Love After 50, or Not: A Few Brave Women Share the Truth of Their Internet Dating Experiences Julie Paulson, 2015-04-09 When we're young, it's relatively easy to meet potential romantic partners through family, friends, or school. When we become widowed or divorced, however, we discover that the dating environment has changed beyond all recognition. Now it seems like the best way to find somebody new is to go online. But dating sites are kind of scary . . . aren't they? Love After 50, or Not tells the true stories of women who have explored the brave new world of Internet dating-- with varying degrees of success. You'll meet: Patricia, whose fairytale romance is almost thwarted by technical difficulties Sherry, whose online paramour is perfect in every way but one -- he doesn't want to meet her Cara, who learns that even a twice-broken heart can be healed by laughter and love While the Internet introduces new pitfalls to the already hazardous terrain of romance, the women of Love After 50, or Not learn that love feels the same regardless of whether it blossoms on or off line. Their stories encourage us to risk heartbreak, dare to be vulnerable, and take a chance on second chances.

He Loves Me, He Loves Me Knot Susu Vieira, 2014-08-08 After a 20-year marriage to her high school sweetheart, Susu finds herself single again, and at the age of 50 bravely decides to enter the unknown world of online dating. The hilarious stories and heartfelt insights she unveils--after dating well over 200 men in five years--will both inspire and entertain men and women alike. Susu shoots straight from the hip, offering dating advice as told through the vulnerability of her own life story. She reveals how the traditional mindset about women over 50 being "invisible" has tumbled, and how this particular age group can approach the world of dating in a sexy, intelligent, and vivacious manner. After going on literally hundreds of dates she divulges juicy revelations regarding what men really think about women, what kind of men to shoot for, as well as which ones to avoid. More importantly she explains how internet dating has changed the way we look for love--whether we like it or not! Let her humor and hands-on advice motivate you to get on board and shake up the way you currently think about dating over 50. Be prepared to laugh, cry, and take off on your own dating adventure, as you turn the pages of this honest, humorous, and telling memoir.

Online Dating for Senior Citizens Anthony Ekanem, 2016-09-22 Technically, a person is considered a senior citizen when they reach the age of 65. However, that's not always the way the general public feels -- especially those who have hit the age of 50. To some people, this might send them into spasms of denial. After all, how can you be 60 when you still feel 30 in your mind? But, really, that's a good way to think. It's been said many, many times that age is simply a number -- it's a state of mind how old you actually are! If you're over 50 years old, you've likely heard many times by now that you're over the hill. What started this rumor that once you've reached the middle of your life, it's all downhill from there? Today's baby-boomers will stop at nothing to put an end to this rumor. They'll prove that the over 50 crowd is stronger and smarter than ever. Those over age 50 are more physically active than ever. Many have a decent amount of disposable income. They are politically active, culturally motivated and in tune with modern trends. Mark Twain once said Age is an issue of mind over matter. If you don't mind, it doesn't matter. Truer words, I think, have never been spoken! So you're a senior citizen – so what! Life doesn't have to be relegated to planting flowers and rocking on your front porch talking about the good old days. Believe me; the good old days are just starting!

Gray Love Nan Bauer-Maglin, Daniel E. Hood, 2023-01-13 Gray Love narrates stories about the most common themes – searching for and (perhaps) finding love. Forty-five men and women between ages 60 and 94 from diverse backgrounds talk about dating, starting or ending a relationship, embracing life alone or enjoying a partnered one. The longing for connection as old age encroaches is palpable here, with more and more senior singles searching online. Those who find new partners explore issues that most relationships encounter at any age, as well as some that are unique to elder relationships.

These include having had previous partners and a complicated and deep personal history; family and friends' reactions to an older person's dating; alternative models to marriage (such as sharing space or living apart); having more than one partner at the same time; one's aging body, appearance, and sexuality; and the pressure of time and the specter of illness and death.

One + One > 2 Christiane Hile, 2019-11 Almost 40% of heterosexual couples now meet online. FN Yet many women don't know how to participate in online dating with joy or confidence. Some avoid it altogether. Weaving in real stories and facts, Hile demystifies online dating by providing a roadmap with recommended steps and tips, at times defying convention. A refreshing yet frank perspective for midlife women who seek a loving, long-term relationship with a man. Widowed at 48 in California, Hile re-established herself in Texas. She was curious about what dating would be like in her 50's, and how many men she'd need to date. With 18 years of technology marketing and product launch experience, she dove into online dating with a launch and learn mindset and a rudimentary spreadsheet. Over three and a half years and two dating cycles later, she emerged with convincing insights on how to tackle the challenges and pitfalls of modern, midlife courtship. Told in an encouraging, conversational style, Hile helps get readers up to speed on how to get started, how to persist while having fun, how to exit as needed and how to begin again. To ensure efficiency, she also lays out seven easy guidelines. A unique and actionable perspective on how midlife dating can be joyful while providing rich self-discovery.

Earnings Management, Fintech-Driven Incentives and Sustainable Growth

Michael I. C. Nwogugu, 2019-11-01 Traditional research about Financial Stability and Sustainable Growth typically omits Earnings Management (as a broad class of misconduct), Complex Systems Theory, Mechanism Design Theory, Public Health, psychology issues, and the externalities and psychological effects of Fintech. Inequality, Environmental Pollution, Earnings Management opportunities, the varieties of complex Financial Instruments, Fintech, Regulatory Fragmentation, Regulatory Capture and real-financial sector-linkages are growing around the world, and these factors can have symbiotic relationships. Within Complex System theory framework, this book analyzes these foregoing issues, and introduces new behaviour theories, Enforcement Dichotomies, and critiques of models, regulations and theories in several dimensions. The issues analyzed can affect markets, and evolutions of systems, decision-making, internal Markets and risk-perception within government regulators, operating companies and investment entities, and thus they have Public Policy implications. The legal analysis uses applicable US case-law and statutes (which have been copied by many countries, and are similar to those of many common-law countries). Using Qualitative Reasoning, Capital Dynamics Theory (a new approach introduced in this book), Critical Theory and elements of Mechanism Design Theory, the book aims to enhance cross-disciplinary analysis of the above-mentioned issues; and to help researchers build better systems/Artificial-Intelligence/mathematical models in Financial Stability, Portfolio Management, Policy-Analysis, Asset Pricing, Contract Theory, Enforcement Theory and Fraud Detection. The primary audience for this book consists of university Professors, PHD students and PHD degree-holders (in industries, government agencies, financial services companies and research institutes). The book can be used as a primary or supplementary textbook for graduate courses in Regulation; Capital Markets; Law &

Economics, International Political Economy and or Mechanism Design (Applied Math, Operations Research, Computer Science or Finance).

How to Fall in Love with Anyone Mandy Len Catron, 2017-06-27 "A beautifully written and well-researched cultural criticism as well as an honest memoir" (Los Angeles Review of Books) from the author of the popular New York Times essay, "To Fall in Love with Anyone, Do This," explores the romantic myths we create and explains how they limit our ability to achieve and sustain intimacy. What really makes love last? Does love ever work the way we say it does in movies and books and Facebook posts? Or does obsessing over those love stories hurt our real-life relationships? When her parents divorced after a twenty-eight year marriage and her own ten-year relationship ended, those were the questions that Mandy Len Catron wanted to answer. In a series of candid, vulnerable, and wise essays that takes a closer look at what it means to love someone, be loved, and how we present our love to the world, "Catron melds science and emotion beautifully into a thoughtful and thought-provoking meditation" (Bookpage). She delves back to 1944, when her grandparents met in a coal mining town in Appalachia, to her own dating life as a professor in Vancouver. She uses biologists' research into dopamine triggers to ask whether the need to love is an innate human drive. She uses literary theory to show why we prefer certain kinds of love stories. She urges us to question the unwritten scripts we follow in relationships and looks into where those scripts come from. And she tells the story of how she decided to test an experiment that she'd read about—where the goal was to create intimacy between strangers using a list of thirty-six questions—and ended up in the surreal situation of having millions of people following her brand-new relationship. "Perfect fodder for the romantic and the cynic in all of us" (Booklist), How to Fall in Love with Anyone flips the script on love. "Clear-eyed and full of heart, it is mandatory reading for anyone coping with—or curious about—the challenges of contemporary courtship" (The Toronto Star).

51 Shades of Online Dating Sandra Lindberg, 2020-05-22 This is a must-have guide for people over 50 who are interested in online dating. It's written from a woman's perspective using real-life experiences, lessons learned, and humor to help you navigate the world of cyber dating. You will learn how to write an effective profile, post impressive pictures, detect scams, and much more.

Make Your Move Jon Birger, 2021-02-02 Modern romance is broken. It's time to flip the script. Apps have transformed dating from a mysterious adventure into a daily chore. Young, single, college-educated women are sick and tired of competing for a shrinking supply of guys. And marriage-material men, long expected to take the lead when it comes to asking women out, are suddenly balking at making the first move, fearing they'll come across as creepy or inappropriate. Society is changing, which means it's time for dating to evolve. Millennial and Gen Z women are more than capable of seeking out what—and who—they want. They're standouts in the classroom and champions on the playing fields. They're leaders in the workplace and trailblazers in city halls, state houses, and Congress. So why would we tell a generation of badass women that they're not allowed to be bold when it comes to finding love? Why should they have to sit back and wait (and wait and wait) for men to find them? In Make Your Move: The New Science of Dating and Why Women Are in Charge, Jon Birger, author of Date-onomics, offers women bold new strategies for finding the one. Backed by research showing that women can win at romance by making the first move with the men of their choice, Birger explains why: • It's better to choose than to be chosen • The play hard to get method is not only outdated but grounded in bad science • The first move does not have to be a big move • It's time to log off of dating apps and date men you actually know • The workplace can be a terrific place to meet a long-term romantic partner • . . . and more! Make Your Move is an honest, solution-based guide to finding love that lasts. If you're tired of playing by old rules, look no further: Make your move and win.

Dataclysm Christian Rudder, 2014-09-09 A New York Times Bestseller An audacious, irreverent investigation of human behavior—and a first look at a revolution in the making Our personal data has been used to spy on us, hire and fire us, and sell us stuff we don't need. In Dataclysm, Christian Rudder uses it to show us who we truly are. For centuries, we've relied on polling or small-scale lab experiments to study human behavior. Today, a new approach is possible. As we live more of our lives online, researchers can finally observe us directly, in vast numbers, and without filters. Data scientists have become the new demographers. In this daring and original book, Rudder explains how Facebook likes can predict, with surprising accuracy, a person's sexual orientation and even intelligence; how attractive women receive exponentially more interview requests; and why you must have haters to be hot. He charts the rise and fall of America's most reviled word through Google Search and examines the new dynamics of collaborative rage on Twitter. He shows how people express themselves, both privately and publicly. What is the least Asian thing you can say? Do people bathe more in Vermont or New Jersey? What do black women think about Simon & Garfunkel? (Hint: they don't think about Simon & Garfunkel.) Rudder also traces human migration over time, showing how groups of people move from certain small towns to the same big cities across the globe. And he grapples with the challenge of maintaining privacy in a world where these explorations are possible. Visually arresting and full of wit and insight, Dataclysm is a new way of seeing ourselves—a brilliant alchemy, in which math is made human and numbers become the narrative of our time.
