Make Fitness A Priority Jesse Kepka, Chad Austin, 2020-07-18

As fitness professionals, we want to help you reach your goals, but most importantly, we want to teach you how to keep them for a lifetime. We are not looking for temporary success here. We want fitness to be embedded as a permanent priority no matter what is going on in the world around you. You are so capable of harnessing the power of self-sufficiency and reaping the overflow of rewards. In the fitness industry today, we are fighting a wicked battle between these two ideas; a quick fix to hit a goal (like giving a man a basket of fish) and long-term success based on knowledge and behavior change, consistently (like teaching a man to fish for himself). We know which man will go hungry. Everyday there are more and more predators popping up who are making millions of dollars, preying upon a person's deep desire to look and feel better. They are selling weight loss products and performance enhancing products that will, ultimately, only lead to temporary success. Likely, none at all. Promises of fast results with little or no effort can cloud the judgment of even the smartest and most cautious of consumers. In April of 2014, the Make Fitness a Priority community was established in Overland Park, Kansas with this very goal in mind. We want you to get off the roller coaster ride of temporary success and crashing failure, and we want you to do it among friends with the same goals. There is no prerequisite in your physical abilities, everyone is welcomed. We know all our lives are incredibly unique. Your plan should match your uniqueness. From there, consistency is born and your quality of life skyrockets. These 30 tips and tricks were created from our Saturday morning Priority Fit Camp, one of our community gatherings. In 2019, we implemented a Trainer Tip to be briefly discussed between circuits, in an effort to make a bigger impact on our community. You may be thinking, how can one 2-3 minute tip make a big impact? In the following pages, you will see very clearly that small changes, consistently, is what fuels this long-term success we want so badly for you. If you are a beginner, the amount of information available to you is overwhelming. Doing too much, too fast, will lead to burn out and failure to change. Take your time to wander slowly through these pages, as it fits in your life. Read one tip per week or per day, as it suits you. Take the time to focus, meditate upon and implement them because, as we said before, small consistent changes will build your path to feeling your best. Find your strength, you were built to not only succeed, but never settle. You were built to Elevate.

The Mutual Cultivation of Self and Things Yang

Guorong,2016-04-15 Yang Guorong is one of the most prominent Chinese philosophers working today and is best known for using the full range of Chinese philosophical resources in connection with the thought of Kant, Hegel, Marx, and Heidegger. In The Mutual Cultivation of Self and Things, Yang grapples with the philosophical problem of how the complexly interwoven nature of things and being relates to human nature, values, affairs, and facts, and ultimately creates a world of meaning. Yang outlines how humans might live more fully integrated lives on philosophical, religious, cultural, aesthetic, and material planes. This first English translation introduces current, influential work from China to readers worldwide.

Relentless Past Theresa Sours,2012-11-15 Since the twists, turns, and sorrow in Shadows From The Fire, Chad Austin's life had stabilized. But eight years later, the past creeps in to wreak havoc. Nick's biological father is back in the picture and Chad is not handling it well. New disasters and old nemeses are not the only challenges as new acquaintances also complicate their lives.

Make Fitness a Priority Chad Austin, 2019-10-22 What are your top priorities in life? I've done a lot of research on this question, so I can tell you that the top answers people usually give are family and career. The answer that most people wouldn't even think about giving is fitness. This surprising statistic is what inspired me to write my best-selling book, Make Fitness a Priority: How to Win the Fight Against Your Excuses. Let's say instead of asking you, What are your top priorities in life?, I asked you What are some things you can do to improve your quality of life? For that question, I am sure that exercising and eating healthy would be two of the top answers. In this 6-week workbook, my goal is not to convince you that exercising and eating right is important. You already understand the value of those things. My goal is to help you realize that even though you are busy and you have obstacles and challenges that you face regularly, you can still make fitness a priority in your life too. If you decide to do that your quality of life will be better. After completing this 6-week course, you will: Realize that every excuse is just an obstacle you have not overcome yet. Learn how to set yourself up for success at the beginning of every week, and put a stop to your excuses before they show up. Learn how to evaluate yourself at the end of every week, and become a problem solver for every challenging obstacle you face. Be able to use your WHY fuel to help you get long term success, and stop starting over. Understand that failing is inevitable, but it doesn't end your fitness journey. Learn that anyone, no matter what obstacles they face, can make fitness a priority in their lives, and if you choose to do it, your life will be better.

A New Exploration of Hegel's Dialectics Xiaomang Deng, 2022

The three-volume set gives new insights into Hegel's dialectics and thereby his overall philosophical thought via a retracing of the origins of dialectics and an analysis of its logic structure, with the concept of the Nous highlighted as fundamental to this. The first volume explores two origins of Hegelian dialectics from ancient Greek philosophy, namely the linguistic spirit of Logos and the existentialist spirit of Nous, before illuminating how their binary opposition, division and unification constitutes the inner tension of Hegel's dialectics and developing into the forms of thought that fashion the history of western philosophy. Focusing on self-negation and reflective form of dialectics, and representing spirits of Nous and Logos respectively, the second volume further explores their core functions in terms of subjectivity, free spirit and practicality. In the final volume, the author defines Hegel's dialectics as a unity of three: logic, epistemology and ontology. This unification and the interrelation of three components demonstrates the internal feature of Hegel's dialectics as well as the connection and divergence between Hegel and Marx's philosophical thought. The title will appeal to scholars and students interested in Hegel and Marx's philosophy, German classical philosophy and Western philosophy--

A New Exploration of Hegel's Dialectics II Deng

Xiaomang,2022 Focusing on the self-negation and reflective forms of Hegel's dialectics, and representing the spirit of nous and logos respectively, this volume explores core functions in the subjectivity, free spirit and practicality of Hegelian dialectics. As the second volume of a three-volume set that gives insights into Hegel's dialectics and thereby his overall philosophical thought, the book proposes and discusses the soul and form of Hegelian dialectics. As the soul of Hegel's dialectics, which represents the spirit of nous, self-negation plays a fundamental role in Hegel's philosophy, and all other dialectical laws derive from this core principle, with which the subjectivity and free spirit of Hegel's dialectics take shape along with their essential practicality. The form of expression belonging to this negative dialectic as such is the reflective mode of thinking that represents the spirit of logos, and it is this reflective mode of thinking that follows the logical procedure of reflecting on reflection, rendering the progression of Hegel's dialectical subject lawful, rational and logical. The title will appeal to scholars and students interested in Hegel's and Marx's philosophy, German classical philosophy and Western philosophy.

A New Exploration of Hegel's Dialectics / Deng

Xiaomang, 2022 This volume reinterprets Hegelian dialectics via an exploration of the two origins of dialectics and illuminates how they constitute the inner tension at the heart of the philosophical system, developing into the forms of thought that fashion the history of western philosophy. As the first volume of a three-volume set that gives insights into Hegel's dialectics and thereby his overall philosophical thought, the book considers the linguistics spirit of logos and the existentialist spirit of nous in Greek philosophy as the two origins of Hegelian dialectics. The author argues that the two spirits form a dialectical unity of opposites and constitute the inner tension at the heart of the belief system. Based on this tension, this volume explains Hegel's problem of beginning that has the sense composed of both the starting point of logic and that of consciousness. Beginning in this twofold sense shapes dimensions of his methodology: immediacy and mediacy, the path of doubt and the path of truth, the linguistics lever and the existential lever. The title will appeal to scholars and students interested in Hegel and Marx's philosophy, German classical philosophy and Western philosophy.

Oh My God, Guns, and Country Chad Rea, 2021-06 Having spent more than two decades creating ad campaigns for over 170 brands, Chad Rea likes to think he knows a good slogan when he sees one. And while this one isn't exclusive to the Lone Star Red State, or officially blessed, Chad says God, guns, and country sums up the Texas brand pretty darn well - if not one half of The Divided States. Depending on which piece of cheap, imported merch you come across, the country part of the phrase can be interpreted to mean country music, 'Merica, or the country of TEXAS. Sometimes you'll see country replaced with words like guts, glory, oil, or breakfast tacos, but the two parts you just don't mess with are God and guns. They're fighting words. And, despite spending his formative years in El Paso and San Antonio as a gun-shootin', church-goin' conservative, and then returning twice in his well-traveled adult life to Lubbock, Dallas, and now Austin, Chad's chosen to fight the good fight. With art. As an activist, God, guns, and country are like trigger words for Chad, providing fuel for much of the themes behind his work - be it related to politics, violence, mental health, mortality, climate change, or other matters of the bleeding heart. Perhaps a more accurate title for this 5ish-year collection of curated works would've been Spirituality, social issues, and place. Although, he's pretty sure that's California's slogan, and Chad would hate for his neighbors to think he was born there. Shhh.
