The Local Search Marketing Blueprint Rocky Tapscott,2010-10-28 A few years ago, Bill Gates, predicted yellow pages usage would drop to near zero by the year 2012 for people under the age of 50. Gates' prediction seems to be coming true as the yellow pages are beginning to see double digit declines in advertising sales, as their former users are now turning to a faster, friendlier and easier way to find local businesses-the Internet. And while the Internet is the bane of the yellow pages' demise, with a 72.11% market-strangling hold on Internet searches, it is Google that is leading the way. Simply put, Google has become the new yellow pages. Let's face it. If your business does not show up on Google, you are basically invisible to the world. And, if your business can't be found on the first two pages of Google, you (almost) don't exist because 83% of Google searches do not make it past the bottom of Google's second page. This book will show you how to dominate your local competition with a high ranked, fully optimized listing in the prominent Google Places/Google Maps search engine results. It will walk you through the steps needed to optimize your Google Places listing through several simple techniques that work together to create an overall, competition-crushing strategy. The combination of these techniques is greater as a whole than is the sum of its parts...and while you can surely skip some of the seemingly small techniques that make up part of this strategy, it will subtract from the dominance you gain by employing all of the steps together.If you take what you learn in this book and implement it immediately, you could be seeing results within weeks, or even days.
