trainers' skills. The team had a thirst for knowledge, and Tavis had the answers that would help them learn, grow, and teach them to be more experienced trainers. They would embark on a journey that he hoped would change their careers and set them on the path to training excellence and leadership if they chose.
