Way Metaphors and Way Topics in Isaiah 40-55 Øystein Lund,2007 Øystein Lund gives a new approach to texts in Isaiah 40-55 that deal with ways and desert transformation. Earlier exegesis has mainly read these texts in a literal way. In recent years, exegetes have pointed out that the so-called 'exodus texts' should rather be interpreted metaphorically. The author supports this, and accordingly seeks to continue this discourse by systematizing, intensifying, and deepening the argumentation for a metaphorical reading. He argues that most of the way-texts in Isaiah 40-55 are interrelated, and gradually contribute to explore questions regarding the way-situation of the people. The way-theme appears in the prologue, and in 40:27 a problem approach is established when the people is addressed: How can you say, O Jacob, and speak, O Israel, 'My way is hidden from the LORD, and my right passes by my God'? Several subsequent way-texts are related to this text, and together these draw a coherent picture in which the problematic way-situation of the people in the past and present is transformed. JHWH establishes new ways in which he leads his people through their difficult landscape. Øystein Lund argues that such a coherent reading of the way-texts gives good meaning, which is consistent with the over all message of Isaiah 40-55.

Curated Decay Caitlin DeSilvey,2017-02-14 Transporting readers from derelict homesteads to imperiled harbors, postindustrial ruins to Cold War test sites, Curated Decay presents an unparalleled provocation to conventional thinking on the conservation of cultural heritage. Caitlin DeSilvey proposes rethinking the care of certain vulnerable sites in terms of ecology and entropy, and explains how we must adopt an ethical stance that allows us to collaborate with—rather than defend against—natural processes. Curated Decay chronicles DeSilvey’s travels to places where experiments in curated ruination and creative collapse are under way, or under consideration. It uses case studies from the United States, Europe, and elsewhere to explore how objects and structures produce meaning not only in their preservation and persistence, but also in their decay and disintegration. Through accessible and engaging discussion of specific places and their stories, it traces how cultural memory is generated in encounters with ephemeral artifacts and architectures. An interdisciplinary reframing of the concept of the ruin that combines historical and philosophical depth with attentive storytelling, Curated Decay represents the first attempt to apply new theories of materiality and ecology to the concerns of critical heritage studies.

And Their Children After Them Nicolas Mathieu,2020-04-07 Named a Best Book of the Year by The Times (UK) and the Los Angeles Public Library Winner of the 2018 Goncourt Prize, this poignant coming-of-age tale captures the distinct feeling of summer in a region left behind by global progress. August 1992. One afternoon during a heatwave in a desolate valley somewhere in eastern France, with its dormant blast furnaces and its lake, fourteen-year-old Anthony and his cousin decide to steal a canoe to explore the famous nude beach across the water. The trip ultimately takes Anthony to his first love and a summer that will determine everything that happens afterward. Nicolas Mathieu conjures up a valley, an era, and the political journey of a young generation that has to forge its own path in a dying world. Four summers and four defining moments, from “Smells Like Teen Spirit” to the 1998 World Cup, encapsulate the hectic lives of the inhabitants of a France far removed from the centers of globalization, torn between decency and rage.

La Pierre et la terre Sylvain Vigneron,2007-01-28 Dans les sociétés d'Ancien Régime, la pierre et la terre furent longtemps la principale source de richesses et un élément constitutif des patrimoines. Dès lors, les propriétés immobilières et foncières deviennent un puissant vecteur de rencontres et d'échanges entre les différentes catégories sociales, citadines et rurales. Dans les villes où la majorité de la population vit en location, la maison n'a pas attiré de grands rassembleurs de pierre. Sur le marché immobilier, les bourgeois et les artisans sont les plus actifs, mais toutes les catégories sociales sont en concurrence pour des habitations de valeur médiocre ou faible.En considérant la ville dans son environnement rural, l'influence citadine est claire. Autour de Lille ou de Cambrai, les propriétés citadines modèlent le visage des campagnes. Pourtant, les citadins, principalement issus de la bourgeoisie, s'engagent timidement dans le jeu foncier. Encore la participation citadine est-elle scandée par des convulsions chronologiques qui achèvent de relativiser l'idée de la « conquête bourgeoise du sol ». Sur le marché foncier, les gens de campagne réalisent donc l'essentiel de l'activité. Opérant entre eux, les ruraux multiplient les interventions de petite valeur sur un espace relationnel étroit. Pourtant, tous ne sont pas en action : l'instabilité des patrimoines des journaliers renforce surtout la position des laboureurs et des fermiers. À travers l'analyse des marchés fonciers et immobiliers, cet ouvrage s'attache donc à comprendre les stratégies et les dynamiques des différentes catégories sociales de la Ville et de la Campagne. Né en 1970, agrégé d'Histoire, Sylvain Vigneron est docteur de l'Université de Lille 3. Cet ouvrage est extrait de sa thèse. Au sein de l'IRHiS (Institut de Recherches Historiques du Septentrion), il poursuit ses recherches consacrées aux mutations de propriété et aux sociétés urbaines, plus particulièrement au logement dans les villes de la France du Nord au XVIIIe siècle.

Carnival of Shadows R.J. Ellory,2014-05-22 Kansas, 1959. When a travelling carnival appears overnight, the townsfolk of Seneca Falls are entranced. But the circus brings more than just magic and illusion to the small town: a dead man is discovered beneath the carousel. For FBI Special Agent Michael Travis, the world is clear cut. But there are a lot of grey areas in this case. The carnival folk are unwilling to answer a straight question and they begin to challenge Travis's once unshakeable faith in solid facts and hard evidence... As the investigation turns ever more disturbing, Travis is forced to question everything he believes in as a dark and horrifying conspiracy comes to light.

Syndrome E Franck Thilliez,2012-08-16 What You Don't See Could Kill You In this international bestseller, which is soon to be a major motion picture penned by the screenwriter of Black Swan, the classic procedural meets cutting-edge science Lucie Henebelle, single mother and beleaguered detective, has just about enough on her plate when she receives a panicked phone call from an ex-lover who has developed a rare disorder after watching an obscure film from the 1950s. With help from the brooding Inspector Franck Sharko, who is exploring the movie's connection to five unearthed corpses at a construction site, Lucie begins to strip away the layers of what may be the most disturbing film ever made. With more lives on the line, Sharko and Lucie struggle to solve this terrifying mystery before it's too late. In a high-stakes, adrenaline-fueled hunt that jumps from France to Canada, Egypt to Rwanda, and beyond, this astonishing page-turner, with cinematic echoes from The Manchurian Candidate and the Bourne series, will keep you guessing until the very end.

shown that for every two cities that are growing, three are shrinking. Some cities that were bustling centers of commerce just a generation ago have become modern-day Pompeiis. --The New York Times
