References no. 25162-28495 / ABD-ZVE Zdenek Sesták, J. Catský, 2013-12-18 The bibliography includes papers in all fields of photosynthesis research - from studies of model biochemical and biophysical systems of the photosynthesis mechanism to primary production studied by the so-called growth analysis. In addition to papers devoted entirely to photosynthesis, papers on other topics are included if they contain data on photosynthetic activity, photorespiration, chloroplast structure, chlorophyll and carotenoid synthesis and destruction; etc., or if they contain valuable methodological information (measurement of selected environmental factors, leaf area, etc.). In many branches it has been very difficult to define the limits of interest for photosynthesis researchers. This problem has arisen e.g. in topics dealing with the transport of gases, where-in addition to the papers on CO₂ transfer- some papers on water vapour transfer are included, these being of general application. On the other hand, many papers dealing with the anatomy and physiology of stomata have been omitted, if the aspect of carbon dioxide or water vapour exchange has not been discussed. This volume contains references to papers published in the year 1976, and, similarly to Vol. 6, also addenda including references published in the preceding period (i.e. 1966-1975). The numbers of these additional references are labelled with an asterisk in the list of references.

Hypoxia and Exercise Robert Roach, Peter D. Wagner, Peter Hackett, 2007-04-03 The 14th volume in the series will focus on cutting edge research at the interface of hypoxia and exercise. The work will cover the range from molecular mechanisms of muscle fatigue and muscle wasting to whole body exercise on the world's highest mountains. State-of-the-art papers on training at high altitude for low altitude athletic performance will also be featured.

Biomass Preprocessing and Pretreatments for Production of Biofuels Jaya Shankar Tumuluru, 2018-07-26 Engineering the physical, chemical, and energy properties of lignocellulosic biomass is important to produce high-quality consistent feedstocks with reduced variability for biofuels production. The emphasis of this book will be the beneficial impacts that mechanical, chemical, and thermal preprocessing methods can have on lignocellulosic biomass quality attributes or specifications for solid and liquid biofuels and biopower production technologies. Preprocessing refers to treatments that can occur at a distance from conversion and result in an intermediate with added value, with improved conversion performance and efficiency. This book explores the effects of mechanical, chemical, and thermal preprocessing methods on lignocellulosic biomass physical properties and chemical composition and their suitability for biofuels production. For example, biomass mechanical preprocessing methods like size reduction (which impacts the particle size and distribution) and densification (density and size and shape) are important for feedstocks to meet the quality requirements for both biochemical and thermochemical conversion methods like enzymatic conversion, gasification, and pyrolysis process. Thermal preprocessing methods like drying, deep drying, torrefaction, steam explosion, hydrothermal carbonization, and hydrothermal liquefaction effect feedstock's proximate, ultimate and energy property, making biomass suitable for both solid and liquid fuel production. Chemical preprocessing which includes washing, leaching, acid, alkali, and ammonia fiber explosion that can enable biochemical composition, such as modification of lignin and hemicellulose, and impacts the enzymatic conversion application for liquid fuels production. This book also explores the integration of these preprocessing technologies to achieve desired lignocellulosic biomass quality attributes for biofuels production.

Whacked! Michael Wagner, 2005-01 Maxx Rumble's sporting adventures are absolutely incredible - to say the least! You will hardly believe what goes on during a thrilling, and sometimes bizarre, series of cricket. We got home for a single. It was our first run for the day - AT LAST! I looked over at our teammates. Why weren't they clapping? I could see the problem straight away - they were asleep! The Dodgy Duffers are the world's most boring team. Can Maxx keep his team mates awake for long enough to win?

Respiration in Archaea and Bacteria Davide Zannoni, 2008-01-20 The book summarizes the achievements of the past decade in the biochemistry, bioenergetics, structural and molecular biology of respiratory processes in selected genera of the domain Bacteria along with an extensive coverage of the redox chains of extremophiles belonging to the Archaean domain. The volume is a unique piece of work since it contains a series of chapters dealing with metabolic features having important microbiological and ecological relevance such as the use of ammonium, iron, methane, sulfur and hydrogen as respiratory substrates or nitrous compounds in denitrification processes. Particular attention is also dedicated to peculiar groups of prokaryotes such as Gram positives, acetic acid bacteria, pathogens of the genera Helicobacter and Campylobacter, nitrogen fixing symbionts and free-living species, oxygenic phototrophs (Cyanobacteria) and anoxygenic (purple non-sulfur) phototrophs. The book is intended to be a long-term source of information for Ph.D. students, researchers and undergraduates from disciplines such as microbiology, biochemistry and ecology, studying basic and applied sciences, medicine and agriculture.
