A Dictionary of Cebuano Visayan John Wolff,2016-01-27 This is a dictionary of Cebuano Visayan, the language of the central part of the Philippines and much of Mindanao. Although the explanations are given in English, the aim of this work is not to provide English equivalents but to explain Cebuano forms in terms of themselves. It is meant as a reference work for Cebuano speakers and as a tool for students of the Cebuano language. There is a total of some 25,000 entries and an addenda of 700 forms which were prepared after the dictionary had been composed. This dictionary is the product of eleven years work by more than a hundred persons. The work was edited by John Wolff but the sources are entirely native, and all illustrations are composed by native speakers. To date, this work probably represents the most authoritative dictionary of the Cebuano Visayan language.

Det 11. bud Ole Clifford, 2013-09-09 En helt almindelig dag arbejder en gruppe arkæologer på en byggeplads i kamp mod tiden i et område nord for Napoli. En urnelignende genstand, dateret omkring 2000 år f.kr., dukker op af den historiske italienske undergrund; nogle mystiske inskriptioner er gemt indeni. Uvist for arkæologerne kan fundet vende op og ned på den vestlige verdens historiske viden og sætte en lavine af magtkampe i gang på flere niveauer af samfundssystemet. Pludselig kan der sættes spørgsmålstegn ved kirken, staten og de retningslinier, som den vestlige verden er oplært til at følge fra barnsben. Inden fundet når at blive katalogiseret, stjæles det for en belønning på flere millioner. I tyveriets kølvand myrdes fire mennesker. Hvad ingen ved er, at en excentrisk rigmand har knust bronzealderfundets historiske kode og er flygtet med det til sit skjulested i Schweiz. Hemmelige videnskabelige undersøgelser viser, at krukens indehold er støvede fragmenter af nogle stentavler, der kan dateres tilbage til Moses' tid. Spørgsmålet er, om det er resterne af De ti Bud, som arkæologerne har fundet og om koden på fragmenterne i virkeligheden er et 11. bud, der aldrig nåede verdens kendskab, inden det første sæt tavler blev slået i stykker. Hvem når at finde det historiske fund først, kirken, staten eller de fanatiske samlere, der vil give alt for at besidde det uvurderlige fund? Og hvilken betydning får det for vores opfattelse af menneskehedens fremtidige skæbne? Den italienske udgravningschef, Giancarlo Vecchio sætter sit liv og prestige ind på at finde frem til gerningsmændene og allierer sig med en af sit internationale udgravningsholds eksperter, den danske arkæolog, Cristina Nielson. Ikke alene hvirvles de ind i et spind af korrupsion og løgne – de ender med selv at stå på listen over hovedmistænkte. Samtidig stilles de over for et at tilværelsens allersværeste spørgsmål: Hvor kommer vi fra?

Den 11. plage Wilbur Smith,2011-12-01 Den 11. plage er den selvstændige fortsættelse til romanerne Flodguden, Magiens mester og Den syvende skriftrulle, der alle foregår i det gamle Egypten. Efter en række katastrofale plager bliver Egypten ramt af den ultimative tragedie: Nilen tørrer ud. Farao sender bud efter magiens mester, den tidligere slave Taita, og befaler ham at tage sydpå til det uudforskede afrikanske kontinent, hvor floden udspringer og grusomme farer lurer...

Bookkeeping on Your Home-based PC Linda Stern,1993
The growth of small businesses in the 1990s is good news for the self-employed bookkeepers. A growing number of business owners are cutting their budgets by contracting out bookkeeping tasks rather than hiring full-time employees to keep their financial records straight. The need for dependable, home-based bookkeepers has never been greater, and neither has the money-making potential of the emerging work-at-home phenomenon.

Privilege and Property Ronan Deazley,Martin Kretschmer,Lionel Bently,2010 What can and can't be copied is a matter of law, but also of aesthetics, culture, and economics. The act of copying, and the creation and transaction of rights relating to it, evokes fundamental notions of communication and censorship, of authorship and ownership - of privilege and property. This volume conceives a new history of copyright law that has its roots in a wide range of norms and practices. The essays reach back to the very material world of craftsmanship and mechanical inventions of Renaissance Italy where, in 1469, the German master printer Johannes of Speyer obtained a five-year exclusive privilege to print in Venice and its dominions. Along the intellectual journey that follows, we encounter John Milton who, in his 1644 Areopagitica speech 'For the Liberty of Unlicensed Printing', accuses the English parliament of having been deceived by the 'fraud of some old patentees and monopolizers in the trade of bookselling' (i.e. the London Stationers' Company). Later revisionary essays investigate the regulation of the printing press in the North American colonies as a provincial and somewhat crude version of European precedents, and how, in the revolutionary France of 1789, the subtle balance that the royal decrees had established between the interests of the author, the bookseller, and the public, was shattered by the abolition of the privilege system. Contributions also address the specific evolution of rights associated with the visual and performing arts. These essays provide essential reading for anybody interested in copyright, intellectual history and current public policy choices in intellectual property. The volume is a companion to the digital archive Primary Sources on Copyright (1450-1900), funded by the UK Arts and Humanities Research Council (AHRC): www.copyrighthistory.org.
